An NRO (current/ savings) account can be opened by a foreign national of non-Indian origin visiting India, with funds remitted from outside India through banking channel or by sale of foreign exchange brought by him to India. The balance in the NRO account may be paid to the account holder at the time of his departure from India provided the account has been maintained for a period not exceeding six months and the account has not been credited with any local funds, other than interest accrued thereon I will deposit foreign currency cash or bring foreign currency by way of foreign inward remittance to NRO account to incur local expenses in India. I will require to obtain RBI approval for bringing any foreign inward remittance for making investment in India. I will follow FEMA / RBI / other regulatory guidelines for operation of this account and investment in India. I understand bank will keep my account in case I do not close the account after 6 months.

#Dear Customer,

As per RBI Guidelines banks are advised to exercise due diligence by closely examining the transactions carried out in the account on an ongoing basis. This is done in order to ensure that the transactions are in sync with the customer profile as provided while opening the account. Hence it is imperative that the profile details provided by you is accurate and correct. It is very important for your profile details to correspond/match with the transaction pattern and balance in your account. Basis the information provided, the bank shall review the transaction pattern in your account which would be used to report transactions of suspicious nature if any. Should there be any change in your profile details, request you to please visit your nearest HDFC bank branch and update the details.
