Certain important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our Company's expectations include, but are not limited to, the following:

- our inability to maintain or increase our trading volumes;
- broad market trends and other factors beyond our control;

SECTION II: RISK FACTORS

An investment in our Equity Shares involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risks described below as well as other information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus before making an investment decision. The risks described in this section are those that we consider to be the most significant to our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us or that we currently believe to be immaterial may also have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. The trading price and value of our Equity Shares could decline due to any of these risks, and you may lose all or part of your investment. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factors below, we are not in a position to quantify the financial or other implications of any of the risks mentioned herein. You should read this section in conjunction with "Our Business", "Industry Overview" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" beginning on pages 152, 111 and 428, respectively, as well as other financial and statistical information contained elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

Prospective investors should pay particular attention to the fact that our Company is incorporated under the laws of India and operates in a legal and regulatory environment which may differ in certain respects from those of other countries.

Unless otherwise stated or the context requires, the financial information used in this section is derived from our consolidated Restated Financial Information. This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. Our actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements. See also "Forward-Looking Statements" on page 18.

Internal Risks

1. We may not be able to maintain or increase our trading volumes, which may result in loss of market share, a reduction in revenue from transaction charges or other adverse effects on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

We generate a significant portion of our revenue from transaction charges that are assessed on trades made on our exchange, which in the past have increased with trading volumes. Our revenue from transaction charges accounted for 56.2%, 56.5%, 60.6%, 62.2%, 62.7% and 63.2% of our revenue from operations in fiscal 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, respectively. The success of our business depends on our ability to maintain and increase trading volumes, particularly in our cash market and derivatives trading segments, and the resultant income from transaction charges. There can be no assurance that we will be able to implement our business strategies to maintain and increase trading activity on our exchange or that such strategies will have their intended effects, which may result in a loss of trading volumes and a resultant decrease in our market share and revenues. Other factors that may lead to a decrease in our trading volumes and market share include:

- a decline in the number of our trading members or their activity on our platforms;
- adverse general economic conditions or the deterioration of the economic welfare of companies whose securities are listed on our exchange or our existing or prospective trading members. See also "– Broad market trends and other factors beyond our control could significantly reduce demand for our products and services" on pages 20 to 21;
- our ability to offer effective and liquid trading platforms that facilitate efficient price discovery;
- our ability to offer competitive membership and transaction-specific prices;
- the development of more attractive platforms or products on competing exchanges;
- increased competition from asset classes, such as gold or real estate, which may not be available for trading on our exchange;
- inability to increase free float in the market, including as a result of issuers of equity and debt securities choosing to list their securities on other exchanges;
- aggressive pricing by our competitors, including temporary incentive schemes or permanent reductions in transaction charges in respect of certain products;
- regulatory or legislative changes or investigations. See also "-- We operate in a highly regulated industry and any failure to comply with our legal and regulatory requirements or obligations may result in censures, fines and other penalties imposed on us" and "– External Risks – Government and regulatory policies in India or abroad or changes to such policies could materially adversely affect our customers, leading to a reduction in trading volumes, transaction charges or demand for our products and services" and;

- defaults by clearing members;
- changes to our contract specifications that are viewed unfavorably by our trading members; and
- significant defaults by trading members to market disruption.

Any one or more of these factors may reduce trading activity, which could make our markets less attractive to market participants as a source of liquidity, which in turn could further discourage existing and potential market participants and result in a decline in the level of trading activity on our platforms. In turn, we may lose our market leading positions in India or globally, which would adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

2. Broad market trends and other factors beyond our control could significantly reduce demand for our products and services.

The Indian economy and capital markets are influenced by economic, political and market conditions in India and globally. Adverse conditions may negatively affect our business by leading to decreases in our trading volumes, number of trading members and new listings on our exchange. A decline in new listings could also adversely affect our revenues from listing fees, book building fees and processing fees. Such adverse conditions may also negatively impact the results of operations of the companies and products listed on our exchange, which may decrease the trading prices of or level of trading in the underlying securities listed on our exchange, leading to a decrease in our revenue from transaction charges. The possibility of political instability or uncertainty leading to an extended period of weak or uncertain market conditions around the world or in India, including as a result of the fallouts from the June 2016 referendum in the United Kingdom in which voters approved an exit by the United Kingdom from the European Union and November 2016 currency demonetization in India pursuant to which certain denominations of Rupee notes are no longer legal tender, may also depress our trading volumes. See also "– There is uncertainty on the impact of currency demonetization in India on our business" on page 27

A decrease in the relative attractiveness of our exchange as a listing and trading venue or the products traded on our exchange could adversely affect us. If returns on investments in securities listed on our exchanges in other countries, we may not be able to attract or retain investors on our exchange. Investors' reactions to developments in one country can affect the market value, trading volume or trading frequency of financial assets listed on our exchange. Conditions outside India may also contribute to a slowdown in the Indian economy or changes in India's economic policies and regulations, which could adversely affect the level of trading activity on our exchange. Changing market trends may also cause trading volumes among asset classes on our exchange to fluctuate at the expense of each other. For example, fixed income trading may increase during economic slowdowns due to trading activity on our exchange migrating from equities to fixed income securities, in which case our equity trading volume and turnover may decline.

Other external factors that may affect us include:

- concerns over inflation and the level of institutional or retail confidence;
- the availability of short-term and long-term funding and capital;
- the availability of alternative investment opportunities;
- reduced volatility in the prices of securities;
- the level and volatility of interest rates and gross domestic product growth;
- legislative and regulatory changes, including the potential for regulatory arbitrage among regulated and unregulated markets if significant policy differences emerge among markets, which may divert our trading volumes to other exchanges. See "– External Risks – Government and regulatory policies in India or abroad or changes to such policies could materially adversely affect our customers, leading to a reduction in trading volumes, transaction charges or demand for our products and services" on page 42;

- the perceived attractiveness, or lack of attractiveness, of Indian capital markets; and
- unforeseen market closures or other disruptions in trading.

Any of the foregoing, individually or collectively, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

3. SEBI has initiated an examination and has directed our Company to also conduct an independent forensic examination by an external agency, into the co-location facilities of our Company and has also directed our Company to deposit the revenue generated from co-location in a separate bank account. Any adverse SEBI directive on this matter may materially and adversely affect our co-location business, results of operations, business and reputation.

SEBI received certain complaints against our Company's co-location facility, including among others, allegations that our Company had provided unfair access to the co-location facility to select trading members. SEBI forwarded the complaints to our Company in early 2015 and advised us to examine the issues highlighted and furnish a report to SEBI after placing the same before the Company's standing committee on technology. We undertook the exercise and submitted the report to SEBI. Subsequently, on December 29, 2015, SEBI assigned the task of comprehensive examination of complaints to a team headed by professors of the Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay and advised our Company to extend all cooperation to the team. Subsequently, by its letter dated March 29, 2016, SEBI forwarded the interim observations of the team under the report, or the "CFT/IIT Interim Report", to our Company and required our Company to submit responses to the observations of the CFT/IIT Interim Report. The CFT/IIT Interim Report observed, among other things, that our co-location facilities and tick-by-tick, or TBT, architecture were vulnerable to manipulation and abuse, violated norms of fair access and compromised market fairness and integrity, as certain select trading members who availed of our co-location facilities were able to gain materially from the exploitation of our market feed dissemination architecture to receive market data more quickly than other trading members. Our Company submitted its response, wherein it disputed the observations in the CFT/IIT Interim Report.

SEBI while reiterating the observations of the CFT/IIT Interim Report through its letter dated September 9, 2016, or the Observation Letter, among other things, observed (i) that the architecture of our Company with respect to dissemination of TBT data through transmission control protocol was prone to manipulation and market abuse; (ii) preferential access was given to certain stock brokers; (iii) we violated our own policies by permitting entities that are not internet service providers to lay fiber at our co-location facility for various stock brokers and (iv) the possibility of collusion between our officials and stock brokers. Further, SEBI advised our Board to (i) initiate an independent examination (including forensic examination by an external agency) of the concerns highlighted in the CFT/IIT Interim Report, including lack of processes and collusion, if any and fix accountability for the breaches; (ii) as an interim measure pending investigation place all revenues generated from the co-location facility in a separate bank account; and (iii) submit a comprehensive report to SEBI within a period of three months from the date of the Observation Letter. Our Board of Directors appointed an independent agency (the "Independent Agency"), to conduct an examination of all the concerns highlighted in the CFT/IIT Interim Report, including, particularly whether norms of fair access were breached, whether some brokers unduly benefitted and if there were was any collusion or misconduct by our employees.

Subsequently, SEBI, through its letter dated November 28, 2016, among other things, (i) observed that our Company has not complied with certain observations as indicated in the Observation Letter, including the transfer of all revenues emanating from the co-location facility, including those generated from the trading activity; and (ii) granted an extension until December 31, 2016 to our Board to submit its report pursuant to the independent examination of the matter. Our Board in its meeting held on November 29, 2016 took note of the same and decided to comply with SEBI's letter and deposit in the separate bank account not only the rack charges (that is the rental for rack space) and connectivity charges in respect to the co-location facility but also the transaction charges resulting from the trading activity at the co-location facility. Accordingly, in addition to the rack charges and connectivity charges, an amount of ₹ 1,455.23 million, representing the transaction charges on trade orders placed through our co-location facility for the months of September 2016, October 2016 and November 2016 has been transferred to the separate bank account. We intend to deposit the rack charges, connectivity charges and transaction charges to the separate bank account, for each month going forward until SEBI directs us otherwise.

The Independent Agency has submitted its report to the Company, which in turn has been filed with SEBI on December 23, 2016. The report has made the following observations:

- a. The system architecture of the Company's TCP-IP based TBT system was prone to manipulation. The Independent Agency's analysis highlighted trends for certain periods where a few stock brokers appear to be the first to connect to specific servers significantly more often than others. The TCP-IP based TBT system architecture indicated that data was disseminated in a sequential manner whereby the stock broker who connected first to the server received ticks (market feed) before the stock broker who connected later;
- b. The Independent Agency observed indications of potential preferential treatment to a few stock brokers. Different stock brokers were treated differently and there was no uniform approach applied across stock brokers with respect to allocation of new IPs across ports on existing servers and movement from one server to another. Ticks were disseminated faster to members connected to less crowded servers, thereby giving an advantage to such stock brokers;
- c. The Independent Agency's analysis indicated that one particular stock broker almost consistently connected first to the fall back or secondary server during the period from December 10, 2012 to May 30, 2014 and was very often also the second stock broker to connect during this period. The Independent Agency observed that the particular stock broker's continuous access to the fall back or secondary server during the period from December 10, 2012 to May 30, 2014 may not have been possible without the knowledge of certain employees identified in the report, who did not take any action despite consistent connections to the fall back servers against protocol;
- d. In order to ensure that norms of fair access were not breached, it was possible for our Company to negate the advantage of connecting first by implementing a randomiser for the TBT systems which would randomly pick a connection to begin dissemination of data, though a randomiser was implemented in another server;
- e. The Independent Agency has observed that while it has not validated the performance of the Multicast TBT system (which was introduced in April 2014) in an operating environment, on the basis of a review of the architecture of the Multicast TBT, the issues related to benefits from early connectivity and sequential dissemination of ticks appear to have been addressed.
- f. In relation to the question of whether we breached our own policies by permitting entities that are not internet service provider to lay fibre optic cables at our co-location facility for various stock brokers, the Independent Agency has observed that in the absence of a specific policy and operating procedure, it appears that our Company relied on such entities' undertakings rather than satisfying itself about the entities' status as a licensed provider of point to point connectivity;
- g. While the Independent Agency observed indications of differential behaviour being shown towards a few stock brokers by certain employees identified in the report, the Independent Agency has stated that it is not in a position to comment on whether this would amount to collusion or connivance;
- h. The Independent Agency observed lack of documented policies and protocols with respect to various aspects of the functioning of the TBT system; and
- i. After our Company confirmed completion of the data restoration exercise for all TBT servers, the Independent Agency came across additional TBT servers which had not been put through the restoration process, and the persons interviewed by the Independent Agency were unaware of them.

The Independent Agency has also made observations that due to absence of protocols related to data retention, email and other information for certain former employees of our Company was unavailable.

Our Board, in its meeting held on December 19, 2016, has taken the report on record and decided to initiate a review of the Multicast TBT systems of our Company including the processes and procedures, data retention, job rotation, mandatory leave, segregation of duties. We have forwarded the report to SEBI on December 23, 2016.

Revenues from our co-location facility (including the revenue generated from trading activity from colocation facility) derived by our Company in fiscals 2015 and 2016 and for the six months ended September 30, 2016, were \gtrless 4,512.4 million, \gtrless 5,539.6 million and \gtrless 3,029.1 million, respectively constituting 26.1%, 29.7% and 29.3% of our revenue from operations, respectively. Until receipt of final findings by SEBI or directed otherwise, the revenues generated by our Company from our co-location business since September 1, 2016 are required be transferred to a separate bank account and accordingly, our Company will not have access to such revenues. We cannot guarantee that our Company will have access to such revenues in the future. Further, any adverse finding by SEBI (irrespective of the examination report of the Independent Agency) may materially adversely affect our business, in particular our colocation business, our reputation and results of operations.

Additionally, in relation to the allegations against our Company's co-location facility as described above, Moneywise Media Private Limited and its editors had, in June and July, 2015 published certain articles against our Company's co-location facility, in response to which, our Company had filed a defamation suit in July, 2015, wherein interim reliefs sought by our Company were dismissed by the Single Judge of the Bombay High Court. For details, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments - Litigation involving our Company - Litigation filed by our Company- Other matters involving an amount exceeding ₹ 97.5 million" on pages 457 to 458.

4. Declines in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position.

Our earnings and reserves are invested in a mixed portfolio of assets as permitted under the SEBI regulations. For the six months ended September 30, 2016 and for fiscal 2016, fiscal 2015 and fiscal 2014, our investment, dividend and interest income accounted for 33.2%, 31.4%, 36.1% and 40.0% of our total income, respectively. See also "Our Business – Our Business" beginning on page 161.

Our investments are exposed to the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates and thus declines in interest rates may adversely affect their values. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk – Interest Rate Risk" on page 448. Interest rates are sensitive to many factors beyond our control, including general economic conditions and governmental, monetary and tax policies, in particular monetary policy in the United States administered by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. Changes in the general level of interest rates can affect our profitability by affecting the spread between, among other things, income we receive on our investments, the value of our interest-earning investments, our ability to realize gains from the sale of investments and our interest expense on any interest-bearing liabilities that we may incur in the future. Fluctuations in interest rates may also affect the valuation of our investments. As a stock exchange, our ability to manage interest rate and other market risks is limited by the SEBI regulations, which set forth a list of instruments eligible for investment and prevent us from engaging in hedging activities. For the foregoing reasons, a decline in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position.

5. Our Company and certain of our Directors, Subsidiaries and Group Companies are involved in certain legal and other proceedings.

Our Company and certain of our Directors, Subsidiaries and Group Companies are currently involved in certain legal proceedings. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts and tribunals. One of the legal proceedings in which we are currently involved relates to certain allegations under the Competition Act against our Company and one of our Subsidiaries, DotEx. On November 16, 2009, MCX Stock Exchange Limited, now the Metropolitan Stock Exchange of India Limited, or MSI, filed an information with the Competition Commission of India, or the CCI, alleging that our Company is in a dominant position in the stock exchange services market and that we have abused our dominance by engaging in, among other things, predatory pricing in the newly established currency derivatives segment, where we have waived various fees in the past. The CCI in its order held that our Company enjoyed a dominant position in the market for stock exchange services in the currency derivatives segment and that our Company abused its dominance by engaging in "unfair pricing" (not specifically "predatory pricing") vis-a-vis MSI, directed us to cease and desist from unfair pricing and levied a penalty of ₹ 555.0 million on our Company. The CCI order also observed that DotEx, being a wholly owned subsidiary of our Company had little independence of action in the matter and did not levy any separate penalty on it. Subsequently, upon challenge of the order of CCI by us before the Competition Appellate Tribunal, or the Tribunal, the Tribunal upheld the finding of abuse of dominance and upheld the penalty levied by the CCI, by a 4-2 majority decision. We filed a civil appeal before the Supreme Court of India against the order of the Tribunal, which has granted an interim stay on the penalty to be paid by our Company. The matter is currently pending before the Supreme Court of India. Separately, MSI has also filed a compensation application before the Tribunal, claiming an amount of ₹ 8,569.9 million along with interest at the rate of 18% per annum until realization of the claim.

For further details in relation to the aforementioned complaint filed by MSI and other legal proceedings involving our Company, certain of our Directors, Subsidiaries and Group Companies, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" beginning on page 455.

Decisions in any of the aforesaid proceedings adverse to our interests may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. If the courts or tribunals rule against us or our Directors, Subsidiaries and Group Companies, we may face monetary and/or reputational losses and may have to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our liabilities.

6. We operate in a competitive industry, and we may not be able to compete successfully.

Our industry is competitive and we expect competition to intensify further. We face significant competition for new listings and trading of equities, exchange-traded funds, currency derivatives, interest rate futures, bonds, and mutual funds. We also face significant competition for new listings of equity and futures and options, as well as in our index and data businesses.

Our listing and trading businesses face competition from traditional trading venues in and outside of India. These include regulated markets like ours and specialized stock exchanges. In our currency derivatives segment, we primarily compete with international trading venues in respect of futures and options contracts that are settled in U.S. Dollars. We also face increasing competition from non-traditional trading venues, such as multilateral trading facilities and a wide range of over-the-counter services provided by market makers, banks, brokers, electronic communications networks and other financial market participants.

Trends towards the liberalization and globalization of capital markets have resulted in greater mobility of capital, international participation in local markets and competition among stock exchanges in different geographical areas. As a result, global competition among listing venues, trading markets and other execution venues has become more intense. The global exchange sector has also become more competitive through industry consolidation and demutualizations (in which an exchange converts from member ownership to for-profit status). These trends require us to compete for listings and trading volumes with foreign stock exchanges, some of which have greater financial resources than we do, which may adversely impact our ability to compete effectively. Our arrangements with foreign stock exchanges for the listing of NIFTY indices-linked derivatives on foreign exchanges have grown our index business while also introducing greater competition for trading volumes from foreign stock exchanges. Differences in regulatory regimes outside of India could also affect the competitive dynamics in our industry in a manner that is material and adverse to us. See "– External Risks – Government and regulatory policies in India or abroad or changes to such policies could materially adversely affect our customers, leading to a reduction in trading volumes, transaction charges or demand for our products and services" on page 42.

Our competitors have adopted aggressive pricing strategies in the past and may reduce their transaction charges and listing fees below those charged by us or offer other forms of financial or other incentives. Certain pending litigation may restrict our ability to lower our transaction fees, which may affect our ability to compete successfully with respect to price. For more information, see "– Our Company and certain of our Directors, Subsidiaries and Group Companies are involved in certain legal and other proceedings" on pages 23 to 25. We could lose a substantial percentage of trading volumes or fail to attract new listings if we are unable to effectively compete on price. In addition, our profit margins could decline if we lower our trading fees in response to pricing pressures, which would result in a corresponding reduction in transaction charges, listing fees and book building fees.

We compete on a range of factors in addition to price, including, but not limited to, the quality and speed of trade execution, market liquidity, functionality, ease of use and performance of trading systems, the range of products and services offered to customers and listed entities, and technological innovation and reputation. Therefore, there can be no assurance that pricing strategies that we adopt will succeed in retaining or attracting trading members and new listings to our platforms or result in higher trading volumes.

If we fail to compete successfully, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

7. We may be unsuccessful in implementing, or fail to realize the expected benefits from, our growth strategies.

Our business strategies seek to further diversify our product and service offerings in our trading and nontrading businesses through innovation and investment in high-growth areas of our businesses, increasing trading volumes by attracting new issuers and investors to our exchange (particularly from underpenetrated markets), maintenance and upgrading our infrastructure and technology, pursuit of additional partnerships and collaborations, establishment of an international exchange and clearing corporation in Gujarat International Finance Tech City – International Financial Service Centre, or GIFT City and investments in RXIL and NSE Academy.

The factors that may have an effect on the successful implementation of growth strategies, many of which are beyond our control, include the following:

- the general condition of the Indian, Asian and global economies;
- our ability to successfully introduce new services and products;
- our ability to adapt to changes in demand and advancements in technology;
- regulatory restrictions and approvals, including changes to permit foreign stock exchanges to establish operations in India.
- demand for our indices and data products;
- our ability to secure strategic business collaborations with other exchanges, service providers and market participants; and
- our ability to improve and upgrade our platform infrastructure, including minimizing errors and mitigating risks on our exchange.

The implementation of our growth strategies will require significant resources, including upfront expenditures and our management's time and attention. There can be no assurance that the investments that we make to implement our growth strategies will yield their anticipated benefits in a timely manner or at all. Any failure to successfully implement, or realize the expected benefits of, our growth strategies may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

8. We operate in a highly regulated industry and any failure to comply with our legal and regulatory requirements or obligations may result in censures, fines and other penalties imposed on us.

We operate in a highly regulated industry and are subject to extensive regulation. The SEBI regulates us and has broad powers to withhold approvals or consents with respect to proposals made by us (whether with respect to rule amendments, product range or infrastructure or market development initiatives), to issue suspension orders and to require us to produce records and supply information. We are subject to significant oversight, surveillance and potential investigation and intervention by the SEBI and other regulatory authorities, including periodic reviews, audits and inspections by the SEBI. Pursuant to such inspections, the SEBI has in the past required us to undertake certain actions to ensure compliance with the SECC Regulations and other SEBI circulars, including pertaining to shareholding requirements, composition and functioning of our committees, the penalties that we impose under the rules and regulations of our exchange, collection of outstanding listing and other fees and the transfer such amounts to the investor protection fund.

The SEBI has in the past and may in the future issue show cause notices, censure orders or otherwise impose restrictions or conditions on the operation of our business. We were censured by the SEBI in 2011 for allowing our members to modify client codes at the end of each trading day to correct trading errors without those modifications being independently analyzed by us and reported to the SEBI. In addition, SEBI cautioned us to maintain adequate mechanisms for monitoring the risk management practices of our trading members in the future and directed us to make disbursements from the assets and deposits of our defaulting members or the Investor Protection Fund to settle claims of aggrieved investors. We were also censured by the SEBI in 2014 for weaknesses in our trading systems that led to irregular trading activity resulting in the temporary suspension of trading during the trading day in question. SEBI has also initiated an examination against our Company's co-location facility and has directed our Company to also conduct an independent forensic examination by an external agency into the co-location facilities of our Company. See "-SEBI has initiated an examination and has directed our Company to also conduct an independent forensic examination by an external agency, into the co-location facilities of our Company and has also directed our Company to deposit the revenue generated from co-location in a separate bank account. Any adverse SEBI directive on this matter may materially and adversely affect our co-location business, results of operations, business and reputation" on pages 21 to 23.

In case of any non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with applicable laws or regulations, we could be subject to investigations, censures, fines or other judicial or administrative proceedings that may result in additional regulation of our business, substantial penalties, loss of reputation or client confidence or restrictions on our operations or claims for damages.

We are also obligated to perform certain regulatory functions, for example monitoring compliance with Indian securities laws by entities listed on our platforms, which we undertake through our regulations, rules and bye-laws. We may incur additional costs in undertaking any additional legal or regulatory obligations that may be imposed on us by statute or regulation from time to time. Any failure by us to adequately monitor compliance with applicable securities laws for entities listed on our platforms may subject us to penalties, fines, suspension of our business by the SEBI or third-party lawsuits. For example, in the past there have been lawsuits brought against stock exchanges in India, including us, alleging that the stock exchanges have not adequately monitored listed companies, in particular companies that have been suspended for trading for long periods of time. During certain recent inspections that it has conducted, SEBI directed us to administer stricter compliance measures in relation to our members, including by undertaking more stringent actions for collection of outstanding listing fees, turnover fees and subscription fees, which generally relate to members who are inactive or suspended, and by strengthening our staff tasked with monitoring information received and processed by our exchange. These observations from SEBI have been or currently are being implemented by us. The SEBI has recently announced its intention to encourage compulsory delisting of listed companies that have been suspended from trading for extended time periods, including companies listed on our exchange. Any steps that we take to delist these companies may result in litigation against us by such companies and any delay or failure by us to take action against these companies may result in litigation against us by our regulators for failure to fulfill our oversight responsibilities.

Our ability to comply with applicable laws and regulations in our operations and in our capacity as regulator is largely dependent on our establishment and maintenance of compliance, audit and reporting systems, as well as our ability to attract and retain qualified compliance and other risk management personnel. We cannot assure you that these systems and procedures will be fully effective or that we will be able to attract, retain and replace the necessary personnel. We may also incur additional costs if our businesses or regulatory functions become subject to the requirements of overseas governmental bodies as a result of new laws, regulations or court decisions relating to the extraterritorial effect of foreign laws and regulations to which we may be subject.

In our capacity as a regulator, we are also party to legal proceedings from time to time, such as in relation to (i) cases challenging the validity of SEBI directives and our bye-laws; (ii) cases challenging the validity of arbitral awards or arbitration petitions where such arbitration proceedings have been conducted in accordance with our bye–laws; (iii) cases filed before various consumer forums for deficiency of services; and (iv) cases challenging certain other actions taken by us, such as disciplinary actions and suspension of listing.

9. Our public duties as a stock exchange may conflict with the interests of our shareholders.

We are required to act in the public interest when discharging our obligations to ensure orderly and fair capital markets and to ensure prudent risk management. In the event that our interests as regulator conflict with any other interests, our interests as regulator will prevail. Our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects and your interests may be adversely affected if we are required to place the public interest ahead of our own commercial interests and the interests of our shareholders. Further, we have obligations to regulate and monitor activities of our trading members and ensure compliance with applicable laws and the rules of our markets by market participants. There may be potential conflicts of interest due to our regulatory obligations. For instance, we are responsible for identifying possible violations of the securities laws by our trading members and taking regulatory action against those trading members if such violations are confirmed. Any failure by us to diligently and fairly regulate our markets or to otherwise fulfill our regulatory obligations could result in regulatory actions against us, significantly harm our reputation and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

10. There is uncertainty on the impact of currency demonetization in India on our business.

On November 8, 2016, the Reserve Bank of India, or RBI, and the Ministry of Finance of the GoI withdrew the legal tender status of \gtrless 500 and \gtrless 1,000 currency notes pursuant to notification dated November 8, 2016. The short-term impact of these developments has been, among other things, a decrease in liquidity of cash in India. There is uncertainty on the long-term impact of this action. The RBI has also established, and continues to refine, a process for holders of affected banknotes to tender such notes for equivalent value credited into the holders' bank accounts.

The short- and long-term effects of demonetization on the Indian economy, India's capital markets and our business are uncertain and we cannot accurately predict its effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

11. We may be unable to keep up with rapid technological change.

Technology is a key component of our operations and business strategy, and our business environment has undergone, and continues to experience, significant and rapid technological change. For example, electronic and high-speed trading has grown significantly in recent years, execution methods continue to evolve and automated risk management systems have become more sophisticated. The GoI and the SEBI may also undertake initiatives from time to time that encourage or require us to upgrade or modernize our technology.

We may not be able to successfully develop or license necessary technologies or create new platforms and services. There can be no assurance that we will be able to respond to customer demands, technological advances and emerging industry standards and practices on a cost-effective and timely basis, or that we will be able to continue to optimize and improve the responsiveness, functionality, capacity, accessibility, scalability, features or efficiency of our trading and clearing platforms, software, systems and technologies.

Our efforts to maintain and upgrade our existing technology and pursue opportunities to integrate emerging technologies such as "FinTech" innovation may be costly and may not yield their anticipated benefits. We face potential competition from FinTech firms and financial institutions that could develop new products or services to compete with those that we provide, such as alternative trading, clearing and settlement systems and back-end services. If we are unable to anticipate and respond to the demand for new services, products and technologies on a timely and cost-effective basis and to adapt to technological advancements and changing standards, we may be unable to compete effectively.

The adoption and implementation of new technologies, whether in our platforms, products or services, may result in increased costs and require significant additional resources, including management time and attention. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to realize the expected benefits of new technologies that we implement in a timely manner or at all. In particular, we rely on the ability of our customers to have the necessary knowhow and front and back office functionality to support any of our new platform features, products or services, which directly impacts the acceptability of such new features, products or services. Consequently, if revenue does not increase as a result of our investments in technology, the up-front costs associated with those investments may exceed revenue and prevent us from realizing any returns on such investments.

We are dependent on open source software for our key operating systems and databases. We rely on open source software providers for software maintenance, development and technical support and are therefore dependent on such third-party software providers to respond to viruses, cyber-attacks or other security breaches affecting their software and to upgrade their software in response to evolving technology and market demands. In the event that the developers of open source software that we rely on do not upgrade such software in a timely manner or at all, we may become reliant on open source software that becomes obsolete or vulnerable in terms of security.

The occurrence of any of the foregoing risks could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

12. We depend on our computer and communications systems and software, which may fail to perform effectively or require maintenance and upgrades.

Our business depends on the performance and reliability of complex computer and communications systems and software. See "Our Business – Our Technology" and "Our Business – Intellectual Property" beginning on pages 172 and 176.

We have encountered isolated instances of temporary interruptions or inconsistencies in our systems, products and services. In October 2012, weaknesses in our trading systems led to irregular trading activity resulting in the temporary suspension of trading activity during a single trading day. On certain isolated occasions during 2016, we experienced a temporary interruption in rapid communication between our trading and risk management systems for our cash market segment, the delayed opening of a call auction trading sessions due to a failed system module, an error in securities lending and borrowing order collection due to server failures and inconsistent data reporting in our cash market segment due to a system messaging error.

We may experience systems interruptions, disruptions or failures in the future as a result of, among other things, power or telecommunications failures, war, terrorism, human error, natural disasters, fire, sabotage, hardware or software malfunctions or defects, complications experienced in connection with system upgrades, computer viruses, intentional acts of vandalism and similar events over which we have little or no control. Our trading systems utilize real-time data transmission within systems, the failure of which would materially and adversely affect our trading platforms. As we rollout new applications, software errors in our new or legacy applications may cause systems to behave incorrectly or fail. Heavy trading on our platforms or order routing during peak trading times or at times of unusual market volatility could also cause our systems to operate slowly or even to fail for periods of time. Our estimates of system capacity needs may be inaccurate, resulting in periods of insufficient capacity while we bring additional servers online.

Our or our third-party service providers' failure to maintain systems or to ensure sufficient capacity, or the failure or lack of capacity of the systems belonging to our third-party service providers may result in one or more of the following:

- disruptions in our products and services;
- temporary suspension of trading, regulatory functions and data feed services;
- failed or delayed execution, clearing and settlement of orders;
- the need to unwind inadvertent trades;
- incomplete or inaccurate accounting, recording or processing of trades;
- security breaches in respect of confidential or sensitive information;
- customer complaints or decreased customer satisfaction;
- litigation or regulatory proceedings against us; and
- reputational loss.

We may incur significant capital expenditures in order to maintain and upgrade our systems in addition to any expenses that we incur as a result of any system failure. There can be no assurance that our investments in technology will yield their anticipated results in a timely manner or at all.

If any one or more of these situations were to arise, we could incur reputational damage, regulatory sanctions, litigation, loss of market share, loss of trading volume and loss of revenues. As a result of any errors, delays or periods of unavailability of information, we may incur liabilities to our customers who rely on our products and services. These and other consequences could materially and adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

13. We may be unable to retain or replace our management team, highly-skilled employees or key personnel.

We are dependent on our management team, including our Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer, Group President, Chief Financial Officer – Group Accounts and Finance, Chief Regulatory Officer, Chief Operations Officer – Trading, Chief Business development Officer, Chief Technology Officer – Projects, Chief Technology Officer – Operations, Chief Financial Officer – Group Investments and Shareholder relations, Company Secretary, Chief People's Officer, General Counsel and other significant employees of our Subsidiaries, for strategic planning and operational oversight and management. There can be no assurance that we will be able to retain our management team or successfully implement our succession plans to replace departing members of our management team and maintain business continuity.

On December 2, 2016, Chitra Ramkrishna resigned with immediate effect from her position as our Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer. Our Board of Directors has appointed a search committee to forward new names for the appointment of the Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer of our Company to SEBI, however we are unable to predict when these positions will be filled. In terms of a circular dated December 13, 2012 issued by SEBI, we are required to forward new names for the appointment of the Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer to SEBI within a period of 60 days from the date of resignation. Our Board of Directors has redesignated J Ravichandran, our Group President, as Chief Executive Officer In-charge until such time as a new Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director are appointed. As the appointment of our Managing Director is subject to SEBI approval, there can be no assurance that SEBI will grant such approval in a timely manner or at all. While our previous Managing Directors and Chief Executive Officers were appointed from the then existing management team of our Company, there can be no assurance that the new Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer will be appointed from the existing Board or management team of our Company or that our new Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer will adopt our current business plans and strategies.

We depend on our highly-skilled and key personnel in all aspects of our operations, including our listing business, trade operations, exchange memberships, clearing and settlement, risk management, surveillance, marketing, new initiatives, special projects and treasury and tax functions. Competition for highly-skilled employees and key personnel is intense in our industry, including due to the unique nature of the exchange industry, which may lead to scarcity of available employees. Our employee attrition rate was 13.7% and 8.7% for fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, respectively.

Our future success will to a large extent depend on our ability to retain key personnel and our ability to attract and retain highly-skilled technical, managerial and marketing personnel. As a regulated stock exchange in India, we are prohibited from offering employee stock option plans to our employees and are required to hire "fit and proper" (as defined under the SECC Regulations) employees, and the ability of our employees to invest in securities is significantly restricted. These and similar restrictions may hinder our ability to recruit and hire personnel. Market conditions may also cause the costs of retaining and attracting such personnel to increase significantly beyond current levels.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to retain our highly-skilled employees or key personnel or to attract such additional personnel as our business needs expand or to replace departed personnel. Any increase in the turnover of employees in key positions could lead to a temporary reduction in our operational efficiency due to lack of availability of potential employees with the relevant skills and the lengthy training processes required to train new employees in these positions. The loss of or diminution in the services of our key personnel could impair our ability to reach our strategic goals. These and other consequences could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

14. Our businesses require us to acquire, store and transmit sensitive information, which exposes us to risks of internal and external security breaches and could give rise to liabilities.

The acquisition and secure processing, transmission and storage of sensitive, confidential and proprietary information are and will continue to be critical elements of our operations, including our listing, trading, clearing and settlement, index and data feed businesses. We also assume significant risks related to data protection and data security threats through DotEx's role as the managed service provider for central KYC registry maintained by the Central Registry of Securitization Asset Reconstruction and Security Interest of India. DotEx will acquire, store and transmit personally identifiable information and confidential information from all types of financial market participants in India.

We rely on our systems and employees, and those of certain third-party vendors and service providers in conducting our operations. Those technologies, systems and networks may become the target of cyberattacks or information security breaches that could result in the unauthorized release, gathering, monitoring, misuse, loss or destruction of our or our members' confidential, proprietary and other information, or disruptions of and errors within our systems. Our risk and exposure to these matters remains heightened because of, among other things, the evolving nature of these threats and our outsourcing of certain business operations, in particular our reliance on licensed technologies for some of these licensed technologies.

Data security breaches may also result from fraud or other misconduct by our employees, third-party vendors and trading members or their respective constituents. It is not possible to always prevent misconduct, and the precautions that we take may not be effective in all cases. We are exposed to risks of clerical and recordkeeping errors or other unintentional accidents caused by any of these parties. In addition, the third parties to whom we provide and entrust information, may not take proper care of our information and may not employ appropriate techniques for safeguarding data leading to breakdowns, failures, or capacity constraints of their own systems.

We cannot guarantee that our existing security measures will prevent all security breaches, intrusions or attacks. A party, whether internal or external, that is able to circumvent our security systems could steal information or cause significant disruptions to our systems. Security breaches or attacks could result in our competitors obtaining strategically important information about us and give them a competitive advantage over us, cause reputational harm, or lead to regulatory sanctions, litigation, loss of market share, loss of trading volume and loss of revenues. Security breaches could also result in negative publicity, damage to our reputation and cause our customers to lose confidence in us. We may need to expend significant resources to protect against security breaches, intrusions, attacks or other threats or to address problems including reputational harm and litigation, caused by breaches.

We face a related risk that our business continuity, disaster recovery and data security systems prove to be inadequate. Any such failure could require us to expend significant resources to correct the defect, as well as by exposing us to litigation or losses not covered by insurance. Although we have business continuity plans and other safeguards in place, our business operations may also be adversely affected by significant and widespread disruption to our physical infrastructure or operating systems and those of our third-party service providers that support our business.

Although we have not experienced any material losses relating to cyber-attacks or other information security breaches in the past, there can be no assurance that we will not suffer such losses in the future. Any of these occurrences could diminish our ability to operate our business, or cause financial loss, potential liability, decreases in trading volumes, reputational damage or regulatory intervention, which could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

15. Our existing products and services may lose their market appeal and we may be unsuccessful in developing new products and services.

Our continued success and future growth depend on our ability to develop and offer new products and services that appeal to our existing and prospective customers. We may spend substantial money and time, including management time and attention, developing or improving products and services and such investments may not yield expected benefits.

If a significant portion of our existing product portfolio becomes outdated or loses market share and we are unable to offer new products in their place in a timely manner, or if we fail to increase demand for or fail to competitively price our products and services, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects could be adversely affected. Further, we may not be able to increase our market share in terms of trading volumes in the newer product segments that we currently offer, such as futures and options on foreign exchange rates, or maintain our market share for product segments which we currently have a sizeable market share. Consequently, our continued success and future growth rely on the development and introduction of new financial products that appeal to customers, as well as on the ability to attract new types of investors to our products.

We are limited in our flexibility to innovate or differentiate our products and services from other Indian stock exchanges because all products and services that we offer must be approved by the regulator. See "-Our business depends on statutory and regulatory approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions which we may be unable to obtain or renew in a timely manner or at all" on page 32.Our new products and services may also require our subsidiary and clearing corporation, National Securities Clearing Corporation Limited, or NSCCL, to introduce new settlement procedures, which also require prior approval from the SEBI. This review and approval process generally prevents us from responding quickly to changing customer demand and provides our domestic competitors with advanced warning of our innovations and the lead time to develop and introduce similar products and services on similar timelines. The timeconsuming process for launching new products, particularly the requirement for SEBI approval which often provides competitors with an opportunity to catch up to our product innovations, may result in the loss of any first-mover advantage that we would otherwise gain from our investments in product development, which may result in our inability to extract the expected benefits from our investments. Delays in obtaining the SEBI's approval of new or modified clearing and settlement procedures could prevent us from introducing new products and services in a timely manner or at all. For details regarding pending approvals as of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, see "Government and Other Approvals" beginning on page 464.

16. We may not be able to increase our revenues from our non-trading businesses, which are subject to numerous operational risks.

Our non-trading businesses comprise index creation and licensing, market data feeds, technology solutions and financial education offerings. While we expect our non-trading businesses to provide alternative sources of revenue that reduce our dependence on trading volumes, they are subject to a number of risks including those described below.

Our index and data feed businesses operated by our wholly-owned subsidiary, IISL are exclusively focused on the domestic Indian capital markets. Our index business is dependent on our NIFTY 50 Index. As a result, changing market conditions or other factors that adversely affect investment interest and trading activity in the Indian capital markets could reduce demand for our index and data products, which could result in a decrease in our non-trading revenues.

Our index business is subject to concentration risks. In fiscal 2016, 82.5% of our index license fees outside India were from exchange customers, of which 98.7% was from our top index licensing customer. There can be no assurance that we will be able to diversify the customer base of either our index or replace key customers in the event that they reduce their purchases of our products or elect not to renew their contracts with IISL, which could result in a decrease in our non-trading revenues.

In our data feed business, there is present and growing demand for analyzed data content and cross-market data, while our current products are limited to raw data content. Additionally, we conduct our data feed business on a business-to-business model and do not sell directly to end-users or produce data for direct retail investor consumption.

We seek to expand the range of our non-trading products and services through innovation and any inability to do so may prevent us from increasing our revenues from our non-trading businesses. Other risks related to our non-trading business include:

- the failure to generate expected returns from new products and services in our commercial IT business;
- the inability of our financial education programs to drive growth in our exchange membership;
- illegal data vending, piracy and violations of our the terms of use of our index and data products, which may reduce sales or demand for such products and services; and
- the inability to compete effectively in the relevant markets of our non-trading businesses.

The foregoing and similar risks related to our non-trading businesses may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

17. Our business depends on statutory and regulatory approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions which we may be unable to obtain or renew in a timely manner or at all.

We are required to obtain, maintain and renew various statutory and regulatory approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions from time to time for the operation of our platforms and businesses. For example, we have obtained licenses from the SEBI in respect of EMERGE (our platform for SMEs) and trading in derivatives and government securities and we would be required to obtain regulatory approvals from the SEBI. For further details, see "Government and Other Approvals" beginning on page 464. There can be no assurance that the relevant authorities will issue or renew our approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions in a timely manner or at all. Regulatory approval, licenses, registration and permissions granted to us typically impose additional requirements, obligations or restrictions on our operations, which must be complied with in order for us to continue our operations. Failure by us to obtain, maintain, renew or replace the approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions that we require may result in the interruption of our business or our inability to scale up our operations or offer new products and services. In addition, our various third-party vendors and intermediaries may require similar statutory or regulatory approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions. For further details, see "Government and Other Approvals" beginning on page 464. Any inability to obtain, maintain or renew necessary approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions and comply with their terms and conditions could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

18. Failure to protect our intellectual property rights could materially adversely affect our business.

We own or license rights to a number of trademarks, service marks, trade names, that we use in our business, including NSE, NIFTY and NIFTY 50. We also have certain NIFTY-related trademark registration applications pending in India and abroad. We may not succeed in registering our marks or otherwise protecting our intellectual property. Our trademark registration applications have been unsuccessful in the past, for example where similar marks have already been registered in a particular jurisdiction.

The protective steps that we take to protect our intellectual property rights, including registrations under trademark laws, confidentiality provisions and contractual arrangements, may be inadequate to deter misappropriation of our intellectual property. Certain of our key systems and technology that support our functions were developed in-house, including NEAT, our screen-based trading system. However, we do not have registered patents in relation to the method or process for developing such systems and technology, and we may not be able to protect such systems and technology from unauthorized use. There can be no assurance that we will take the necessary actions to protect our intellectual property rights in the future, including by successfully renewing the intellectual property rights that we own. We may be unable to detect the unauthorized use of, or take appropriate steps to enforce, our intellectual property rights in India or abroad. Failure to protect our intellectual property and trademarks could harm our reputation and affect our ability to compete effectively. Further, defending our intellectual property rights may require significant financial and managerial resources, the expenditure of which may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Although the non-disclosure obligations under our employment contracts with certain of our key personnel extend beyond the term of the contract, we cannot assure protection of our know-how, trade-secrets or other confidential or proprietary information once these agreements are terminated. The disclosure of such information about us could have an adverse effect on our business, resulting operations, financial condition and prospects.

19. Our operations, trading members, listed entities and assets are concentrated in India.

The principal place of our business is India and substantially all of the companies listed on our platforms are incorporated in, or have operations primarily in, India. Consequently, any adverse change in the Indian legal, political, economic or business environment that impacts the financial condition of Indian companies could adversely affect us to the extent such changes cause investors to withdraw their investments and cease trading on the markets we operate. Such changes include, for example, modifications of the GoI's economic policy that may result in a decline in gross domestic product, or GDP, or deceleration of GDP growth, high inflation, declines in interest rates, growing budget deficits and foreign debt, as well as changes in the exchange rate of the Indian Rupee against major world currencies or changes in corporation tax, exchange controls or other regulations that impact a listed entity's ability to conduct its business.

In addition, if returns on investments in Indian companies are generally lower than returns on investments in companies based in other countries, we may be unsuccessful in attracting foreign and local investors to our platforms. Any of these events may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

See also "– Broad market trends and other factors beyond our control could significantly reduce demand for our products and services", "– We operate in a highly regulated industry and any failure to comply with our legal and regulatory requirements or obligations may result in censures, fines and other penalties imposed on us", "– External Risks – Government and regulatory policies in India or abroad or changes to such policies could materially adversely affect our customers, leading to a reduction in trading volumes, transaction charges or demand for our products and services", and "– External Risks – Political, economic or other factors in India beyond our control may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and prospects".

20. Regulation of ownership and eligibility requirements of shareholders of securities of Indian stock exchanges may hamper our ability to raise capital and restrict investment in our Company.

Investment in stock exchanges and in Indian securities is subject to regulation. The SECC Regulations and the circulars issued in connection with the SECC Regulations, inter alia, prescribe conditions in relation to the ownership of stock exchanges including the following:

- At least 51% of the paid up equity share capital of a stock exchange is required to be held by the public. 'Public' has been defined to include any member or section of the public but does not include any trading or clearing member or their associates and agents. A public sector bank, public financial institution, insurance company, mutual fund or alternative investment fund in the public sector, which has associates as trading members or clearing members is deemed as public for the purpose of the SECC Regulations.
- A person resident in India, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, is not permitted to acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid up equity share capital in a stock exchange. However, certain categories of investors are permitted to hold up to 15% of the paid up equity share capital of the stock exchange, with the prior approval of the SEBI for holding more than 5%.
- A person resident outside India, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, is not permitted to acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid up equity share capital in a stock exchange. The union cabinet, pursuant to the press release dated July 27, 2016, approved an increase in the foreign shareholding limit from 5% to 15% for a stock exchange, a depository, a banking company, an insurance company and a commodity derivative exchange. Further, the combined holding of all persons resident outside India may not exceed 49% of its paid up equity share capital.

- For persons acquiring more than 2% of the paid up equity share capital, such person is required to seek the approval of the SEBI within15 days of such acquisition.
- Only "fit and proper" (as defined under the SECC Regulations) persons are permitted to acquire or hold shares in a stock exchange. SEBI has advised us in its recent inspection reports to continuously follow up in relation to the divestment of the Equity Shares of one of our shareholders, holding 0.02% of our Equity Share capital. The shareholder is required to divest its shareholding in our Company following the SEBI's determination that the shareholder is not a "fit and proper" person under the SECC Regulations. Following the completion of the Offer, the text of the relevant regulation in connection with "fit and proper" persons is required to be made part of the contract note. The listed stock exchange is also required to submit to the SEBI on a quarterly basis, an exceptional report in relation to the shareholders who are not "fit and proper" and action taken in respect of such shareholders.

Under the SEBI circular no. CIR/MRD/DSA/01/2016 dated January 1, 2016, persons acquiring shares of a stock exchange have self-declaration obligations and the depositories have an obligation to monitor, report and ensure compliance with the shareholding restrictions with respect to stock exchanges. However, the infrastructure enacted to ensure compliance with the SECC Regulations and the January 2016 Circular is yet to be tested on a real-time basis as we do not currently have any listed peers. Accordingly, we cannot assure you that such infrastructure will be appropriate or adequate to ensure compliance with shareholding restrictions and monitoring requirements. Further, any failure to comply with the above restrictions could lead to freezing of voting rights and all corporate actions in respect of the excess Equity Shares held and the requirement to dispose of any shareholding in excess of regulatory limits.

According to the SECC Regulations, purchases of Equity Shares by foreign portfolio investors are restricted to the secondary market. This may constrain our ability to raise capital in the future through primary offerings, as foreign portfolio investors would not be allowed to participate. Further, there can be no assurance that the SEBI will grant the approval required for acquisitions beyond the prescribed limit under the SECC Regulations. These limitations on acquisition and holding could also have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. For further details in relation to the restrictions on shareholding, refer to the sections "Regulations and Policies" and "Offer Procedure" beginning on pages 177 and 506, respectively.

21. Our clearing house operations expose us to various risks in respect of our clearing members and thirdparty depositories.

Our clearing and settlement operations are conducted through our subsidiary, NSCCL. NSCCL guarantees the settlement of trades on our platforms and maintains a Core Settlement Guarantee Fund to support its guarantor obligations.

Parties to a settlement may default on their obligations for reasons beyond our control. A member's default on its obligations may result in a loss if NSCCL's margin and security deposits are insufficient to meet its obligations. NSCCL is also subject to liquidity risk when a clearing member defaults or is delayed in fulfilling its obligations or when a clearing bank defaults or delays in facilitating the pay-out of funds. NSCCL is also subject to collateral risk where it is unable to access the collateral deposited by clearing members (including due to legal disputes or otherwise) or where changing market conditions result in a reduction in the liquidation value of the collateral compared to the obligation which the collateral secures.

Funding of the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund has in the past required and may in the future continue to require significant contribution. NSCCL would use the Core Settlement Guarantee fund to cover losses due to failure of a member of our exchange to honor its obligations. As a consequence, NSCCL may need to access, and our Company and NSCCL may be required to replenish, the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund. In December 2016, SEBI observed that NSCCL had not allocated the loss incurred due to default by one of the brokers in a manner that was in conformity with the bye-laws of NSCCL. Accordingly, SEBI advised NSCCL to transfer certain amounts from its reserves to the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund. For details in relation to regulatory action and directives in connection with Core Settlement Guarantee Fund, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments – Litigation involving our Subsidiaries – Litigation filed against NSCCL - Actions by regulatory / statutory authorities" on pages 458 to 459.

Our and NSCCL's risk management related policies and procedures may not be sufficient to detect problems or prevent defaults. Furthermore, our and NSCCL's measures and financial resources to offset counterparty default risk, including the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund, may be insufficient to protect against counterparty defaults or the adverse effects of those defaults. We may also be affected by any delays or failures in the timely and efficient transfer of securities to and from the relevant depositories. We cannot assure you that our clearing and settlement arrangements will be satisfactory to our members and will not require system modifications in the future. If the various measures that our Company and NSCCL take to cover defaults and maintain liquidity are not sufficient to protect us from a default or if significant defaults take place, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected.

The majority of the securities listed on our exchange are in dematerialized form and held by one of two depositories, the Central Depository Services (India) Limited, or our associate company, the National Securities Depository Limited. NSCCL has established connectivity with both depositories and relies on their services for the electronic settlement of trades executed on our exchange. Any delay or failure by the depositories to perform their settlement obligations could adversely affect NSCCL and, in turn, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

22. Damage to our reputation could materially adversely affect our business.

Reputation and customer confidence (including that of issuers, our trading members and other financial intermediaries and investors) are important to our business, and we consider our brand to be one of our assets.

Our investor services department receives complaints from investors from time to time in the ordinary course of operations. The nature of these complaints included the following:

- execution of trades without consent;
- non-receipt of funds or securities;
- excess brokerage fees charged by our trading members;
- failure of our trading members to issue documents;
- non-refund of margins or security deposits;
- non-payment of dividends;
- non-receipt of credit balances shown in statements of account; and
- poor quality of customer service.

If we are not able to promptly and effectively respond to investor complaints, customer confidence and satisfaction may decline and our reputation and brand may be adversely affected.

Our reputation could be harmed in many other ways, including by failures or disruptions of our systems, operational errors, data security or privacy breaches, regulatory actions or the actions and activities of our trading members and customers whom we do not control. See also "–SEBI has initiated an examination and has directed our Company to also conduct an independent forensic examination by an external agency, into the co-location facilities of our Company and has also directed our Company to deposit the revenue generated from co-location in a separate bank account. Any adverse SEBI directive on this matter may materially and adversely affect our co-location business, results of operations, business and reputation" and "– We rely on third parties for the provision of certain services and products, including certain aspects of our critical system infrastructure and software" on pages 21 to 23 and 36.

Due to the role that we perform in the Indian capital markets, errors in our transaction systems, interruptions in trading, operational errors, inadvertent leakages of confidential information relating to customers, legal proceedings, regulatory action, press speculation or other unfavorable information could damage our brand and reputation. The actions of other market participants, including issuers, financial intermediaries and competing trading platforms acting contrary to accepted standards of conduct or market practice could undermine general confidence in the Indian capital markets and in our business. Finally, our trading members, Directors and employees may engage in fraud or other misconduct, and although we take precautions to prevent and detect this activity, such precautions may not be effective in all cases, which could result in sanctions or serious harm to our reputation.

Damage to our reputation could reduce our trading volumes and the number of listings on our platforms. We have filed a defamation suit in relation to certain articles against our Company's co-location facility. For further details, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments – Litigation involving our Company – Litigation filed by our Company" beginning on pages 457 to 458. Any damage to our reputation could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

23. We rely on third parties for the provision of certain services and products, including certain aspects of our critical system infrastructure and software.

We rely on third parties to provide some of the important elements of our trading, clearing and other systems, communications and networking equipment, computer hardware and software and related support and maintenance, as well as other functions necessary for the operation of our business. These third parties include software and hardware vendors, data processors, internet service providers, telephone companies, warehouses, banks and quality certification companies.

We license our risk management software, trading technology used in our NMF II mutual fund platform, databases, routers, servers and other critical software and hardware on a perpetual or annual basis from third parties, many of whom also provide regular support and maintenance services to us. Any premature termination of our license agreements or the loss of the ability to use such technology for any reason would have an adverse impact on our business and operations. Rapid changes in our industry or technology may result in our licensed technologies becoming obsolete prior to the expiration of our licenses or to the recall or discontinuation of support for outdated products or services. We cannot assure you that our licensors will be able to adequately and timely maintain and update the infrastructure and software that we license to meet our needs. Accordingly, we may be required to invest additional amounts and incur significant costs in upgrading existing technologies.

We cannot assure you that our third-party vendors will be able to continue to provide their products and services in an efficient, cost-effective manner or that they will be able to adequately expand their services to meet our needs. Any interruption or deterioration in the performance of these services, regardless of the cause, could also be disruptive to our business and affect trading activity. Our disaster recovery planning may not be sufficient for all eventualities and our property insurance coverage may not be adequate to compensate us fully for any losses that we may suffer. If our vendors cannot expand system capacity to handle increased demand, if they fail to perform, if their systems experience interruptions, malfunctions, disruptions or slower response times or if they fail to update their systems in a timely manner or at all, then we could incur reputational damage, regulatory sanctions, litigation, loss of market share, loss of trading volume and loss of revenues, any of which could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

24. We may be unable to acquire other companies or technologies or enter into investments, alliances, joint ventures or other business combinations successfully or at all.

We may in the future seek to acquire or invest in businesses, applications or technologies that we believe could complement or expand our business, improve our technology platform and capabilities or otherwise offer growth opportunities, subject to applicable law. The pursuit of potential acquisitions may divert the attention of management and cause us to incur various costs and expenses in identifying, investigating and pursuing suitable acquisitions, whether or not they are consummated. There can be no assurance that we will be able to adequately assess, identify or capitalize on suitable opportunities for business diversification or other purposes, obtain the financing necessary to complete and support such investments, alliances or ventures on satisfactory terms, or that any such business combination will prove to be profitable or create value for our shareholders.

The SECC Regulations, which restrict us, as a stock exchange, from engaging in activities that are unrelated or not incidental to our functions as a stock exchange or clearing corporation (except through a separate legal entity and as permitted by the SEBI) may reduce the number of such opportunities available to us. In its recent inspection reports, SEBI has observed that we have acquired a stake in Computer Age Management Systems Limited, or CAMS (without providing notice to SEBI) and made an investment in a wind power project, and that through these investments our Company is engaged in activities not incidental to stock exchange activities, as prescribed under Regulation 41(3) of the SECC Regulations. These matters are under consideration by SEBI.

If SEBI were to determine that we have made an acquisition which does not comply with the SECC Regulations, we could be subject to penalties, including instructions for us to divest all or a portion of our shareholding in such entities, which in turn may adversely affect our business, result of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Additionally, potential investments, alliances and joint ventures may result in our exposure to unanticipated liabilities and we can provide no assurance that we would be able to identify any actual or potential liabilities.

It may be necessary for us to raise additional funds through public or private financings to complete our proposed acquisitions or investments. Additional funds may not be available on terms that are acceptable to us and, in the case of equity financings, may result in dilution to our shareholders. Any future acquisitions by us also could result in large and immediate write-offs, the incurrence of contingent liabilities or amortization of expenses related to acquired intangible assets.

In any acquisition, we may not be able to realize the benefits of acquiring such businesses. For example, we have acquired a stake in Power Exchange India Limited, or PXIL, our Group Company. We have recently advised PXIL to consider taking immediate steps to close down its business as early as possible and in any event not later than February 28, 2017, since PXIL has been incurring heavy cash losses. Additionally, if we are unable to successfully integrate an acquired business with our existing operations, technologies and company culture. We cannot assure you that following any such acquisition we would achieve the expected synergies to justify the transaction. Any failure to complete any proposed acquisition, investment, alliance, joint venture or other business combination in accordance with our expectations, or the failure to identify suitable opportunities, may adversely affect our business, results of operations or financial condition.

25. Our data products may contain undetected errors.

Through our data feed business, we distribute trading data sourced from our exchange. We also sell data products based on our NIFTY indices on a subscription basis. The compilation and dissemination of market data or index information could give rise to miscalculations or undetected errors. Market participants who use real time price and order book information or other market moving signals to make their buy or sell decisions and recommendations or require accurate instrument reference data for risk management activities and error-free settlement may base their decisions on miscalculated or erroneous information. We may be exposed to damage claims brought against us based on such miscalculations or undetected errors which could be costly to defend, harm our reputation and result in contractual disputes, delays in or loss of market acceptance of our products or unexpected expenses and diversion of resources to remedy errors. Any such events may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

26. Our risk management framework and insurance policies may not be effective or adequate.

Our risk management framework includes capital adequacy requirements for members, monitoring member performance and track record, stringent margin requirements, online monitoring of member positions and automatic disablement from trading when limits are breached. Our risk management policies and procedures designed to prevent the occurrence of, or mitigate, risks such as investment risk, market risk, credit risk, operational risk and liquidity risk may not be adequate or effective. We can provide no assurance that our IT systems, policies and procedures and personnel will always be effective or that we will always be successful in monitoring or evaluating the compliance risks to which we are or may be exposed. Non-compliance with applicable regulations could lead to reduced trading volumes or trading members on our platforms or customers using our products and services. Further, our business involves risks and hazards which may adversely affect our profitability, including equipment breakdown, failure of systems and infrastructure, employee frauds, and terrorist activities. We cannot assure you that the operation of our business will not be affected by any of the incidents and hazards listed above or by other factors.

We have a variety insurance policies to cover our assets against external risks and for the benefit of our employees, employment practices liability insurance, employee health insurance and such other insurance policies as required by applicable law and which are subject to certain exclusions and limits on coverage. There can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honored fully, in part or on time, or that we have taken out sufficient insurance to cover all material losses, including coverage for claims by third parties and litigation. To the extent that we suffer loss or damage for which we did not obtain or maintain insurance, that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, the loss would have to be borne by us and our cash flows, results of operations and financial performance could be adversely affected. For a detailed description of the insurance policies obtained by us including the assets covered under such insurance, see "Our Business – Insurance" on page 176.

27. Our proposed international exchange in GIFT City is subject to contingencies and uncertainties.

We have incorporated two Subsidiary companies, NSE IFSC Limited and NSE IFSC Clearing Corporation Limited, and applied to the SEBI for in-principle approval to establish international exchange and clearing corporation businesses in GIFT City. We cannot assure you that we will receive these approvals or other approvals required for conducting operations in GIFT City in a timely manner or at all. Establishing an international exchange at GIFT City will require significant capital expenditure, and there can be no assurance that the international exchange will generate sufficient business to recover the costs of establishment or become profitable. We have not finalized our plans for our proposed exchange and clearing corporation businesses at GIFT City and may incur additional costs or delays as those plans are formalized. There can be no assurance that depository services will be available at GIFT City in a timely manner or at all and, as a result, trading on our proposed international exchange may be limited to products that do not require depository services. Contingencies and uncertainties such as the foregoing may result in our inability to successfully implement our GIFT City project.

28. A significant portion of our costs are fixed or semi-fixed and cannot be adjusted to periodic fluctuations in our trading volumes and revenue.

A significant portion of our costs comprise fixed and semi-fixed costs such as employee benefits expenses, depreciation and amortization expenses, rent, repairs and maintenance expenses, regulatory fees payable to SEBI, software expenses and other expenses, which are not fully dependent on our trading volumes. We base our expectations of our cost structure on historical and expected levels of demand for our products and services as well as our fixed operating infrastructure, such as computer hardware and software, hosting facilities and security and staffing levels. We may not be able to quickly adjust our operating expenses in the event that our trading volumes decrease, demand for our products and services or our revenue falls short of expectations, which may result in larger decreases in our revenues than corresponding decreases in expenses. Because our cost structure is largely fixed, if demand for our current products and services declines for any reason, we may not be able to adjust our cost structure to counteract the associated decline in revenues. In the event of any of the forgoing, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected.

29. We may be required to comply with certain foreign regulations and seek recognition from foreign regulators in conjunction with our business ventures outside of India.

Our business ventures outside of India may require us to comply with regulations promulgated by foreign governments and stock exchange regulators.

We have entered into cross-listing and licensing arrangements with the Singapore Exchange, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the Osaka Exchange and the TAIFEX to provide for trading of derivatives benchmarked to our NIFTY 50 index and other indices on foreign exchanges. As a result of these partnerships, derivatives benchmarked to NIFTY indices are traded on these four exchanges. We have also entered into a memorandum of understanding with the London Stock Exchange to explore opportunities for collaboration, such as the establishment of a research center in GIFT City. Foreign governments or regulators, including our stock exchange partners, may require us or the products that we market outside of India to meet regulatory requirements that may be different from or stricter than the requirements that we are subject to in India. We may also incur additional costs or our management may be required to devote additional time and attention in order to meet these requirements. As a result, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be materially adversely affected.

30. We may not be able to amend our bye-laws and rules in a timely manner or at all.

As a recognized stock exchange in India, we have power to make rules for the purposes of discharging our statutory duties. However, rules that we propose, including amendments to rules and rules in relating to fees that we assess, must be approved in writing by the SEBI and, wherever applicable, notifications by the SEBI must be published in the Gazette of India and the Maharashtra State Gazette before they can take effect.

The SEBI may approve, disapprove, or recommend changes to rules or amendments to existing rules that we submit for approval. Any failure to obtain approval for any proposed change could prevent us from effecting changes to our rules, which may affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. We are permitted to establish bye-laws subject to the prior approval of the SEBI. In the event bye-laws are required to be amended, the SEBI may amend our bye-laws on its own motion or upon a written request of the governing body of our Company. Such amended bye-laws are required to be published in accordance with the procedure prescribed under the SCRA, including publication in the official gazette. The review process to frame or amend our bye-laws can be lengthy and may significantly delay the implementation of proposed changes that we believe are necessary to the operation of our markets. If we are unable to obtain approval to implement an amendment to our bye-laws, it could negatively affect our ability to make needed changes or implement business activities.

31. We have in the past entered and will continue to enter into related party transactions.

In the ordinary course of our business, we have entered and will continue to enter into transactions with related parties. While we believe that the related party transactions that we have entered are legitimate business transactions conducted on an arms' length basis, we cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favorable terms had such arrangements not been entered into with related parties. We cannot assure you that these or any future related party transactions that we may enter into, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. See "Related Party Transactions" beginning on page 212.

32. Our financial condition and results of operations could vary significantly from what has been presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus if our audited financial statements, including the consolidated Restated Financial Information, are restated with respect to how we record our Company's contributions to the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund.

Our Company's contributions to the CSGF are regulatory in nature and have restricted use and purpose. Accordingly, as a matter of accounting prudence and consistent with the accounting policy followed while preparing the financial statements in previous years under Indian GAAP, we recognize our Company's contribution to the CSGF maintained by NSCCL in our audited consolidated financial statements, including the consolidated Restated Financial Information, as an expense in our consolidated statement of profit and loss for the year or period in when the contribution was made.

Under Ind AS, an alternative view could be to record our contributions to the CSGF as an appropriation from reserves, instead of charging as an expense in our consolidated statement of profit and loss, based on the view that our Company, NSCCL and the CSGF are part of NSE Group, thereby eliminating intra-group transactions. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Significant Accounting Policies – Core Settlement Guarantee Fund" beginning on pages 434 to 435 for information regarding the estimated impact that such adjustments would have on our consolidated Restated Financial Information. We are in the process of seeking necessary clarification in this regard. See also the examination report of the Joint Auditors in relation to our Company's consolidated Restated Financial Information beginning on page 218.

If our accounting policy changes concerning our Company's contribution to the CSGF and it is determined that a restatement of our audited financial statements, including the consolidated Restated Financial Information, is required, our financial condition and results of operations would be different from what has been presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

33. Our Company is not, and does not intend to become, regulated as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act and related rules.

Our Company has not been and does not intend to become registered as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, or the U.S. Investment Company Act. Accordingly, unlike registered investment companies, our Company will not be subject to the vast majority of the provisions of the U.S. Investment Company Act, including provisions that require investment companies to have a majority of disinterested directors, provide limitations on leverage and limit transactions between investment companies and their affiliates. None of these protections or restrictions is or will be applicable to our Company.

If our Company was to become subject to the U.S. Investment Company Act because of a change of law or otherwise, the various restrictions imposed by the U.S. Investment Company Act, and the substantial costs and burdens of compliance therewith, could adversely affect our operating results and financial performance. Moreover, parties to a contract with an entity that has improperly failed to register as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act may be entitled to cancel or otherwise void their contracts with the unregistered entity, and shareholders in that entity may be entitled to withdraw their investment.

Our Company is relying on the exemption provided by Section 3(c)(7) of the U.S. Investment Company Act to avoid being required to register as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act and related rules. In order to help ensure compliance with the exemption provided by Section 3(c)(7) of the U.S. Investment Company Act, our Company has implemented restrictions on the ownership and transfer of Equity Shares by any persons acquiring our Equity Shares in Offer who are in the United States or who are U.S. Persons (as defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the U.S. Securities Act), which may materially affect your ability to transfer our Equity Shares. See "Terms of the Offer – Eligibility and Transfer Restrictions" beginning on page 497.

34. Our Subsidiaries may not pay dividends on shares that we hold in them. Consequently, our Company may not receive any return on investments in our Subsidiaries.

While most of our Subsidiaries have paid dividends in the past, they do not have dividend policies and may be restricted from paying dividends by applicable law or by contract, including under their respective charter provisions and the terms of any financing arrangements that they may enter into. Under the SECC Regulations, the utilization of profits and investments by NSCCL, our wholly-owned Subsidiary and a recognized clearing corporation, is required to be in accordance with the norms specified by the SEBI. We cannot assure you that our Subsidiaries will generate sufficient profits and cash flows or otherwise be able to pay, or that they will pay, dividends to us in the future.

35. This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains information from the Oliver Wyman Report, which we have commissioned.

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus includes information from the Oliver Wyman Report. We commissioned this report for the purpose of confirming our understanding of the industry in connection with the Offer. Neither we, nor any of the Managers, nor any other person connected with the Offer has verified the information in the Oliver Wyman Report. Oliver Wyman has advised that, while it has taken due care and caution in preparing its report based on public information and industry and statistical data information obtained from sources which it considers reliable, it does not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy or completeness of such information and is not liable for any loss or damage suffered because of reliance on the information contained in the report. Further, the Oliver Wyman Report is not a recommendation to invest in, refrain from investing in or divest from any company covered in the Oliver Wyman Report. The Oliver Wyman Report highlights certain industry and market data relating to our Company and our competitors. Such data is subject to many assumptions. There are no standard data gathering methodologies in the industry in which we conduct our business, and methodologies and assumptions may vary widely among different industry sources. Further, such assumptions may change based on various factors. We cannot assure you that Oliver Wyman's assumptions are correct or will not change and accordingly our position in the market may differ from that presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Prospective investors are advised not to unduly rely on the Oliver Wyman Report when making their investment decisions.

36. Some of the records of our regulatory approvals are not traceable.

Certain records of our regulatory approvals, including key approvals received from SEBI in relation to exchange traded interest rate futures segment, NIFTY IT and NIFTY Infrastructure futures and options segment are not traceable. We may not be able to furnish actual letters received from SEBI evidencing receipt of such approvals. Despite having conducted an extensive search of our records, we have not been able to retrieve the aforementioned documents, and have accordingly placed reliance on other documents, including our annual reports and minutes of the meetings of the Board of Directors for corroborating such regulatory approvals. While we continue to conduct a search for such records and may also consider approaching SEBI to obtain a certified copy of the such records, if required, we cannot assure you that the abovementioned records of our regulatory approvals will be available in the future.

37. We do not own the land on which our Registered Office and Corporate Office are situated.

We do not own the land on which our Registered Office and Corporate Office are situated. Our Registered Office and our Corporate Office are located on land owned by the Mumbai Metropolitan Region Development Authority and leased to us for a period of 80 years with effect from December 11, 1998. We cannot assure you that we will own or have the right to occupy this land in the future, or that we will be able to continue with the uninterrupted use of the land on which our Registered Office and Corporate Office are situated in the event that we are unable to comply with the terms of our lease agreement, which may impair our operations and adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details, see "Our Business – Properties" on page 176.

38. One of our Group Companies has incurred losses in the last preceding financial year and has a negative net worth, based on the last audited financial statements available.

One of our Group Companies, PXIL, has incurred losses in the preceding financial years and has a negative net worth, based on the Group Company's last available audited financial statements. For further details, see "Our Group Companies – Details of Group Companies with negative net worth" and "Our Group Companies - Loss making Group Companies" beginning on page 208 and 211, respectively. We have advised PXIL to consider taking immediate steps to close down its business, in accordance with due process including applicable regulatory compliances, as early as possible and in any event not later than February 28, 2017, since PXIL has been incurring heavy cash losses. We cannot assure you that our Group Companies will not incur losses or have negative net worth in the future.

39. Any increase in or realization of our contingent liabilities could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition.

For further details, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" beginning on pages 428 and 450, respectively. There can be no assurance that we will not incur similar or increased levels of contingent liabilities in the current financial year or in the future. In the event that any of our contingent liabilities were to be become actual liabilities, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

40. Financial information in relation to certain of our Subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures used for preparation of our consolidated financial statements as included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus have not been audited.

Financial information in relation to the following Subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures of our Company used for the preparation of our consolidated financial statements for the six months ended September 30, 2016 and the fiscal years ended March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012, as included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, is unaudited and furnished by the management of the relevant subsidiary, associate or joint venture:

- NSE.IT (US) Inc. for the years ended March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012;
- NSE.IT (UK) Limited for the year ended March 31, 2012;
- National Commodity Clearing Limited for the years ended March 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012;
- Power Exchange India Limited for the six months ended September 30, 2016 and the years ended March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012;
- Omnesys Technologies Private Limited for the years ended March 31, 2014, 2013 and 2012;
- Market Simplified India Limited for six months ended September 30, 2016 and the years ended March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012; and
- Receivables Exchange of India Limited for the six months ended September 30, 2016 and the year ended March 31, 2016.

We may face risks associated with such financial information not being verified by an independent third party. If such financial information had been audited, adjustments and modifications may have arisen during the course of audit process, which could have resulted in differences compared to those unaudited financial information which were furnished and relied on for preparation of our consolidated financial statements.

41. One of our Group Companies has unsecured loans that may be recalled by the lenders at any time.

One of our Group Companies, Market Simplified, has currently availed unsecured loans which may be recalled by the lenders at any time. In the event that any lender seeks a repayment of any such loan, such Group Company would need to find alternative sources of financing, which may not be available on commercially reasonable terms, or at all. Such Group Company may not have adequate working capital to undertake new projects or complete the ongoing projects. As a result, any such demand may affect our business, cash flows, financial condition and results of operations.

External Risks

42. Government and regulatory policies in India or abroad or changes to such policies could materially adversely affect our customers, leading to a reduction in trading volumes, transaction charges or demand for our products and services.

The Indian central and state governments have traditionally exercised, and continue to exercise, significant influence over many aspects of the Indian economy. Since 1991, successive governments have pursued policies of economic liberalization and financial sector reforms. The current government has announced its general intention to continue India's current economic and financial sector liberalization and deregulation policies. There can be no assurance that future government policies will be accommodative of our business and intended to facilitate economic liberalization.

Changes in policies by the Government of India or foreign governments may affect trading volumes on our platforms or demand for our products and services in our non-trading businesses. Such changes may relate to, among others, monetary or tax law or policy, tax treaties, regulatory changes in India affecting investors (for example, changes in permitted lot sizes for derivatives or open interest limits for foreign institutional investors), the listing requirements on competing stock exchanges, changes affecting the ability of investors to freely trade on our platforms, the taxation or repatriation of profits from trading on international exchanges, or changes to the manner in which securities are traded, cleared and settled. The easing of restrictions in India, such as those currently preventing foreign stock exchanges from operating in India and limiting the total amounts that Indian residents can invest outside of India, could result in increased competition and adversely affect our ability to maintain our trading volumes and market share. Regulatory changes or restrictions may also adversely impact our integrated business model, such as by introduction of interoperability between different clearing corporations or requiring the separation of clearing and settlement services from trading services.

Legislative and regulatory changes may create potential for regulatory arbitrage if significant policy differences emerge, which may divert our trading volumes to other exchanges. Certain of the exchanges that we compete with outside of India impose lower regulatory and compliance costs on their customers, including automated trading systems that generally are not subject to stringent regulatory requirements and standards. Our trading volumes may decrease if our members shift their business to exchanges or automated trading systems where trading is more affordable due to differences in the applicable regulatory regime. We have reduced our prices in the past in response to competitive pressures resulting from differing regulations and may do so in the future for various reasons, including regulatory changes or restrictions on pricing. For example, in July 2016, we reduced our transaction charges on option trading following an increase in the securities transaction tax, or the STT, by the Government of India, or GoI, which would otherwise have increased trading costs to our members and, as a result, may have led to a reduction in our trading volume and revenues.

These or related factors may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

43. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time that it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating outside India the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by Equity Shareholders.

For example, the exchange rate between the Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares and returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

44. Changes in tax laws or regulations or their interpretations may significantly affect our financial statements for the current and future years.

Any change in tax laws, including related to indirect taxes, may result in the loss of certain existing exemptions and benefits that are currently available to us (such as the exemption for income by way of dividends from investments in domestic companies and income in respect of investments in units of mutual funds/bonds). If there is an upward revision to the currently applicable normal corporate tax rate of 30% along with applicable surcharge and cess become applicable to us, our tax burden will increase.

The GoI has proposed a comprehensive national goods and services tax, or GST, regime that will combine specified taxes and levies by the central and state governments into one unified rate of tax. The Constitution (101st Amendment) Act 2016, which received presidential assent on September 8, 2016, authorizes the GoI and state governments to introduce the GST. While the GoI and certain state governments have announced that all committed incentives will be protected following the implementation of the GST, given the limited availability of information in the public domain concerning the GST, we are unable to provide any assurance as to this or any other aspect of the tax regime following implementation of the GST. The GST regime, once implemented, may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. For example, the GST regime may, among other things, increase our tax expenses in respect of procurement of goods and services or increase our tax compliance costs in the future. Details of the implementation of the GST regime are uncertain and implementation remains subject to agreement between the GoI and various state governments, which could create further uncertainty.

The GoI has also proposed certain reforms to the provisions relating to GAAR. Proposed amendments to the relevant provisions have been introduced in the Finance Act, 2012 and will apply (pursuant to the Finance Act, 2015) in respect of any assessment year beginning on or after April 1, 2018. The GAAR provisions concern arrangements declared as " impermissible avoidance arrangements", which include any arrangement, the main purpose or one of the main purposes of which is to obtain a tax benefit and which satisfies at least one of the following tests: (i) creates rights, or obligations, which are not ordinarily created between persons dealing at arm's length; (ii) results, directly or indirectly, in misuse, or abuse, of the provisions of the Income Tax Act; (iii) lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance, in whole or in part; or (iv) is entered into, or carried out, by means, or in a manner, which are not ordinarily employed for bona fide purposes. If GAAR provisions are invoked, the tax authorities will have wide powers, including denial of tax benefit or a benefit under a tax treaty. As the taxation system is intended to undergo significant overhaul, its consequent effects on us cannot be determined at present and there can be no assurance that such effects would not adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Future tax increases or amendments may affect the overall tax efficiency of our Company and may result in significant additional taxes becoming applicable to us. The profitability of transactions that we enter into may be adversely affected by tax risks materializing and associated costs being greater than anticipated. We cannot predict whether any new tax laws or regulations impacting our business will be enacted or the nature and impact of such laws or regulations.

45. U.S. regulation of investment activities may negatively affect the ability of banking entities to purchase our Equity Shares.

The Volcker Rule, generally prohibits certain banking entities from acquiring or retaining an ownership interest in, sponsoring or having certain relationships with covered funds, subject to certain exclusions and exemptions. As we are relying on an analysis that our Company does not come within the definition of an "investment company" under the U.S. Investment Company Act because of the exception provided under section 3(c)(7) thereunder, our Company may be considered a "covered fund" for purposes of the Volcker Rule. The following would be considered a "banking entity" subject to the Volcker Rule: (i) any U.S. insured depository institution, (ii) any company that controls an U.S. insured depository institution, (iii) any non-U.S. company that is treated as a bank holding company for purposes of Section 8 of the International Banking Act of 1978 (i.e., a non-U.S. company that maintains a branch, agency or commercial lending office in the U.S.) and (iv) any affiliate or subsidiary of any of the foregoing under the U.S. Bank Holding Company Act, other than a covered fund that is not itself a banking entity under clauses (i), (ii) or (iii).

There may be limitations on the ability of banking entities to purchase or retain our Equity Shares in the absence of an applicable Volcker Rule exemption. Consequently, depending on market conditions and the banking entity status of potential purchasers of our Equity Shares from time to time, the Volcker Rule restrictions could negatively affect the liquidity and market value of our Equity Shares.

Each investor must make its own determination as to whether it is a banking entity subject to the Volcker Rule and, if applicable, the potential impact of the Volcker Rule on its ability to purchase or retain our Equity Shares. Investors are responsible for analyzing their own regulatory position and none of our Company, the Managers or any other person connected with the Offer makes any representation to any prospective investor or holder of our Equity Shares regarding the treatment of our Company under the Volcker Rule, or to such investor's investment in the our Company at any time in the future.

46. Political, economic or other factors in India beyond our control may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and prospects.

The following external risks may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and prospects, should any of them materialize:

- the Indian economy has had sustained periods of high inflation in the recent past. High rates of inflation may increase our employee costs and decrease demand for products distributed by us, which may have an adverse effect on our profitability and competitive advantage, to the extent that we are unable to pass on increased employee costs by increasing cost of the products;
- a downgrade of India's sovereign rating by international credit rating agencies may adversely affect our access to capital and may increase our borrowing costs, which may constrain our ability to grow our business and operate profitably;
- a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves may affect liquidity and interest rates in the Indian economy as well as the valuation of the Indian Rupee, which may adversely affect our financial condition;
- political instability, resulting from a change in government or in economic and fiscal policies, may adversely affect economic conditions in India;
- civil unrest, acts of violence, terrorist attacks, regional conflicts or situations or war. If our operations are disrupted by any such agitation, terrorist attacks or conflicts, particularly in Mumbai, where our exchange is situated, our business, results of operations and prospects could be adversely affected; and
- India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunamis, floods and drought in recent years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determines their effect on the economy. If any of the EBOs or other facilities were to be damaged as a result of an earthquake or other natural calamities, or if such events should otherwise impact the national or any regional economies, our business, results of operations and prospects may be adversely affected.

47. Significant differences exist between Ind AS and other accounting principles, such as Indian GAAP, IFRS and U.S. GAAP, which may be material to investors' assessment of our financial condition.

Our consolidated Restated Financial Information as of and for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015 and 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016 included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus have been prepared under Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 read with Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 to the extent applicable. The consolidated Restated Financial Information have been compiled from the audited consolidated financial statements of our Company for the respective years under the previous generally accepted accounting principles followed in India ("Indian GAAP"), and from the audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the six months ended September 30, 2016 prepared under Ind AS.

In accordance with Ind AS 101 First-time Adoption of Indian Accounting Standard, we have presented reconciliation from Indian GAAP to Ind AS. Please see Note 41 to the consolidated Restated Financial Information beginning on page 312. Except as otherwise provided in the consolidated Restated Financial Information with respect to Indian GAAP, no attempt has been made to reconcile any of the information given in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus to any other principles or to base the information on any other standards. Ind AS differs from other accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar, such as Indian GAAP, IFRS and U.S. GAAP. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial statements included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with Ind AS. Persons not familiar with Ind AS should limit their reliance on the financial disclosures presented in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

In addition, our consolidated Restated Financial Information may be subject to change if new or amended Ind AS accounting standards are issued in the future or if we revise our elections or selected exemptions in respect of the relevant regulations for the implementation of Ind AS.

48. Rights of shareholders under Indian laws may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as shareholders in an Indian company than as shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other jurisdictions. Under the Companies Act, prior to issuance of any new equity shares, a public limited company incorporated under Indian law must offer its equity shareholders pre-emptive rights to subscribe to a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain existing ownership, unless such preemptive rights are waived by a special resolution by a three-fourths majority of the equity shareholders voting on such resolution. If you are a foreign investor and the law of the foreign jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such foreign jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights, unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file an offering document or a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for your benefit. The value such custodian receives on the sale of any such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of our Equity Shares, your proportional interest in our Company would decline.

49. It may not be possible for investors outside India to enforce any judgment obtained outside India against our Company or our management or any of our associates or affiliates in India, except by way of a suit in India.

Our Company is incorporated as a public limited company under the laws of India and our directors and executive officers reside in India. A substantial portion of our assets and the assets of our executive officers and directors, are located primarily in India. As a result, it may be difficult to effect service of process outside India upon us and our executive officers and directors or to enforce judgments obtained in courts outside India against us or our executive officers and directors, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of jurisdictions outside India.

India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, such as the United Kingdom, Singapore and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Indian Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or the Civil Code. The Civil Code only permits the enforcement and execution of monetary decrees in the reciprocating jurisdiction, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be enforceable in India. Even if an investor obtained a judgment in such a jurisdiction against us, our officers or directors, it may be required to institute a new proceeding in India and obtain a decree from an Indian court. However, the party in whose favor such final judgment is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in a nonreciprocating territory within three years of obtaining such final judgment. We have been advised by our Indian counsel that the United States and India do not currently have a treaty providing for reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments, other than arbitration awards, in civil and commercial matters. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any federal or state court in the United States on civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the federal securities laws of the United States, would not be enforceable in India. However, the party in whose favor such final judgment is rendered may bring a new suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in the United States within three years from the date of the judgment. It is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages on the same basis or to the same extent as was awarded in a final judgment rendered by a court in another jurisdiction if the Indian court believed that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy in India. In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered pursuant to the execution of the judgment.

Risks Related to the Offer and Our Equity Shares

50. We will not receive any proceeds from the Offer.

The Offer is an offer for sale by the Selling Shareholders. Accordingly, we will not receive any of the Offer proceeds, which will be remitted to the Selling Shareholders. See "Objects of the Offer" beginning on page 101.

51. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/Offer Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Similarly, Retail Individual Investors can revise or withdraw their Bids at any time during the Bid/Offer Period and until the Bid/Offer Closing Date, but not thereafter. Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors will not be able to withdraw or lower their Bids following adverse developments in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations or otherwise at any stage after the submission of their Bids.

52. Our Equity Shares have never been publicly traded and may experience price and volume fluctuations following the completion of the Offer, an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price or at all.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for our Equity Shares, and an active trading market may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Additionally, our Equity Shares will be listed on only one stock exchange, BSE and this may also affect the liquidity and trading market for these Equity Shares. Our Company has filed an application seeking approval of SEBI for trading the Equity Shares, as permitted securities, on the trading platform of our Company in addition to the trading platform of BSE. For further details, see "Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures - Listing" on page 489. Listing and quotation does not guarantee that a market for our Equity Shares will develop or, if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a bookbuilding process and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter.

There has been significant volatility in the Indian stock markets in the recent past, and the trading price of our Equity Shares after this Offer could fluctuate significantly as a result of market volatility or due to various internal or external risks, including but not limited to those described in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

53. Any future issuance of Equity Shares may dilute your shareholdings, and sales of our Equity Shares by our major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future equity issuances by us may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in our Company. In addition, any sales of substantial amounts of our Equity Shares in the public market after the completion of this Offer by our major shareholders, or the perception that such sales could occur, could adversely affect the market price of our Equity Shares and could materially impair our future ability to raise capital through offerings of our Equity Shares. We cannot predict what effect, if any, market sales of our Equity Shares held by our major shareholders or the availability of these Equity Shares for future sale will have on the market price of our Equity Shares.

54. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of our Equity Shares.

Under the Income-tax Act, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company within 12 months of purchase are generally taxable in India. Any gain realized on the sale of shares on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months will not be subject to capital gains tax in India if the STT has been paid on the sale transaction. The STT is collected by the Indian stock exchange on which equity shares are sold. Any gain realized on the sale of shares held for more than 12 months to an Indian resident, which are sold other than on a recognized stock exchange and as a result of which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India. Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less which are sold other than on a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to short term capital gains tax. Capital gains arising from the sale of shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where an exemption is provided under a tax treaty between India and the country of which the seller is a resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdictions on gains arising from a sale of the shares subject to relief that may be available under the applicable tax treaty or under the laws of their own jurisdiction.

55. Government regulation of foreign ownership of Indian securities may have an adverse effect on the price of our Equity Shares.

Foreign ownership of Indian securities is subject to Government regulation. In accordance with foreign exchange regulations currently in effect in India, under certain circumstances the RBI must approve the sale of the Equity Shares from a non-resident of India to a resident of India or vice-versa if the sale does not meet certain requirements specified by the RBI. Additionally, any person who seeks to convert the Rupee proceeds from any such sale into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India is required to obtain a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. As provided in the foreign exchange controls currently in effect in India, the RBI has provided that the price at which the Equity Shares are transferred be calculated in accordance with internationally accepted pricing methodology for the valuation of shares at an arm's length basis, and a higher (or lower, as applicable) price per share may not be permitted. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on terms favorable to a non-resident investor in a timely manner or at all. Because of possible delays in obtaining requisite approvals, investors in the Equity Shares may be prevented from realizing gains during periods of price increase or limiting losses during periods of price decline. See "Restriction on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities" beginning on page 546.

Overview of Indian macro-economy – Trends and Outlook

With approximately 1.3 billion people and one of the world's largest economies, India's recent growth and development has been one of the most significant achievements of our times. With the nominal GDP growing at 9% over the past decade, India has witnessed a fast growth in its economy and recently overtook China to become the fastest growing large economy globally (in real GDP terms).

Specifically for India, real GDP growth rates for recent years have been 5.6% (2012), 6.6% (2013), 7.2% (2014) and 7.6% (2015).

Foreign direct investment into India has steadily increased from approximately USD 24 billion in calendar year 2012 to approximately USD 44 billion in calendar year 2015 and approximately USD 32 billion in the nine months ended September 30, 2016. Foreign direct investment in India accounted for only approximately 2% of India's GDP in 2015 despite increasing from approximately USD 28 billion to approximately USD 34 billion to approximately USD 44 billion as of 2013, 2014 and 2015, respectively.

Driven by strong growth in economy along with a strong savings culture, both household income and household savings have seen a substantial increase in the past decade. The per capita income increased by approximately 3.5 times from 2006 to 2015 (indicating annual growth rate of approximately 15%). At the same time, per capita savings grew by approximately 2.5 times from 2006 to 2015 (indicating annual growth rate of approximately 10%)

In the recent past, there have been numerous policy initiatives undertaken to continue this strong pace of growth. Examples include: increased public spend in infrastructure, passage of Goods and Services Tax, focused efforts to improve ease of doing business, launching of industrial corridors, movements such as 'Start-up India', 'Make in India', 'Skill India', 'Digital India', "India Stack". These efforts are likely to serve as a catalyst for growth in the Indian economy.

Going forward, the outlook for Indian economy remains strong. Numerous independent agencies estimate Indian economy to grow at 7-8% (real GDP terms) over the next few years. This trend is likely to continue beyond the next 5 years and India is expected to become the 3rd largest economy in the world by 2030, with GDP approximately tripling to USD 7 trillion.

This strong outlook is driven by a number of factors such as continued policy reforms, thrust on reviving manufacturing, close monitoring of inflation targets and so on.

Additional note to readers

The recent government action of demonetisation is a significant step to move India to a 'less-cash' economy in the near term and potentially a 'cash-less' economy in the medium term. The economy is currently in a period of 'transition' and there is uncertainty on the nature and timing of the impact of the policy action. Directionally, we can expect that demonetisation may lead to attractive growth opportunities for exchanges in India. We list below some potential drivers that may support capital markets growth, the likely time to impact (near term vs. medium term vs. long term) as well as nature of impact (permanent vs. temporary)

- Greater allocation of household savings towards productive, financial assets (long term, permanent). This will have direct positive impact on capital markets participation by retail investors
- Adoption of digital payment mechanisms for financial as well as non-financial transactions (long term, permanent). This has the potential to lead to greater participation in capital markets due to seamless integration of payment and trading platforms
- Uncertainty in outlook leading to higher market volatility (medium term, temporary). This may lead to greater turnover in the capital markets in the near term (hence leading to potential increase in exchange revenues)
- Drop in interest rate driving greater participation in capital markets for better returns (near term, temporary). This may lead to greater participation as well as turnover in the capital markets

At the same time, the policy action can also dampen the outlook for exchanges in India due to reasons such as slowdown in GDP growth (near term, temporary), substantial proportion of new deposits driven towards tax payments (near term, permanent), sizeable proportion of new deposits locked in fixed deposits (near term, temporary), reduced attractiveness of India as an investment destination given uncertainty over investment horizons of 3/5 years.

There is a great deal of uncertainty on the near-medium term impact of demonetisation. The move has potential to become an inflection point for banking and capital markets sectors, as well as for the economy as a whole. We believe that it is too early to define likely scenarios or to estimate quantitative impact of demonetisation on turnover in various asset classes. As such, this report (finalised before the full impact of demonetisation is clear) does not take into account the opportunities for faster growth of capital markets nor does it factor in potential slowdown in the economy in the near term.

Capital markets in India – Evolution and global comparison

As the Indian economy matured from 1991, financial services sector served as the backbone of India growth with strong growth in indicators like banked population, number of bank branches and ATMs, banking sector assets, market capitalization and number of listed companies, among others.

Traditionally, Indian households have invested a majority of their savings (approximately 60%) into physical assets such as gold and real estate with share of financial assets being lower as compared to developed economies. However, the share of financial assets in savings is increasing over the last 3 years.

It is expected that the allocation of household savings to financial assets will improve in the medium term driven by

• Improving financial literacy levels: A number of focused programs being run by the regulators towards

this cause

- Focus on financial inclusion: Driving financial inclusion has been the focus of numerous initiatives in the recent past such as Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, linking of Aadhaar card to bank accounts, Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana, Digital India, India Stack, new bank licenses, launch of payment banks and small banks. These initiatives are expected to be instrumental in further pushing financial inclusion and drive a step change in key financial markets indicators
- Ease of access: Supported by boom in the telecom sector (internet and mobiles), as well as the launch of banking services on mobile phones and rise of fin-tech companies that focus on customer experience, it is expected that accessibility of organised financial services will improve dramatically
- Urbanisation: While the India Economic survey estimates proportion of population living in urban areas as approximately 30%, The World Bank Group estimates suggest that there is a sizeable amount of hidden urbanisation. The World Bank Group estimates the share of India's population living in areas with urban-like features is approximately 55%. It is expected that the trend of urbanization will continue at a rapid pace until 2050. This implies that a vast and growing proportion of the population will have access to financial products, thereby enhancing allocation of savings to financial assets
- Greater confidence in the markets: SEBI has taken a number of steps to improve corporate governance and disclosure standards and to curb malpractices such as insider trading. In the medium term, these steps will lead to greater trust and confidence in capital markets

Financial savings in India totalled approximately USD 0.5 TN as of 2015, comprising approximately 56% of bank deposits and only 7% of investments in direct equities. Thus, within financial assets, majority of household savings in India are currently in the form of cash and deposits (approximately 60%). This is in sharp contrast to developed economies where households rely on a mix of equities, pension products, insurance and other financial products. Compared to emerging markets selected (e.g. Brazil, Malaysia), there is a huge scope to broaden the suite of financial products that households invest in. As financial literacy levels improve and per capita savings increase, the allocation of savings into more sophisticated products such as insurance, mutual funds and direct equities is expected to increase.

Within financial services, capital markets specifically have also seen key developments over the past years. Examples of key developments include demutualisation of exchanges in 2002, dematerialisation of equities, emergence of screen based trading owing to the launch of a new technology platform by NSE, introduction of new asset classes and key regulatory changes introduced by SEBI and RBI to further develop the market. These changes have helped capital markets in India grow to their current state.

While comparing capital markets in India to global markets, it is important to understand the nuanced differences between capital markets in India vs. global peers. We highlight some salient features of capital markets in India as follows:

- High reliance on banks and NBFCs for corporate funding: Growth of corporates in India has been fuelled by the banking sector to a large extent. The share of corporate loans to total corporate credit is approximately 65%. As the economy matures, it is important that the reliance on bank funding is reduced thus indicating strong potential for growth of capital markets
- Under-developed corporate bond market and nascent (on-exchange) markets for FX and IR derivatives: While equity capital markets in India are well-developed, the corporate bond markets are yet to reach substantial size in primary as well as secondary markets. Corporate bonds outstanding to GDP ratio for India is approximately 13% compared to 21% for China, 28% for Hong Kong, 44% for Malaysia, 32% for Singapore, 75% for Korea. Likewise, exchange based markets for trading of FX derivatives and interest rate derivatives are at early stages of development in India
- Low retail investor participation: Retail investors constitute only approximately 13% of the stock ownership in India. The number of Demat accounts in India is less than 10% of the number of banking accounts. This indicates a strong potential for greater participation of retail investors in Indian capital markets. We expect that improved ease of access to information and to the markets driven by increasing mobile penetration will also play an important role in deepening participation of retail investors in the markets
- Low free float levels: A large number of listed companies in India have significant promoter holding leading to lower free float levels (47% for NSE, 46% for BSE compared to 89% in Bovespa, 66% in HKEx, 80% in JSE, 56% in KRX, 82% for LSE and 90% for NASDAQ). This manifests itself in lower turnover velocity. As the promoters dilute their holdings over time, this will drive greater turnover in the markets

Cash equities:

Cash turnover velocity in India has been falling over the past decade (decline from 103% in 2010 to 53% in 2015). At present, India, with cash turnover at 53%, operates around the average of emerging markets.

The market capitalisation to GDP ratio for India is approximately 73% compared to 140% in US, 89% for Korea and 129% for Malaysia. Comparing market capitalisation to GDP ratios across countries is tough since the ratio tends to be very volatile on a y-o-y basis as well as the ratio depends significantly on the nature of the market.

In terms of concentration of trading activity in equities, top 50 equities account for a large portion of total equity volumes traded at both NSE and BSE. This concentration has decreased in the past decade and has now stabilised at around 63%. This is a similar trend globally where most of the exchanges have high concentration in terms of liquidity indicating that concentration of liquidity in the top stocks is not an issue unique to Indian exchanges.

Equity derivatives:

The ratio of equity derivatives to cash volumes in India is severely skewed and the skew has only accentuated in the recent years. The strong growth in derivatives segments is driven by growth in index options which have grown by approximately 46% annually since FY09 whereas other derivative products (index futures and equity futures) have grown in the range of 3-13% which is similar to the growth rate of cash equities.

The strong growth in index options is driven by regulatory changes and launch of new initiatives. In 2008, the STT (Securities Transaction tax) structure for index options was changed (STT to be levied on option premium instead of option value) which led to a huge surge in volumes for index options. Additionally, the launch of co-location services in 2009 led to a boom in High Frequency Trading in India leading to a sharp growth in index options trading volumes. Also, a number of key indices have been launched in recent years. Launch of Liquidity Enhancement Incentive Programmes (LEIPS) by BSE in 2014 to incentivise derivative traders further boosted the growth in derivative trades, however eventual withdrawal of these incentives led to correction of volume surge caused by the launch of this scheme.

Driven by the fast growth in the derivatives segment, the ratio of 'derivatives to cash' turnover in India has increased substantially in the recent years. In comparison to a number of emerging markets, the equity derivatives markets in India are significantly larger and well-developed.

Others

On the other hand, currency, interest rate and commodity derivatives in India are quite small constituting about 3% of total trade volumes in India due to structural reasons like absence of interlinked bond-currency-derivative nexus, government regulations restricting individuals from participating in the currency markets.

In comparison, these markets constitute a large proportion of turnover in global peers. For example: Russia -57% of total turnover is in FX derivatives, Australia and Canada both have 90%+ turnover in IR derivatives, EU has 59% in IR derivatives and China has 19% in commodities

The outlook for capital markets in India is strongly positive driven by fundamental factors such as

- Development of corporate bonds market: Development of the corporate bonds market is a key focus area for India. A number of initiatives are envisaged a prime example being RBI's recent announcement on caps on bank's exposure to large conglomerates. This is also supported by the recent moves from SEBI such as allowing FPIs to trade in the corporate bonds segment directly
- Large funding gap for the SME sector: As per our estimates, SME space has a funding gap of up to INR 27 TN currently. Capital markets are expected to have a strong role in financing SMEs for which both leading exchanges in India have launched their own platforms
- Growing retail investor participation: Currently, retail participation in capital markets in India through direct as well as managed routes (such as mutual funds) is very low.

Through a number of measures such as financial literacy efforts, simplification of KYC norms, focused initiatives for retail investors, rising investments in insurance and mutual funds, it is expected that retail investor participation in India will grow considerably in the medium term

• Continued FII flows: India remains an attractive investment destination for foreign investors. In addition, a number of government initiatives focusing on enhancing attractiveness of India as an investment destination have been launched recently. It is expected that continued FII flows into India will be a key driver of growth in the medium term

Market infrastructure landscape in India – Evolution and global comparison

Exchanges are organized markets designed to provide centralized facilities for the listing and trading of financial instruments, including securities issued by companies, sovereigns and other entities to raise capital. The exchange industry is generally supervised by a financial regulatory agency. In some cases, exchanges may also act as a self-regulatory organization responsible for supervising their members and affiliated markets.

Companies running exchanges typically generate the bulk of their revenues by collecting fees from issuers for the listing of their securities, from market members that deal in the financial instruments admitted to trading on the exchange and for selling market data and other technological solutions. The three most traditional sources of revenues for exchange companies are the fees charged on trades, the fees charged for the admission of securities and members and the selling of data captured on these two activities. However, as exchange companies expand along the value change, more sources of income are acquired.

As on March 31, 2016 there are seven stock exchanges in India, of which four are in the process of exiting. Focusing on equity, equity derivatives, currency derivatives and interest rate derivatives segments, the three main exchanges in the Indian market include: National Stock Exchange (NSE), Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) and Metropolitan Stock Exchange of India (MSEI). As of March 31, 2016, there are six recognized national commodities derivatives exchanges and six recognized regional derivatives commodities exchanges.

One of the significant points to note about exchanges in India is that are vertically integrated offering services across the value chain including execution, clearing, settlement and data offerings. In contrast to these, exchange groups in a number of developed markets are fragmented in their service offerings.

Globally, we observe that only 1–2 players dominate the exchange landscape for an asset class in a market with other players, if any, staying insignificant (e.g., Japan, Brazil). New entrants in the market have not been able to establish significant market share even years after their entry (example: MTFs in Europe). Thus liquidity in exchanges is sticky and it is difficult to move market shares unless driven by major technological enhancement (examples: DTB (1990s), ISE (2000s), BATS (2010s))

In India as well, the market shares (by turnover) for each exchange across the key product segments have stayed relatively stable. NSE is the market leader for cash equities (approximately 85% market share as of March 2016), equity derivatives (approximately 94% market share as of March 2016), currency derivatives (approximately 59% market share as of March 2016) and IR derivatives (approximately 79% market share as of March 2016)

We compare the performance of Indian exchanges with selected global peers along key dimensions of breadth of offerings, financial metrics and operating parameters.

Size / Ranking

Indian exchanges are amongst the leading exchanges globally in terms of turnover volumes in key asset classes such as cash equities, equity derivatives and currency derivatives.

In the rankings of global exchanges by cash turnover (based on number of trades) as well as for total derivatives turnover (based on number of contracts traded), Indian exchanges are amongst the top 15 players globally.

Products and Services offered

With the exception of pure-play derivatives exchanges (such as CME), almost all exchange groups offer trading in cash equities and bonds, although markets differ widely in terms of market cap, trading volumes and depth of the order book. Most exchange groups also offer trading in derivatives (equity, FX, commodity and interest rate derivatives) with the exception of credit derivatives, which are still largely traded OTC. Across the value chain view, exchanges offer services such as clearing, settlement, custody, depository, registration and safe-keeping. In addition, exchanges offer a broad suite of services – such as data products, indices, technology offerings, securities lending, collateral management and education services.

It is observed that the suite of products and services offered by Indian exchanges is comparable to leading global players.

Pricing, revenue and growth mix

It is observed that while leading exchanges in Europe and US have significantly diversified their revenue mix, Indian exchanges still earn bulk of their operating revenues from transactions (execution as well as post-trade). This indicates a strong potential to grow revenues in other areas such as data services, index products and technology offerings. Also, Indian exchanges have a large proportion of revenues attributed to non-core operating areas – such as interest income, investment income and rentals – this is unique to the Indian market.

In terms of revenue growth, it is observed that organic growth levels are similar across geographies and the outperformance of several global exchange groups regarding revenue growth is due to their higher appetite for M&A activities. Corrected for growth due to M&A, growth in Indian players has been in line with global players with NSE having seen the strongest growth in total revenues amongst the selected exchange peer set.

The revenue mix of leading exchanges in Europe and US is increasingly getting diversified with market data, indices and technology solutions becoming significant revenue pools. Data business is a reliable revenue source for international stock exchanges, on average accounting for approximately 15-20% of total revenues for stock exchanges in developed economies. In contrast, these emerging growth areas only make up a small proportion of the revenue mix for Indian exchanges indicating a strong potential for growth.

At the same time, pricing for transaction execution and post-trade services is the lowest for Indian exchanges compared to international peers. The estimated full value chain transaction fees for cash equities is 0.3 bps at NSE compared to 1.3 bps at SET, 3.6 bps at Bursa Malaysia, 3.8 bps at SGX and 1.5 bps at LSE (source: Oliver Wyman analysis). Thus there is limited downside risk on pricing since Indian exchanges already operate at most competitive levels.

Cost drivers

Exchange groups operate with different cost and pricing schemes and also deliver varying levels of liquidity. Comparing the operating costs to revenues of exchanges globally, it is observed that Indian exchanges operate towards the lower end of cost to income ratios. In terms of break-up of costs across various drivers, the share of employee costs is the lowest for Indian exchanges compared to global peers. On an operating cost per trade basis as well, Indian exchanges are amongst the most efficient exchanges globally.

Profitability metrics

Most exchange groups are highly profitable companies with EBITDA margins on the order of 50%. On profitability metrics, Indian exchanges are comparable to global peers.

Technical parameters

A number of technical parameters are of critical importance for exchanges – examples of such parameters include latencies, messages per second capacity, uptime (%), recovery time and frequency of outages. Data on such technical parameters is not available in the public domain for a large number of exchanges. On certain factors where data is available, the differentiation across exchanges is minimal – for example, most leading global exchanges have uptime achievements of >99%, with some exchanges already targeting 99.99% uptime.

While outages for exchanges are a rare occurrence, in the last 3 years Indian exchanges had lower number of outages (NSE - 0, BSE - 1) compared to some global peers (SGX - 4, DBG - 2, NASDAQ - 1, CME - 1).

Regulatory norms

Post the global financial crises, market infrastructure entities have been at the centre of regulatory attention in EU and US. Especially on the post-trade side, a sea-change in regulations (Basel III, EMIR, T2S and CSD regulation) is expected to profoundly impact the post-trade landscape. At the same time, some regulatory moves, such as the G20 agreement on OTC derivatives, have also helped in boosting exchanges revenue pools.

While the global regulations on exchanges have increased significantly, SEBI has kept pace with the emerging regulatory best practices for market infrastructures. As a result, drastic changes in the regulations governing exchanges in India are not expected.

International presence

International presence is an important factor in the business of exchange groups and has the following key impacts:

• All leading global exchange groups have an international presence (more than one continent).

- International presence is observed to be a key differentiator in terms of revenue size, with expansion beyond a certain size only possible through internationalization.
- Strategies for 'internationalisation' vary significantly by size of the exchange group. Large groups often choose M&A as a means to expand internationally. As smaller exchange groups are restricted in their M&A possibilities, they turn to partnerships and JVs to the same end. A further way for smaller exchange groups to internationalize is to consolidate with neighbouring markets.

Indian exchanges have significant potential to follow patterns of peers internationally forming further exchange links or JVs, or other means to tap into regional / international revenue pools.

Outlook for addressable market for Indian exchanges

Driven by the strong growth in Indian economy and developments in capital markets, it is expected that key asset classes will see further growth in turnover in the coming year.

Cash equities

High level comparison of key ratios such as market cap to GDP and turnover velocity indicate a significant headroom for growth for cash equities turnover in India

The estimation of outlook for turnover of cash equities in India can be done by using four parameters:

- GDP (growth in nominal GDP): A number of independent agencies provide an estimate of growth in nominal GDP in India over the next 5 years estimates ranging 10-12% growth in nominal GDP. However, based on past data, it is observed that there is often significant variance in forecasted vs. actual GDP growth. As a result, to maintain a conservative estimate, a haircut of 20% is applied on the growth forecasts from various agencies. So for the sake of estimating turnover in cash equities, we consider that nominal GDP in India is estimated to grow at 8-10% over the next 5 years.
- Market capitalization as % of GDP: Historically, market capitalisation to GDP has been a very volatile ratio making it difficult to predict a trend between market cap and GDP. We estimate that in the next five years, market cap to GDP stays flat (i.e. 0% CAGR) or experience modest growth (1-2% CAGR).
- Free float as % of market capitalization: Driven by SEBI's raising of minimum public shareholding to 25%, promoter holding has been on a decline. As a result, free float levels in India have been rising and have been around 40% since 2013. With the planned disinvestment of government stake in PSUs, free float levels may rise further in the coming years. However, as observed in the past, the disinvestment process is slow and may take years. Additionally, absolute free float can increase if the number of securities listed on an exchange increase. It is observed that 2016 has seen a large number of IPOs adding a significant value on Indian stock exchanges. Though increasing number of IPOs will contribute to rising values of free float in India, free float as % of market cap is not expected to grow any further. Hence, as a conservative estimate, it is expected that free float levels will remain constant and not rise further over the next 5 years.
- Cash turnover as % of free float: Turnover velocity corrected for free float in India observed a steep decline during FY11. This steep decline was caused by taxation changes in Securities Transaction Tax (STT). During FY11, STT was started to be calculated on option premium instead of notional value leading to huge surge in options turnover and diminishing cash turnover velocity. In recent years, turnover velocity corrected for free float has been relatively stable at approximately 110-115% In absence of further regulatory changes, a further decline in cash turnover velocity (corrected for free float) is not anticipated.

Using the above estimates, it is observed that turnover for cash equities has a potential to grow at 8-12% over the next 5 years (marginally better than the estimated GDP growth rates).

Trends supporting growth in cash markets

It is observed that the estimated potential for growth in cash markets is supported by number of trends observed in the market. These trends include increasing retail participation, greater financial literacy and penetration of capital markets products, regulatory initiatives, ease of technological access, plans for divestment, rising free float levels, expected surge in IPOs, capital requirements for SMEs and mid-corporates, strong investor confidence in India

Potential risks to growth in cash markets

Alongside these drivers, it is important to note that there are certain risks which may impact the growth of the capital markets in India.

a. HFT regulations –

High Frequency Trading is algorithmic based trading that uses powerful computers to enter and exit positions at very high frequency. Globally, share of HFT in cash volumes lies in the range of 20-30% with the exception of US and Japan where HFT drives approximately 50% of total cash turnover. The reason for relatively low share of HFT in cash turnover for some developed economies is high degree of statutory levies which makes HFT unattractive.

In India, HFT has seen increasing popularity over the past few years leading to a surge in both cash and derivative markets. It is estimated that HFT drives $\sim 25\%$ of the turnover for cash equities and $\sim 36\%$ of the turnover in the derivatives segment.

SEBI released a discussion paper on strengthening the regulatory framework for HFT in August 2016. The paper proposes seven potential measures to regulate HFT – these include minimum resting time, banning of tick-by-tick data sharing, randomisation of orders, auctions instead of continuous markets, redesign of queuing practices, increase in minimum tick size, and restriction on colocation. It is difficult to predict the nature of HFT regulations that may be implemented in India at this stage. However, taking cues from global regulations which have focused more on risk management, and various options discussed in the paper released by SEBI, it is estimated that regulatory changes can impact anywhere between 0% (negligible impact) of HFT volumes to more than 40% of HFT volumes (high impact).

- b. Change due to General Anti-Avoidance Rules GAAR is the anti-tax avoidance regulation in India. Government of India recently amended the tax treaty with Mauritius to levy taxes on capital gains made on equity transactions made via Mauritius on or after 1 April 2017. Similarly, tax treaty with Singapore (Mauritius and Singapore are the top two sources of foreign investments in India constituting more than 50% of FDI inflows to the country in 2015) is also under review and is likely to be amended soon. This move may deter foreign investments in the market dampening volumes
- c. Tightening of FII regulations / investment limits: FIIs constituted to about 18% of total turnover in cash market in March 2016. At the same time, their share in derivatives was close to 10% of total client turnover. Though unlikely, any tightening of restrictions on foreign investors' participation in Indian capital markets will not only have a direct negative impact on turnover driven by FIIs, but will also have a trickle-down effect on the overall market causing a steep decline in the volumes on Indian exchanges

Equity futures

Historically, ratio of futures turnover to cash turnover has been gradually increasing. However, the ratio has been stable at approximately 2.5 over the past couple of years. As a conservative estimate, it is estimated that the ratio of futures to cash will remain same over the next 5 years. This results in an estimate of annual growth rate of 8-12% for futures over the next 5 years for equity futures turnover.

Since the growth of equity futures is tied to growth of cash equity markets, the drivers that will support the growth of cash markets will also help drive the growth of equity futures. In terms of risks, the risks that could impact the growth in futures have been discussed along with risks to growth of options.

Equity options

Similar to futures, estimation of addressable market size for options can be done based on estimation of market size for cash equities. Over the past decade, ratio of options to cash turnover has been steadily increasing.

This rise has been caused due to sharp spike in options volume which in turn is largely driven by 'one-time' regulatory changes and launch of new initiatives.

As a result of these regulatory changes and new initiatives, options to cash turnover ratio for India is an outlier among peer countries.

Considering the absence of any further 'one-time' changes and the current disproportionate high levels of options as compared to cash turnover, it is expected that the options turnover will see a correction in the near term to stabilise at around FY13 levels. As a result, it is estimated that turnover in equity options has potential to grow annually by 6-10% over the next 5 years.

Similar to growth in equity futures market, growth in equity options is tied to the growth in cash markets and thus drivers of growth in cash markets will support the growth in equity options markets as well. In terms of risks, it is observed that in addition to risks affecting growth of cash markets, which may impact the growth of derivative markets, there are additional risks that may impact the growth of derivative markets in India:

- a. Change in contract size for derivatives: Indian securities regulator, SEBI, recently increased the minimum investment size for any equity derivative from existing INR 0.2 mm to INR 0.5 mm. This step is estimated to have led to a significant decline in derivative volumes, prompting the exchanges to launch incentives to boost volumes. It is expected that as exchanges withdraw incentives, derivatives turnover can see a sharp correction in the near-medium term. (source: Exchange disclosures, Oliver Wyman research and analysis)
- b. Changes to taxation regulations: Earlier this year, central government increased the securities transaction tax (STT) on options three-fold from existing 0.017% to 0.05% which led to an estimated decline of approximately 5% in options volumes. It is observed that increase in STT leads to a wider bid-ask spread reducing the liquidity of the market thus negatively impacting the volumes. Though, this particular change in taxation is small in absolute terms, and markets were able to recover quickly from its impact, increase in taxes decreases the overall attractiveness of derivative markets in India and any further increase in taxes may cause a permanent decline in the derivative volumes in India (source: Exchange disclosures, Oliver Wyman research and analysis)

Other asset classes

While cash equities and equity derivatives will be the key drivers of growth for market infrastructures in coming years, other asset classes including currency, interest rate and commodity derivatives, bonds and ETFs are also expected to witness a strong growth. Developed economies have large portion of their turnover coming from trade of currency and interest rate (IR) derivatives. However, India has small turnover for FX and IR derivatives due to a number of structural reasons such as absence of bond markets, restrictions on participation (includes outright bans (e.g., resident individuals could not participate in currency markets until recently) or regulatory restrictions on some kinds of activities (for example, banks are prohibited from adopting long positions on interest rate futures)).

a. Currency derivatives

In FY14, SEBI tightened exposure limits in FX derivatives to check large scale speculation and avoid the fall in rupee value which led to a sharp decline in trade volume in currency derivatives. However, it is expected that going forward, the markets will grow further on the back of growth drivers and achieve a sizeable market in next 5-7 years.

Growth in FX derivative segments will be driven by greater 'globalisation' of Indian economy leading to greater need for hedging, greater participation of FIIs, stable rupee levels and reduced capital controls (causing shifting of overseas Non Derivative Fund volumes to onshore).

While there is a risk of restrictions on FII participation in FX derivatives markets in India, it is expected that growth drivers will help FX derivatives market in India to potentially grow at an annual rate of 10-15%. It is observed that a number of enablers will be required to support the strong growth in currency derivatives market. These include:

- Regulatory response strategies: Due to a perceived rise in speculative trading in currency futures which led to fall in rupee levels, SEBI placed limits on trading of FX derivatives in FY14 which led to a decline in trading volumes. Though the SEBI restrictions were removed once the rupee levels stabilised and the volumes are back to an upward trajectory, continued stability of rupee levels (as compared to a fall driven by speculative trading) will be required to avoid future regulatory intervention and ensure continued growth in volumes
- Ease in regulations on ECB: RBI is taking initiatives to relax regulations to develop currency derivative markets in India. Recent example includes relaxation of cap on External Commercial Borrowings from USD 500 mm to USD 750 mm. This allows firms to raise larger amounts in foreign currencies creating a stronger need for currency risk hedging leading to a stronger demand for FX derivatives. These continued initiatives are required to help grow the currency derivative markets in India
- Ease of foreign investor participation in Indian currency markets: Foreign investors could only participate in currency markets in India to hedge an underlying exposure. In 2014, RBI changed this regulation to allow foreign investors to participate in currency derivative markets in India to the extent of USD 10 mm without any underlying exposures which was further increased to USD 15 mm in 2015. This gradual relaxation of norms for foreign investor participation in currency markets will be crucial for development of currency markets in India
- Increase in trading time: India allows currency trades in four currency pairs: USD-INR, GBP-

INR, EUR-INR, and JPY-INR. Due to time zone differences, there are often significant developments that impact the currency markets after trading has closed for the day in India. As a result, investors trading on Indian exchanges lose out on an opportunity to trade based on these developments. Increasing trading time on Indian exchanges to allow investors to make the most of these developments will encourage greater participation leading to higher volumes.

• Introducing new cross-currency pairs: RBI introduced three new cross-currency pairs (GBP-INR, EUR-INR, and JPY-INR) last year which led to an increase in volumes in currency markets. Introduction of more cross-currency pairs which are in demand among investors will also help push the volumes further

b. Interest rate derivatives

On the other hand, interest rate derivatives in India have a small base and have a potential to grow strongly in the next five years.

Growth in interest rates derivative segments will be driven by lifting of restrictions pertaining to IR derivatives trading and establishment of arbitrage free yield curve. Additionally, it is observed that following enablers will be required support growth of interest rate derivatives market in India:

- Launch of more tenures in interest rate futures: currently, IRFs are permitted on 6-, 10- and 13-year government securities and 91-day treasury bills. Introduction of more tenures will provide greater flexibility to participants to choose a product suitable to them increasing volumes
- Development of bonds market in India: IRFs are mainly used by holders of government bonds to hedge their interest rate risks. A developed bonds market will help IR derivatives market to grow as well
- Relaxation of participation in IR derivatives market: The restrictions on participation in IR derivatives market have been gradually relaxed with participation of FIIs and retail investors now permitted. However, most entities can only participate in the IR derivatives market to hedge interest rate risk. Gradual relaxation of these restrictions will be crucial for development of IR derivatives market in India
- Focus from regulators to develop the market: Both RBI and SEBI have taken been taking active measures to develop the IR derivatives market in India. These initiatives need to continue to fuel further growth of IR derivatives market

As a result, it is estimated that IR derivatives market in India has a potential to grow at annual rate of 15-20% over the next 5 years.

c. Commodity derivatives

India commodity derivative market has seen a sharp decline since seeing its peak in FY12 due to imposition of commodities trading tax (CTT) of 0.01% on derivatives trading in non-agricultural commodities in 2013. We expect that a number of initiatives launched by regulators will be key enablers for the growth of commodity derivative markets in India:

- Increased focus of government on price discovery of agricultural produce
- Potential disruptive growth in turnover of agricultural derivatives due to adoption of e-mandi model
- Guidance from RBI to banks to manage commodities risk of borrowers for agricultural commodities

However, there is a risk that primary focus of regulator in the near term may be more on risk management (as opposed to market development). As a result, it is estimated that market for commodities derivatives in India will witness a growth of 0-10% over the next 5 years.

d. Corporate bonds

Compared to emerging markets and developed market peers, corporate bond markets in India are small in terms of outstanding issuances as well as turnover

A number of initiatives launched by the regulators will be the key enablers for growth of corporate bond markets in India:

- Introduction of an electronic auction platform by SEBI for primary debt offers to develop an enabling eco system for private placement market for corporate bonds
- RBI has released guidelines to encourage large corporates to access a certain portion of their financing needs through capital markets instead of the banking channel
- Expansion of investment basket of foreign portfolio investors to include debt securities
- Hike in partial credit enhancement RBI has increased partial credit enhancement for corporate bonds from 20% to 50%
- RBI is in the process of drafting guidelines to accept corporate bonds as collateral for RBI's liquidity adjustment facility operations
- Set-up of a dedicated fund by LIC of India to provide credit enhancement to infrastructure projects. The fund will help in raising the credit rating of bonds floated by infrastructure companies and will facilitate investment from long term investors
- Development of a complete repository for corporate bonds, covering both primary and secondary market segments in plans by RBI and SEBI

If implemented well, these initiatives could reduce the reliance on the banking system and establish a robust avenue for corporate funding. However, there is a risk that ongoing emphasis on building exchange traded derivatives (ETD) market for credit and credit derivatives may dilute the focus on debt market. As a result of these drivers and risk factors, it is estimated that the bonds market in India has a potential to grow at an annual growth rate of 5-10% over the next 5 years. For India to witness a stronger growth in corporate bond markets, as explained earlier, regulators will have to push initiatives for development of the debt market in India.

e. ETFs

ETF market in India is still in its nascent stage with most of equity ETFs launched within the past couple of years. While Gold ETFs formed a major part of underlying AUM, they have seen a decline in the recent years causing a decline in ETF volumes. However, driven by pickup of equity ETFs and increasing awareness of ETFs in the market, ETF volumes have grown in 2015 and are expected to grow further driven by regulatory initiatives.

A number of initiatives launched by the regulators will be key enablers for the growth of ETFs market in India:

- Government's plan to use ETFs to operationalise divestment of its stake in state-owned firms and other corporate entities
- SEBI's initiative to clear ETFs quicker than mutual funds
- Lower annual expense ratio for ETFs as compared to mutual funds

However, there is a risk that ETFs market may not see substantial growth due to lack of proactive regulator initiatives to develop the ETF market. With these drivers and risk factors, it is estimated that ETF market in India has a potential to grow at 0-5% over the next 5 years.

Outlook for growth by services

Indian exchanges have a strong presence in services and service offerings which is expected to grow further

a. Listing services

Indian economy looks towards having more IPOs in the future driven by strong economic fundamentals, favourable policy climate and strong investor confidence. This is expected to drive the growth of listing revenues for Indian exchanges. In terms of revision to fee schedule, considering that there has been a revision recently, another revision to fee schedule in not expected in near future. With this, it is expected that listing fees in India will potentially grow at 15-20% over the next 5 years.

b. Data services

Data revenues in the Indian market have grown steadily at 14% CAGR over the past 5 years. However, data revenues are still under-leveraged as compared to other global peers indicating potential for strong upside.

It is expected that the market for data revenues in India will exhibit a strong growth in the coming years driven by opportunities to launch new product offerings and increased focus on driving data related revenues. However, two specific risks remain which may pose challenges for growth in data services: I) Reluctance to pay fees for data services in the Indian market; ii) Competition from global players (e.g. Bloomberg) as well as domestic exchanges and other data businesses.

Overall, it is estimated that market data revenues will maintain their past growth rate and potential to grow annually by 15-20%.

c. Index services

Historically, index products and services in India has been a growing segment with main revenue coming from licensing fee for usage of indices as an underlying for different products like index funds, ETFs and other structured financial products. Though, over the years, index licensing outside India has also been a major driver of revenue growth.

Globally, the market for index products and services is split between a few leading specialist index players and index businesses of banks and exchanges.

It is expected that revenues from index services can further grow for the Indian market by expanding product offering to beyond equities. With this, it is expected that revenues from index services will potentially grow at 15-20% over the next 5 years.

Emerging growth opportunities

Over the past couple of years, different steps of the market infrastructure value chain have seen different revenue pool growth. The different steps of the infrastructure value chain include solutions and services around data, the building of utilities (e.g. around areas of post-trade) and solutions around collateral management. The development of international financial centres and the advent of disruptive trading platforms and technologies are further topics highlighted in this context.

Data related services and solutions

Currently, revenues from data services make up a small proportion of revenues for Indian exchanges (approximately 3%). This is significantly lower than the share of revenues from data services at peer exchanges – ranging from 5-7% for emerging market exchanges (IDX, Bursa Malaysia, BM&F Bovespa, SET) and 10-35% for developed market exchanges (DBAG, SGX, KRX, LSE, NYSE, NASDAQ). On average, data business is a reliable revenue source for international stock exchanges, accounting for approximately 15-20% of total revenues for stock exchanges in developed economies. Similarly, index services have been a key area of focus for global exchanges. These products and offerings are under-developed in India and represent a key area for future growth opportunity.

Regarding market and reference data, most developed exchange groups have introduced sophisticated products to provide value-add to their clients and mitigate the risk of market data commoditization. This includes products that bundle data from multiple exchanges, innovative delivery methods (e.g. portals/apps) and customized solutions.

Exchanges without international reach and/or relatively small market cap are increasingly looking to launch international or specialist indices in cooperation with globally established index providers. This also opens up opportunities for trading of the corresponding ETFs on their platforms.

Most advanced exchange groups have expanded their product portfolio into the analytics/tools part of the market data value chain. This includes portfolio and risk management tools (mostly for the buy-side) as well as charting, pricing and technical analysis tools.

The broadened offering helps these peers to better serve their clients' needs and diversify/stabilize their revenue base. In the Indian market, growth opportunities exist in all areas around data distribution and advanced analysis/data products.

Utility building

Changing market conditions on both supply and demand side in capital markets create a strong rationale for alternative sourcing models. On one hand, market infrastructure industry now has the ability to address the need for simplification and mutualisation. On the other hand, there is a burning platform for change, especially for regional/domestic exchanges and Investment banks that lack scale to reach a competitive cost-per-trade compared to Tier one banks. The European players Clearstream/Eurex Clearing and Euroclear can serve as templates for services to add around the settlement step of securities transactions, as can "securities transactions banks" such as dwpbank in Germany, or similar services now offered by a joint venture partnership of Broadridge and Accenture.

For the Indian exchanges, there may be opportunities for value-added services around corporate action processing both on the corporate and the bank-side.

Collateral management

Globally, structural deepening of rates and FX futures markets is expected to drive listed derivative volumes upwards, nearly doubling by 2018. Bilateral trades experience the largest increase in collateral requirements as regulation bites; futurization will also shift collateral to exchanges. Europe and the US are expected to experience similar degrees of futurization by 2018, while Asia lags in both markets due to a delayed regulatory timeline. The global stock of highly-rated collateral is sufficient to meet higher demands, but clients will need increased support in accessing it.

Collateral management is one of the areas where opportunities for MI players exist – globally as well as in India. While regulations in India may not yet require sophisticated collateral management services to the same extent as in Europe or the US, Indian exchange groups can initiate capability building efforts for such services.

International Financial Centres

Exchange groups depend on their domestic market environment, but eventually also on their potential to attract international business such as ties to the operations of major banks that set up shop in International Financial Centres (IFCs) and international bonds or funds listings from large corporates that operate globally.

Market infrastructures in emerging economies are therefore showing increased interest in supporting regional or national governments in their efforts to increase the visibility of their main hubs as IFCs.

In India, of all the IFCs being planned, considerations have advanced the furthest for GIFT city initiative in Gujarat. While RBI and SEBI have specified regulations for setting up International Banking Units and market infrastructures, a number of key areas remain to be addressed for GIFT City to be successful – for example, introduction of capital account convertibility, clearance of bankruptcy laws and rationalization of tax structures. If these pre-requisites are addressed, the revenue potential from an IFC like GIFT city can be sizable.

Disruptive trading platforms and technologies

Last but not least, the exchange landscape is undergoing technological change in several aspects. New technologies such as block-chain are poised to overhaul parts of the trading value chain. Markets are becoming more fragmented in developed markets as banks launching their own alternative trading systems (dark pools) and increasing numbers of exchanges and other trading facilities opening for business. Similarly, some exchange groups are developing to become technology providers for others.

All of these trends can play out in the Indian market and can be used by the incumbent exchange groups to their advantage if they act swiftly and decisively.

to the Oliver Wyman Report. India is projected to be among the fastest growing economies in the world between 2016 and 2020 and is expected to become the third largest economy in the world by 2030, with GDP approximately tripling to $7 trillion by 2030, according to the Oliver Wyman Report. Mobile and internet penetration in India increased from 150 million users and 33 million users, respectively, in 2006 to 1,010 million users and 340 million users, respectively, in 2015, according to the Oliver Wyman Report. We anticipate that the growth of the Indian economy, together with continued focus on economic liberalization by the Government of India, or GoI, will lead to an expansion of the Indian capital markets and opportunities for us to further expand our business in the future.

We have a strong track record of growth alongside the Indian economy. Our NIFTY 50 index, a well-recognized and widely-used indicator of market activity in India, increased from 5,295.55 points as of March 31, 2012 to 7,738.40 points and 8,611.15 points as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively, demonstrating the strong recent growth of the Indian capital markets. We also have investments in complementary businesses, including mutual fund registry services, back-end exchange support services for our platforms, depository services, e-corporate governance, mobile trading solutions and commodity, power and receivables exchanges.

We continue to expand the range of our asset class coverage as well as the products and services that we offer. In our data feed business, we are developing new types of data products to complement our existing data offerings.

We have pursued innovation in our non-trading business to diversify our sources of revenue while strengthening our trading business. Since our joint marketing agreement with Standard and Poor's Financial Services in respect of our NIFTY indices ended in 2013, we have introduced new indices and grown our revenues from indices and data offerings. To encourage trading among domestic retail investors, we offer web-based and mobile internet trading through licensed NOW software and introduced financial education programs to teach foundational principles of investing and money management.

To attract investors to our exchange, we must instill investor confidence in the safety of our markets, which has driven us to strengthen our Investigation and Surveillance Department and our risk and collateral management facilities. Our risk-management system operates continuously online to set and update margin requirements for members and monitor our risk management functions. As part of our risk management framework, we maintain a Core Settlement Guarantee Fund with total assets of \gtrless 9,973.0 million and $\end{Bmatrix}$ 15,577.0 million as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively, compared to \gtrless 6,754.7 million as of March 31, 2015.

Advanced technology platform with a track record of innovation

Our advanced electronic systems for trade execution and post-trade services, including clearing, settlement and risk management, provide reliable and consistent transaction execution and settlement, which helps us to maintain our competitive position. We have an experienced team of IT professionals, supported by select third-party IT vendors, to operate and support our infrastructure and software and create and implement new technologies. We have developed components of our technology platform in house, as well as improvements to certain of our third-party developed or licensed technologies, including the National Exchange for Automated Trading, or NEAT, system, our screen-based trading system. We also license the NOW trading software that provides connectivity to our exchange through trading terminals, web-based browsers and mobile devices.

Our electronic systems deploy real-time hardware and software monitoring and analytics with self-correction capability, predictive behavior technology and surveillance of known failure points and unexpected events. To avoid outages or disruptions, we ensure that our systems have built in redundancy and excess capacity at all times, implemented regular testing protocols and adopted continuous obsolescence planning to keep our hardware and systems updated. To minimize cyber security threats, we have implemented a security framework to prevent and detect system intrusions and internal and external security tools. Our systems have processed an average of approximately 743 million messages per day for the six months ended September 30, 2016

We are a pioneer in technology and ensure the reliability and performance of our systems through our culture of innovation and investment in technology. Our investments in technology (including hardware and software) increased to \gtrless 8,400.6 million and \gtrless 8,831.0 million in fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, respectively, from \gtrless 6,063.5 million in fiscal 2012. We have adopted real-time risk monitoring for trading on our exchange. Our launches of electronic, screen-based trading in 1994 and derivatives trading (in the form of index futures) were each the first of their kind in India. We launched internet trading in 2000, electronic filing system for listed companies, direct market access, co-location facilities and our mutual fund trading platform in 2009 and mobile trading for investors in 2010.

Strong and diverse financial profile across established and high-growth business lines

We have enjoyed strong financial results in the past. Our total income has grown at a rate of 31.0% to ₹ 23,591.7 million in fiscal 2016 compared to ₹ 18,010.1 million in fiscal 2012. Our net profit after tax attributable to equity shareholders increased 10.2% to ₹ 9,752.1 million in fiscal 2016 compared to ₹ 8,848.7 million in fiscal 2012. Our EBITDA increased to ₹ 16,040.3 million in fiscal 2016 compared to ₹ 13,792.7 million, in fiscal 2012. In the six months ended September 30, 2016, we had total income of ₹ 13,435.1 million, net profit after tax attributable to equity shareholders of ₹ 5,883.2 million and EBITDA of ₹ 9,151.4 million. Reflecting the increased diversification of our business, our revenues from operations (excluding transaction charges from trading on our exchange) increased 16.6% from ₹ 5,967.5 million in fiscal 2012 to ₹ 6,959.7 million in fiscal 2016 and income from investments (excluding operating investment income) increased 18.6% from ₹ 3,914.3 million in fiscal 2012 to ₹ 4,643.9 million in fiscal 2016.

We have a strong balance sheet and have accumulated significant financial resources which provide us with strategic flexibility to grow our business. Our consolidated net worth attributable to equity shareholders was ₹ 68,676.7 million and ₹ 70,574.7 million as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively, compared to ₹ 52,660.0 million as of March 31, 2012. We had cash and cash equivalents and bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents (including other non-current bank balances, earmarked deposits and balance in escrow account) aggregating to ₹ 74,383.6 million, ₹ 50,287.5 million and ₹ 89,377.3 million as of March 31, 2012 and 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively. We have a large and diversified long-term investment portfolio that totalled ₹ 39,230.5 million and ₹ 34,804.2 million as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively. Our investment policy is governed by the SEBI guidelines, which limits our exposure to certain classes of assets that may be exposed to greater degrees of risk. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Key Components of Our Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit & Loss – Income – Income from Investments" and "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – Declines in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position" on pages 437 and 23, respectively.

Our diversified business model reduces our dependence on our trading business. In fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, 37.3% and 36.8% of our revenue from operations, respectively, were generated from sources other than our trading services and income from investments of deposits received from trading members, including annual listing fees, revenues from our data feed and index businesses and rack space rental and connectivity charges related to co-location services. These sources have generally provided us with predictable sources of revenue from year to year. Though diversified, our businesses are complementary, allowing us to leverage strong performance in individual products to increase our revenue streams throughout our vertically-integrated value chain.

Experienced and skilled management team

Our management team has extensive experience in financial market operations with a demonstrated ability to innovate and grow our business. Our management has strong sector-specific operational and management expertise and an understanding of the key opportunities and risks associated with our industry and our business. Our management team is supported by our Board of Directors, which has extensive executive leadership experience in the public and private sectors across business, regulation and technology.

We have implemented management training, development and progression plans to support our long-term operations. We periodically rotate members of our management team and non-management employees to different departments or businesses, which we believe contributes to the integration of our model and facilitates innovation.

Our Business Strategies

We seek to maintain the market leadership position of our exchange through the following strategies:

Diversify our product and service offerings and maintain new product innovation and development

We intend to further diversify our product and service offerings in our trading and non-trading businesses through innovation and investment in high-growth areas of our businesses.

Changes in listing and trading regulations by the GoI have in the past created, and may create future opportunities for us to introduce new products for trading on our exchange. For example, we have focused on increasing our listings of ETFs since the GoI eased its regulations in August 2015 to permit greater investment in ETFs by provident funds. The SEBI has promulgated regulations for the listing of real estate investment trusts, or REITs, and infrastructure investment trusts, or InvITs, and may authorize new investment products in the future, creating new opportunities for us to offer trading in new asset classes, particularly in our cash market. We also have numerous new products under development for which we are awaiting the SEBI's approval to launch, particularly in our derivatives business.

We believe that there is strong growth potential for our debt cash market as the majority of fixed income trading activity in India is still concentrated in the OTC market. The GoI is focused on growing India's debt capital market and the Working Group on Development of Corporate Bond Market in India issued recommendations to improve the regulatory framework for India's debt market in its August 2016 report. In anticipation of greater interest in fixed income trading in the future, in June 2016, we launched our NSE Electronic Debt Bidding platform for private placement issuances of fixed income securities.

We are actively evaluating potential new opportunities in our index and data feed businesses to build on our established NIFTY indices and market data offerings. For example, we plan to continue licensing our NIFTY indices for use as benchmarks for derivative and other structured products listed in India and globally. We also plan to explore opportunities to broaden our data product offerings to remain competitive in the market data industry. In addition, our Subsidiary, DotEx, was selected by the Central Registry of Securitization Asset Reconstruction and Security Interest of India, or CERSAI, as the managed service provider for CERSAI's central KYC registry, which was launched in July 2016.

Our vertically-integrated business model also presents opportunities for cross-selling between our business lines and throughout the value chain. We remain focused on encouraging more of our exchange members to trade in multiple categories of assets on our exchange, attracting our financial education clients to our exchange, marketing our index and data products to our more sophisticated traders and pursuing other cross-selling opportunities that our business model creates.

In our commercial technology business, we plan to develop new offerings focused on IT-enabled management services and analytics as a service. We anticipate our products and services will support product excellence, digital transformation, cloud and total outsourcing and cyber security and intelligence, particularly among banking and financial services clients. We may also seek out inorganic growth opportunities, including in the areas of digital transformation and technology security services.

Increase trading volumes by attracting new issuers and investors to our exchange

We are focused on improving liquidity on our exchange by attracting new issuers, strengthening our domestic investor base and making our exchange more accessible to foreign investors. We plan to target new types of issuers looking to access the Indian capital markets to list on our exchange. For example, we launched our EMERGE and EMERGE-ITP platforms to provide tailored listing alternatives for Indian SMEs seeking access to capital. We are reaching out to state governments to recommend the launch of SME-focused investment funds to expand the institutional investor base and attract more SMEs to our platforms. We conduct financial education workshops through NSE Academy to develop a new generation of investors. As the regulatory environment in India changes, we intend to diversify our listing acquisition campaigns to target new categories of issuers that become eligible for public listings in India. By continuously enhancing the quality of our exchange, we will also seek to encourage Indian companies listed or considering listing abroad to instead list on our exchange.

Our strategy to strengthen our investor base is focused on accommodating the evolving trading needs and expectations of institutional and other sophisticated traders and investors. We have rolled out co-location facilities on our premises and provide direct market access connections to our trading systems. We are in the process of further modernizing our trading infrastructure for algorithmic and high-volume trading and expanding our suite of derivative products. In addition, we plan to regularly update our traditional trading terminals and internet and mobile browser-based trading platforms to further improve reliability and trade execution.

We seek to attract additional foreign investors to our exchange and to become the domestic exchange of choice for foreign investors looking to access the Indian capital markets. We offer foreign investors access to Indian corporates, including all companies that comprise our NIFTY 50 index, and we have expanded our index and currency derivatives offerings to provide foreign investors with more opportunities to gain exposure to the Indian capital markets. We expect to continue our international marketing efforts in select markets, which in the past have entailed participation in conferences, trade shows, roadshows and meetings with institutional investors in Singapore, Hong Kong, New York and London. We have also sought approval from the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission in August 2007, which we updated in December 2015, to expand our marketing and customer acquisition efforts in the United States and plan to explore additional opportunities to increase our international footprint and outreach.

Finally, we continuously evaluate and refine our pricing strategy for each class of assets traded on our exchange and offer incentive schemes for individual asset classes from time to time.

Maintain and upgrade infrastructure and technology

We believe that our advanced electronic systems for trade execution and post-trade services are our competitive strength. We are committed to continually improving our core IT capabilities and platform infrastructure in order to maintain our systems' reliability, performance and security and enhance our customers' experience. We have regularly allocated substantial resources towards upgrading our information technology systems and infrastructure, with the over-arching goals of achieving higher capacity and lower latency, improving market efficiency and transparency, enhancing user access and providing flexibility for future business growth and market needs. We continually monitor and add processing capacity to safeguard against system disruptions during periods of high trading activity. We also seek to increase trading volume and turnover by optimizing our trading platforms to improve efficiency and reduce costs.

We plan to develop and implement initiatives to maintain and improve our system infrastructure and technology and our front- and back-end functions in response to technological developments, customer demand and competitive pressures. We are working toward integrating FinTech innovations into our businesses, including distributed ledger and block chain technology, big data analytics and machine learning. We participated in Hyperledger's Open Source Forum for blockchain technologies, are pursuing FinTech collaborations with third parties and plan to continue investing in technology innovation and working to bring FinTech-driven solutions to market in the future.

Pursue additional partnerships and collaborations in the global exchange ecosystem

We intend to further increase our brand recognition and diversify our product and service offerings by pursuing partnerships and collaborations with other leading global stock exchanges, market participants, technology providers and financial institutions throughout the global exchange ecosystem.

We have entered into cross-listing and licensing arrangements with the Singapore Exchange, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the Osaka Exchange and the TAIFEX to provide for trading of derivatives benchmarked to our NIFTY 50 index and other NIFTY indices on foreign exchanges. As a result of these partnerships, derivatives benchmarked to NIFTY indices are traded on four exchanges around the world, including U.S. Dollar denominated futures linked to our NIFTY 50, NIFTY Bank, NIFTY IT, NIFTY CPSE and NIFTY Midcap 50 indices traded on the Singapore Exchange, U.S. Dollar denominated futures linked to our NIFTY 50 futures traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Yen-denominated NIFTY 50 futures traded on the Osaka Exchange and New Taiwan Dollar denominated NIFTY 50 futures traded on the TAIFEX. Also in 2016, 6 ETFs linked to NIFTY indices were launched in international markets, including Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea. As of September 30, 2016, ETFs linked to NIFTY indices were listed on 17 exchanges in 15 countries.

Our arrangements with international stock exchanges also contribute to the liquidity of our markets. For example, our collaboration with the Chicago Mercantile Exchange enables us to offer Rupee-denominated derivatives benchmarked to the S&P 500[®] and the Dow Jones Industrial AverageTM on our exchange. Our non-NIFTY index derivatives turnover were ₹ 77,604,283.4 million and ₹ 111,933,910.1 million in fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, compared to ₹ 6,980,172.2 million in fiscal 2012.

We have entered into a memorandum of understanding with the LSE to explore opportunities for collaboration, such as the establishment of a research center in GIFT City (defined herein). We also will continue to explore organic and external opportunities to expand into new markets and products in our non-trading businesses, including in the areas of indices, data analytics, digital transformation and technology solutions.

Capture growth in the underpenetrated Indian financial markets

We intend to further strengthen our brand and market leadership position by reaching investors in more geographic locations and from different backgrounds across India. We plan to conduct investor awareness programs, pursue tieups with state-level education boards and universities to offer post-graduate and certificate programs and conduct conferences and seminars around our product and service offerings. Our past financial inclusion initiatives include state financial literacy programs that were developed together with the Tamil Nadu and Himachal Pradesh state education boards and are administered outside of India's metropolitan centers.

To introduce more first-time investors to the Indian markets and attract them to our exchange, our outreach, advertising and expansion initiatives seek to transform India's strong culture of saving into an "equity culture". We plan to intensify our outreach and advertising programs directed at younger Indians through our wholly-owned Subsidiary, NSE Academy, which promotes financial literacy as a necessary life skill. NSE Academy's initiatives, including partnerships with state and national school boards and schools, interactive courses on personal finance and certification programs, teach school children, homemakers and other non-finance professionals the value of investing, provide an introduction to the Indian capital markets and help to develop new market professionals.

Amid the recent trend of increasing mobile and internet penetration in India, we license NOW, our web-based and mobile trading platform, which is targeted towards the growing number of mobile phone users in India and positions us to increase our market share among internet and mobile traders. Assuming that mobile and internet penetration increases in India, we anticipate that investment in our trading platforms will enable us to attract more members to our exchange from areas outside of India's major commercial centers.

Indian capital markets are comparatively underpenetrated with significant potential for further growth according to the Oliver Wyman Report:

- financial savings in India totalled approximately $0.5 trillion as of 2015, comprising 56% of bank deposits and only 7% of investments in direct equities;
- foreign direct investment in India accounted for only approximately 2% of India's GDP in 2015 despite increasing from $28 billion to $34 billion to $44 billion in 2013, 2014 and 2015, respectively; and
- in 2015, India's market capitalization to GDP ratio was 73% compared to 140% in the United States, and India's cash turnover velocity was 53% compared to 268% in the United States.

Establishment of an international exchange in GIFT City

We have incorporated two Subsidiary companies, NSE IFSC Limited and NSE IFSC Clearing Corporation Limited, and applied to the SEBI for in-principle approval to establish international exchange and clearing corporation businesses in Gujarat International Finance Tech City – International Financial Service Centre, or GIFT City, which is a special economic zone under development to become India's first international financial services center. These proposed new businesses are intended to expand our trading business and to grow our market share by capturing trading volumes that in the past have shifted outside of India in search of lower transaction costs and higher position limits. Stock exchanges operating in the GIFT IFSC will be permitted to offer trading in securities in any currency other than the Indian rupee. Subject to SEBI approval, trading would be permitted in equity shares of companies incorporated outside of India, depository receipts, debt securities of eligible issuers, currency, index, interest rate and non-agriculture commodity derivatives and all categories of exchange traded products that are available for trading in stock exchanges in FATF/IOSCO compliant jurisdictions. NSE IFSC Limited would also be permitted to offer longer trading days than what stock exchanges are currently permitted to do. We will be conducting marketing and familiarization activities to keep prospective investors informed about the framework of operations of NSE IFSC and NSE IFSC Clearing Corporation, as we have in the past for the launch of new businesses, products, and services.

India Growth Story on the Rise Attracting Higher Foreign Investments Foreign Direct Investment, as % of GDP

Note: The data is for Financial Year(1-Apr to 31-Mar) Source: CEIC Data Company Limited

Foreign direct investment into India has steadily increased from approximately USD 24 billion in calendar year 2012 to approximately USD 44 billion in calendar year 2015 and approximately USD 32 billion in the nine months ended September 30, 2016. Foreign direct investment in India accounted for only approximately 2% of India's GDP in 2015 despite increasing from approximately USD 28 billion to approximately USD 34 billion to approximately USD 44 billion as of 2013, 2014 and 2015, respectively.

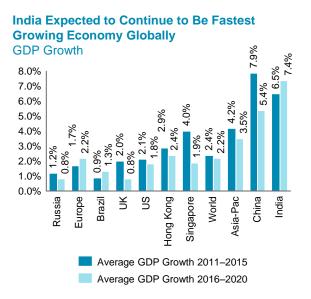

Driven by strong growth in economy along with a strong savings culture, both household income and household savings have seen a substantial increase in the past decade. The per capita income increased by approximately 3.5 times from 2006 to 2015 (indicating annual growth rate of approximately 15%). At the same time, per capita savings grew by approximately 2.5 times from 2006 to 2015 (indicating annual growth rate of approximately 10%)

In the recent past, there have been numerous policy initiatives undertaken to continue this strong pace of growth. Examples include: increased public spend in infrastructure, passage of Goods and Services Tax, focused efforts to improve ease of doing business, launching of industrial corridors, movements such as 'Start-up India', 'Make in India', 'Skill India', 'Digital India', "India Stack". These efforts are likely to serve as a catalyst for growth in the Indian economy.

Going forward, the outlook for Indian economy remains strong. Numerous independent agencies estimate Indian economy to grow at 7-8% (real GDP terms) over the next few years. This trend is likely to continue beyond the next 5 years and India is expected to become the 3rd largest economy in the world by 2030, with GDP approximately tripling to USD 7 trillion.

This strong outlook is driven by a number of factors such as continued policy reforms, thrust on reviving manufacturing, close monitoring of inflation targets and so on (summarised in Table below).

Additional note to readers

The recent government action of demonetisation is a significant step to move India to a 'less-cash' economy in the near term and potentially a 'cash-less' economy in the medium term. The economy is currently in a period of 'transition' and there is uncertainty on the nature and timing of the impact of the policy action. Directionally, we can expect that demonetisation may lead to attractive growth opportunities for exchanges in India. We list below some potential drivers that may support capital markets growth, the likely time to impact (near term vs. medium term vs. long term) as well as nature of impact (permanent vs. temporary)

- Greater allocation of household savings towards productive, financial assets (long term, permanent). This will have direct positive impact on capital markets participation by retail investors
- Adoption of digital payment mechanisms for financial as well as non-financial transactions (long term, permanent). This has the potential to lead to greater participation in capital markets due to seamless integration of payment and trading platforms
- Uncertainty in outlook leading to higher market volatility (medium term, temporary). This may lead to greater turnover in the capital markets in the near term (hence leading to potential increase in exchange revenues)
- Drop in interest rate driving greater participation in capital markets for better returns (near term, temporary). This may lead to greater participation as well as turnover in the capital markets

At the same time, the policy action can also dampen the outlook for exchanges in India due to reasons such as slowdown in GDP growth (near term, temporary), substantial proportion of new deposits driven towards tax payments (near term, permanent), sizeable proportion of new deposits locked in fixed deposits (near term, temporary), reduced attractiveness of India as an investment destination given uncertainty over investment horizons of 3/5 years.

There is a great deal of uncertainty on the near-medium term impact of demonetisation. The move has potential to become an inflection point for banking and capital markets sectors, as well as for the economy as a whole. We believe that it is too early to define likely scenarios or to estimate quantitative impact of demonetisation on turnover in various asset classes. As such, this report (finalised before the full impact of demonetisation is clear) does not take into account the opportunities for faster growth of capital markets nor does it factor in potential slowdown in the economy in the near term.

Capital markets in India – Evolution and global comparison

As the Indian economy matured from 1991, financial services sector served as the backbone of India growth with strong growth in indicators like banked population, number of bank branches and ATMs, banking sector assets, market capitalization and number of listed companies, among others.

Traditionally, Indian households have invested a majority of their savings (approximately 60%) into physical assets such as gold and real estate with share of financial assets being lower as compared to developed economies. However, the share of financial assets in savings is increasing over the last 3 years.

Note: The chart indicates split of yearly savings and not consolidated y-o-y savings; data for FY16 not available; The data is for Financial Year (1-Apr to 31-Mar)

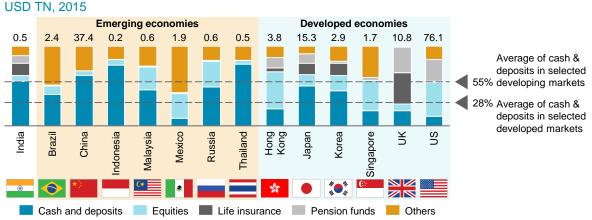

Note: Financial assets refer to financial products such as deposits, cash, equities, insurance and pensions funds. Non-financial assets include precious metals and real estate

Source: RBI, Oliver Wyman proprietary models and analysis

It is expected that the allocation of household savings to financial assets will improve in the medium term driven by

- Improving financial literacy levels: A number of focused programs being run by the regulators towards this cause
- Focus on financial inclusion: Driving financial inclusion has been the focus of numerous initiatives in the recent past such as Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana, linking of Aadhaar card to bank accounts, Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana, Digital India, India Stack, new bank licenses, launch of payment banks and small banks. These initiatives are expected to be instrumental in further pushing financial inclusion and drive a step change in key financial markets indicators
- Ease of access: Supported by boom in the telecom sector (internet and mobiles), as well as the launch of banking services on mobile phones and rise of fin-tech companies that focus on customer experience, it is expected that accessibility of organised financial services will improve dramatically
- Urbanisation: While the India Economic survey estimates proportion of population living in urban areas as approximately 30%, The World Bank Group estimates suggest that there is a sizeable amount of hidden urbanisation. The World Bank Group estimates the share of India's population living in areas with urban-like features is approximately 55%. It is expected that the trend of urbanization will continue at a rapid pace until 2050. This implies that a vast and growing proportion of the population will have access to financial products, thereby enhancing allocation of savings to financial assets
- Greater confidence in the markets: SEBI has taken a number of steps to improve corporate governance and disclosure standards and to curb malpractices such as insider trading. In the medium term, these steps will lead to greater trust and confidence in capital markets

Financial savings in India totalled approximately USD 0.5 TN as of 2015, comprising approximately 56% of bank deposits and only 7% of investments in direct equities. Thus, within financial assets, majority of household savings in India are currently in the form of cash and deposits (approximately 60%). This is in sharp contrast to developed economies where households rely on a mix of equities, pension products, insurance and other financial products. Compared to emerging markets selected (e.g. Brazil, Malaysia), there is a huge scope to broaden the suite of financial products that households invest in. As financial literacy levels improve and per capita savings increase, the allocation of savings into more sophisticated products such as insurance, mutual funds and direct equities is expected to increase.

Within financial services, capital markets specifically have also seen key developments over the past years. Examples of key developments include demutualisation of exchanges in 2002, dematerialisation of equities, emergence of screen based trading owing to the launch of a new technology platform by NSE, introduction of new asset classes and key regulatory changes introduced by SEBI and RBI to further develop the market. These changes have helped capital markets in India grow to their current state.

While comparing capital markets in India to global markets, it is important to understand the nuanced differences between capital markets in India vs global peers. We highlight some salient features of capital markets in India as follows:

- High reliance on banks and NBFCs for corporate funding: Growth of corporates in India has been fuelled by the banking sector to a large extent. The share of corporate loans to total corporate credit is approximately 65%. As the economy matures, it is important that the reliance on bank funding is reduced thus indicating strong potential for growth of capital markets
- Under-developed corporate bond market and nascent (on-exchange) markets for FX and IR derivatives: While equity capital markets in India are well-developed, the corporate bond markets are yet to reach substantial size in primary as well as secondary markets. Corporate bonds outstanding to GDP ratio for India is approximately 13% compared to 21% for China, 28% for Hong Kong, 44% for Malaysia, 32% for Singapore, 75% for Korea. Likewise, exchange based markets for trading of FX derivatives and interest rate derivatives are at early stages of development in India
- Low retail investor participation: Retail investors constitute only approximately 13% of the stock ownership in India. The number of Demat accounts in India is less than 10% of the number of banking accounts. This indicates a strong potential for greater participation of retail investors in Indian capital markets. We expect that improved ease of access to information and to the markets driven by increasing mobile penetration will also play an important role in deepening participation of retail investors in the markets
- Low free float levels: A large number of listed companies in India have significant promoter holding leading to lower free float levels (47% for NSE, 46% for BSE compared to 89% in Bovespa, 66% in HKEx, 80% in JSE, 56% in KRX, 82% for LSE and 90% for NASDAQ). This manifests itself in lower turnover velocity. As the promoters dilute their holdings over time, this will drive greater turnover in the markets

Note: Developed economies (advanced economies) and emerging economies as defined by International Monetary Fund Source: Oliver Wyman analysis

Additional note: In the figure, it is observed that free float levels in Brazil saw a sharp increase from 2010 to 2015 due to decrease in promoter holding of few large corporates which affected the overall free float levels of the market.

Globally, there is variation in mix of turnover by asset class across different economies. In general, advanced economies have a higher share of currency and interest rate derivatives while emerging economies have more of equity and equity derivatives. We observe the following salient features of capital markets in India for each asset class:

Cash equities:

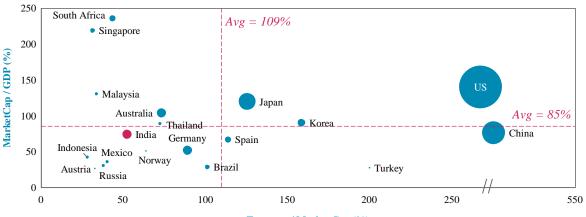

Cash turnover velocity in India has been falling over the past decade (decline from 103% in 2010 to 53% in 2015). At present, India, with cash turnover at 53%, operates around the average of emerging markets.

The market capitalisation to GDP ratio for India is approximately 73% compared to 140% in US, 89% for Korea and 129% for Malaysia. Comparing market capitalisation to GDP ratios across countries is tough since the ratio tends to be very volatile on a y-o-y basis as well as the ratio depends significantly on the nature of the market.

This is a similar trend globally where most of the exchanges have high concentration in terms of liquidity indicating that concentration of liquidity in the top stocks is not an issue unique to Indian exchanges.

Equity derivatives:

The ratio of equity derivatives to cash volumes in India is severely skewed and the skew has only accentuated in the recent years. The strong growth in derivatives segments is driven by growth in index options which have grown by approximately 46% annually since FY09 whereas other derivative products (index futures and equity futures) have grown in the range of 3-13% which is similar to the growth rate of cash equities.

Cash and cash derivatives turnover for India

Additional note: Though annual growth rate of equity options is also approximately 47%, this rapid growth is due to a small base and equity options has the smallest share in total derivatives turnover in India.

The strong growth in index options is driven by regulatory changes and launch of new initiatives. In 2008, the STT (Securities Transaction tax) structure for index options was changed (STT to be levied on option premium instead of option value) which led to a huge surge in volumes for index options. Additionally, the launch of co-location services in 2009 led to a boom in High Frequency Trading in India leading to a sharp growth in index options trading volumes. Also, a number of key indices have been launched in recent years. Launch of Liquidity Enhancement Incentive Programmes (LEIPS) by BSE in 2014 to incentivise derivative traders further boosted the growth in derivative trades, however eventual withdrawal of these incentives led to correction of volume surge caused by the launch of this scheme.

Driven by the fast growth in the derivatives segment, the ratio of 'derivatives to cash' turnover in India has increased substantially in the recent years. In comparison to a number of emerging markets, the equity derivatives markets in India are significantly larger and well-developed.

Others

On the other hand, currency, interest rate and commodity derivatives in India are quite small constituting about 3% of total trade volumes in India due to structural reasons like absence of interlinked bond-currency-derivative nexus, government regulations restricting individuals from participating in the currency markets.

In comparison, these markets constitute a large proportion of turnover in global peers. For example: Russia -57% of total turnover is in FX derivatives, Australia and Canada both have 90%+ turnover in IR derivatives, EU has 59% in IR derivatives and China has 19% in commodities

• Development of corporate bonds market: Development of the corporate bonds market is a key focus area for India. A number of initiatives are envisaged – a prime example being RBI's recent announcement on caps on bank's exposure to large conglomerates. This is also supported by the recent moves from SEBI such as allowing FPIs to trade in the corporate bonds segment directly

Through a number of measures such as financial literacy efforts, simplification of KYC norms, focused initiatives for retail investors, rising investments in insurance and mutual funds, it is expected that retail investor participation in India will grow considerably in the medium term

• Continued FII flows: India remains an attractive investment destination for foreign investors. In addition, a number of government initiatives focusing on enhancing attractiveness of India as an investment destination have been launched recently. It is expected that continued FII flows into India will be a key driver of growth in the medium term

Exchanges are organized markets designed to provide centralized facilities for the listing and trading of financial instruments, including securities issued by companies, sovereigns and other entities to raise capital. The exchange industry is generally supervised by a financial regulatory agency. In some cases, exchanges may also act as a self-regulatory organization responsible for supervising their members and affiliated markets.

Companies running exchanges typically generate the bulk of their revenues by collecting fees from issuers for the listing of their securities, from market members that deal in the financial instruments admitted to trading on the exchange and for selling market data and other technological solutions. The three most traditional sources of revenues for exchange companies are the fees charged on trades, the fees charged for the admission of securities and members and the selling of data captured on these two activities. However, as exchange companies expand along the value change, more sources of income are acquired.

As on March 31, 2016 there are seven stock exchanges in India, of which four are in the process of exiting. Focusing on equity, equity derivatives, currency derivatives and interest rate derivatives segments, the three main exchanges in the Indian market include: National Stock Exchange (NSE), Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) and Metropolitan Stock Exchange of India (MSEI). As of March 31, 2016, there are six recognized national commodities derivatives exchanges and six recognized regional derivatives commodities exchanges.

One of the significant points to note about exchanges in India is that are vertically integrated offering services across the value chain including execution, clearing, settlement and data offerings. In contrast to these, exchange groups in a number of developed markets are fragmented in their service offerings.

Globally, we observe that only 1–2 players dominate the exchange landscape for an asset class in a market with other players, if any, staying insignificant (e.g., Japan, Brazil). New entrants in the market have not been able to establish significant market share even years after their entry (example: MTFs in Europe). Thus liquidity in exchanges is sticky and it is difficult to move market shares unless driven by major technological enhancement (examples: DTB (1990s), ISE (2000s), BATS (2010s))

In India as well, the market shares (by turnover) for each exchange across the key product segments have stayed relatively stable. NSE is the market leader for cash equities (approximately 85% market share as of March 2016), equity derivatives (approximately 94% market share as of March 2016), currency derivatives (approximately 59% market share as of March 2016) and IR derivatives (approximately 79% market share as of March 2016)

Size / Ranking

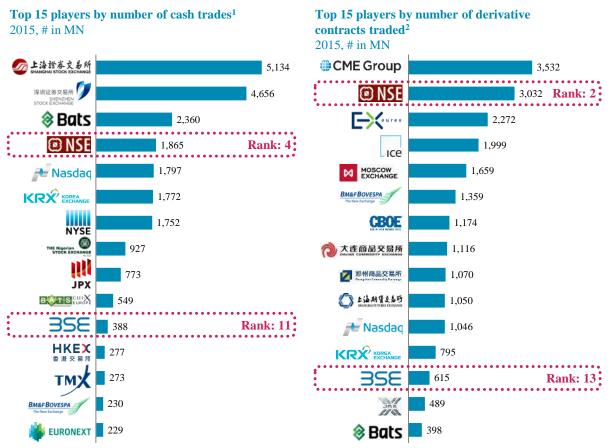

Indian exchanges are amongst the leading exchanges globally in terms of turnover volumes in key asset classes such as cash equities, equity derivatives and currency derivatives.

Figure: Turnover on Indian exchanges in key asset classes is comparable to leading exchanges in developed markets

In the rankings of global exchanges by cash turnover (based on number of trades) as well as for total derivatives turnover (based on number of contracts traded), Indian exchanges are amongst the top 15 players globally.

Products and Services offered

With the exception of pure-play derivatives exchanges (such as CME), almost all exchange groups offer trading in cash equities and bonds, although markets differ widely in terms of market cap, trading volumes and depth of the order book. Most exchange groups also offer trading in derivatives (equity, FX, commodity and interest rate derivatives) with the exception of credit derivatives, which are still largely traded OTC. Across the value chain view, exchanges offer services such as clearing, settlement, custody, depository, registration and safe-keeping. In addition to the above, exchanges offer a broad suite of services – such as data products, indices, technology offerings, securities lending, collateral management and education services.

It is observed that the suite of products and services offered by Indian exchanges is comparable to leading global players

Pricing, revenue and growth mix

It is observed that while leading exchanges in Europe and US have significantly diversified their revenue mix, Indian exchanges still earn bulk of their operating revenues from transactions (execution as well as post-trade). This indicates a strong potential to grow revenues in other areas such as data services, index products and technology offerings. Also, Indian exchanges have a large proportion of revenues attributed to non-core operating areas – such as interest income, investment income and rentals – this is unique to the Indian market.

In terms of revenue growth, it is observed that organic growth levels are similar across geographies and the outperformance of several global exchange groups regarding revenue growth is due to their higher appetite for M&A activities. Corrected for growth due to M&A, growth in Indian players has been in line with global players with NSE having seen the strongest growth in total revenues amongst the selected exchange peer set.

Data business is a reliable revenue source for international stock exchanges, on average accounting for approximately 15-20% of total revenues for stock exchanges in developed economies. In contrast, these emerging growth areas only make up a small proportion of the revenue mix for Indian exchanges indicating a strong potential for growth.

At the same time, pricing for transaction execution and post-trade services is the lowest for Indian exchanges compared to international peers. The estimated full value chain transaction fees for cash equities is 0.3 bps at NSE compared to 1.3 bps at SET, 3.6 bps at Bursa Malaysia, 3.8 bps at SGX and 1.5 bps at LSE (source: Oliver Wyman analysis). Thus there is limited downside risk on pricing since Indian exchanges already operate at most competitive levels.

Cost drivers

Exchange groups operate with different cost and pricing schemes and also deliver varying levels of liquidity. Comparing the operating costs to revenues of exchanges globally, it is observed that Indian exchanges operate towards the lower end of cost to income ratios. In terms of break-up of costs across various drivers, the share of employee costs is the lowest for Indian exchanges compared to global peers. On an operating cost per trade basis as well, Indian exchanges are amongst the most efficient exchanges globally.

Most exchange groups are highly profitable companies with EBITDA margins on the order of 50%. On profitability metrics, Indian exchanges are comparable to global peers.

Technical parameters

A number of technical parameters are of critical importance for exchanges – examples of such parameters include latencies, messages per second capacity, uptime (%), recovery time and frequency of outages. Data on such technical parameters is not available in the public domain for a large number of exchanges. On certain factors where data is available, the differentiation across exchanges is minimal – for example, most leading global exchanges have uptime achievements of >99%, with some exchanges already targeting 99.99% uptime.

While outages for exchanges are a rare occurrence, in the last 3 years Indian exchanges had lower number of outages (NSE - 0, BSE - 1) compared to some global peers (SGX - 4, DBG - 2, NASDAQ - 1, CME - 1).

Regulatory norms

Post the global financial crises, market infrastructure entities have been at the centre of regulatory attention in EU and US. Especially on the post-trade side, a sea-change in regulations (Basel III, EMIR, T2S and CSD regulation) is expected to profoundly impact the post-trade landscape. At the same time, some regulatory moves, such as the G20 agreement on OTC derivatives, have also helped in boosting exchanges revenue pools.

While the global regulations on exchanges have increased significantly, SEBI has kept pace with the emerging regulatory best practices for market infrastructures. As a result, drastic changes in the regulations governing exchanges in India are not expected.

International presence

International presence is an important factor in the business of exchange groups and has the following key impacts:

- All leading global exchange groups have an international presence (more than one continent);
- International presence is observed to be a key differentiator in terms of revenue size, with expansion beyond a certain size only possible through internationalization.
- Strategies for 'internationalisation' vary significantly by size of the exchange group. Large groups often choose M&A as a means to expand internationally. As smaller exchange groups are restricted in their M&A possibilities, they turn to partnerships and JVs to the same end. A further way for smaller exchange groups to internationalize is to consolidate with neighbouring markets.

Indian exchanges have significant potential to follow patterns of peers internationally forming further exchange links or JVs, or other means to tap into regional / international revenue pools.

Outlook for addressable market for Indian exchanges

*See additional note to readers on page 116.

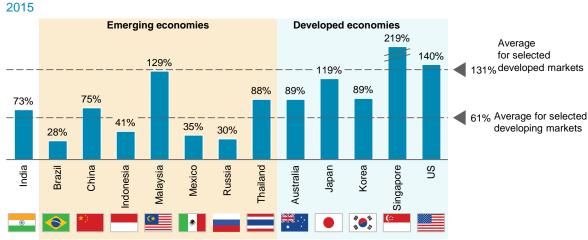

Driven by the strong growth in Indian economy and developments in capital markets, it is expected that key asset classes will see further growth in turnover in the coming year.

Cash equities

High level comparison of key ratios such as market cap to GDP and turnover velocity indicate a significant headroom for growth for cash equities turnover in India

The estimation of outlook for turnover of cash equities in India can be done by using four parameters:

- GDP (growth in nominal GDP): A number of independent agencies provide an estimate of growth in nominal GDP in India over the next 5 years estimates ranging 10-12% growth in nominal GDP. However, based on past data, it is observed that there is often significant variance in forecasted vs. actual GDP growth. As a result, to maintain a conservative estimate, a haircut of 20% is applied on the growth forecasts from various agencies. So for the sake of estimating turnover in cash equities, we consider that nominal GDP in India is estimated to grow at 8-10% over the next 5 years.
- Market capitalization as % of GDP: Historically, market capitalisation to GDP has been a very volatile ratio making it difficult to predict a trend between market cap and GDP.

Note: Market capitalisation for BSE taken as proxy for India market cap, data as of December end Source: CEIC Data Company Limited, Economist Intelligence Unit

However, it is observed that 5-year CAGR for market capitalisation to GDP broadly follows a cyclical pattern as per the economic conditions. Also, it is observed that the time period of each turn (upward or downward) is approximately 5-7 years.

Source: CEIC Data Company Limited, Economist Intelligence Unit

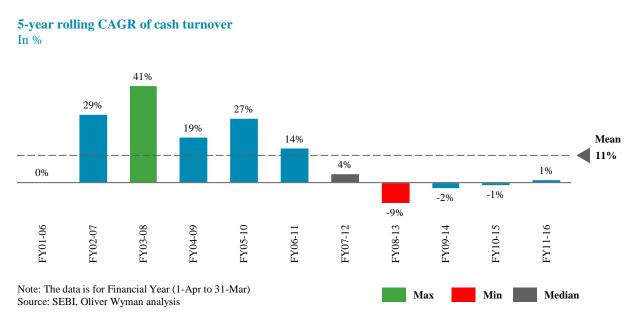

It is observed from the above figure that market capitalisation to GDP in India is on the upward trend at the moment. We estimate that in the next five years, market cap to GDP stays flat (i.e. 0% CAGR) or experience modest growth (1-2% CAGR).

- Free float as % of market capitalization: Driven by SEBI's raising of minimum public shareholding to 25%, promoter holding has been on a decline. As a result, free float levels in India have been rising and have been around 40% since 2013. With the planned disinvestment of government stake in PSUs, free float levels may rise further in the coming years. However, as observed in the past, the disinvestment process is slow and may take years. Additionally, absolute free float can increase if the number of securities listed on an exchange increase. It is observed that 2016 has seen a large number of IPOs adding a significant value on Indian stock exchanges. Though increasing number of IPOs will contribute to rising values of free float in India, free float as % of market cap is not expected to grow any further. Hence, as a conservative estimate, it is expected that free float levels will remain constant and not rise further over the next 5 years.
- Cash turnover as % of free float: Turnover velocity corrected for free float in India observed a steep decline during FY11. This steep decline was caused by taxation changes in Securities Transaction Tax (STT). During FY11, STT was started to be calculated on option premium instead of notional value leading to huge surge in options turnover and diminishing cash turnover velocity. In recent years, turnover velocity corrected for free float has been relatively stable at approximately 110-115% In absence of further regulatory changes, a further decline in cash turnover velocity (corrected for free float) is not anticipated.

Using the above estimates, it is observed that turnover for cash equities has a potential to grow at 8-12% over the next 5 years (marginally better than the estimated GDP growth rates).

To test the robustness of this estimate, this estimate has been compared with historical growth rate in cash turnover over the past 15 years. Rolling 5-year CAGR rates have been calculated and various metrics have been calculated to test the estimate.

From the above graph, it is evident that the estimated potential in cash turnover growth at 8-12% is well within the average historical growth rate observed.

Trends supporting growth in cash markets

It is observed that the estimated potential for growth in cash markets is supported by number of trends observed in the market. These trends include increasing retail participation, greater financial literacy and penetration of capital markets products, regulatory initiatives, ease of technological access, plans for divestment, rising free float levels, expected surge in IPOs, capital requirements for SMEs and mid-corporates, strong investor confidence in India

Potential risks to growth in cash markets

Alongside these drivers, it is important to note that there are certain risks which may impact the growth of the capital markets in India.

a. HFT regulations – explained in details below.

High Frequency Trading is algorithmic based trading that uses powerful computers to enter and exit positions at very high frequency. Globally, share of HFT in cash volumes lies in the range of 20-30% with the exception of US and Japan where HFT drives approximately 50% of total cash turnover. The reason for relatively low share of HFT in cash turnover for some developed economies is high degree of statutory levies which makes HFT unattractive.

In India, HFT has seen increasing popularity over the past few years leading to a surge in both cash and derivative markets. It is estimated that HFT drives $\sim 25\%$ of the turnover for cash equities and $\sim 36\%$ of the turnover in the derivatives segment.

SEBI released a discussion paper on strengthening the regulatory framework for HFT in August 2016. The paper proposes seven potential measures to regulate HFT – these include minimum resting time, banning of tick-by-tick data sharing, randomisation of orders, auctions instead of continuous markets, redesign of queuing practices, increase in minimum tick size, and restriction on colocation. It is difficult to predict the nature of HFT regulations that may be implemented in India at this stage. However, taking cues from global regulations which have focused more on risk management, and various options discussed in the paper released by SEBI, it is estimated that regulatory changes can impact anywhere between 0% (negligible impact) of HFT volumes to more than 40% of HFT volumes (high impact).

- b. Change due to General Anti-Avoidance Rules GAAR is the anti-tax avoidance regulation in India. Government of India recently amended the tax treaty with Mauritius to levy taxes on capital gains made on equity transactions made via Mauritius on or after 1 April 2017. Similarly, tax treaty with Singapore (Mauritius and Singapore are the top two sources of foreign investments in India constituting more than 50% of FDI inflows to the country in 2015) is also under review and is likely to be amended soon. This move may deter foreign investments in the market dampening volumes
- c. Tightening of FII regulations / investment limits: FIIs constituted to about 18% of total turnover in cash market in March 2016. At the same time, their share in derivatives was close to 10% of total client turnover. Though unlikely, any tightening of restrictions on foreign investors' participation in Indian capital markets will not only have a direct negative impact on turnover driven by FIIs, but will also have a trickle-down effect on the overall market causing a steep decline in the volumes on Indian exchanges

Historically, ratio of futures turnover to cash turnover has been gradually increasing. However, the ratio has been stable at approximately 2.5 over the past couple of years. As a conservative estimate, it is estimated that the ratio of futures to cash will remain same over the next 5 years. This results in an estimate of annual growth rate of 8-12% for futures over the next 5 years for equity futures turnover.

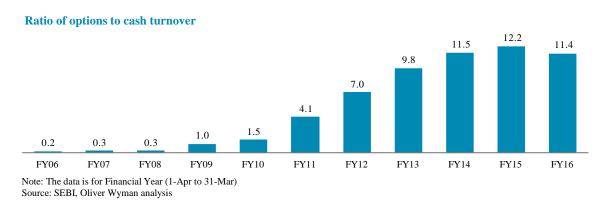

Source: SEBI, Oliver Wyman analysis

Since the growth of equity futures is tied to growth of cash equity markets, the drivers that will support the growth of cash markets will also help drive the growth of equity futures. In terms of risks, the risks that could impact the growth in futures have been discussed along with risks to growth of options.

Equity options

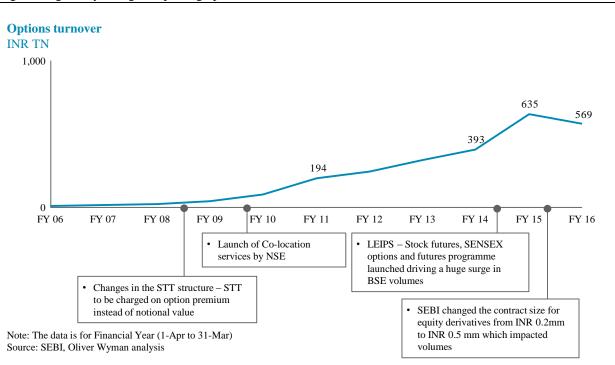

Similar to futures, estimation of addressable market size for options can be done based on estimation of market size for cash equities. Over the past decade, ratio of options to cash turnover has been steadily increasing.

This rise has been caused due to sharp spike in options volume which in turn is largely driven by 'one-time' regulatory changes and launch of new initiatives.

As a result of these regulatory changes and new initiatives, options to cash turnover ratio for India is an outlier among peer countries.

India 12 10 11 0 0 2006 2007 2008 2009 2010 2011 2012 2013 2014 2015 Brazil 2.1 2.0 2.0 1.9 1.9 1.6 1.5 1.3 1.3 1.2 2006 2007 2008 2009 2010 2011 2012 2013 2014 2015 Mexico 0.03 0.03 0.02 0.02 0.01 0.01 0.01 0.01 0.01 0.01 2006 2007 2008 2009 2010 2011 2012 2013 2014 2015 Source: WFE, Oliver Wyman analysis

Considering the absence of any further 'one-time' changes and the current disproportionate high levels of options as compared to cash turnover, it is expected that the options turnover will see a correction in the near term to stabilise at around FY13 levels. As a result, it is estimated that turnover in equity options has potential to grow annually by 6-10% over the

Similar to growth in equity futures market, growth in equity options is tied to the growth in cash markets and thus drivers of growth in cash markets will support the growth in equity options markets as well. In terms of risks, it is observed that in addition to risks affecting growth of cash markets, which may impact the growth of derivative markets, there are additional risks that may impact the growth of derivative markets in India:

- a. Change in contract size for derivatives: Indian securities regulator, SEBI, recently increased the minimum investment size for any equity derivative from existing INR 0.2 mm to INR 0.5 mm. This step is estimated to have led to a significant decline in derivative volumes, prompting the exchanges to launch incentives to boost volumes. It is expected that as exchanges withdraw incentives, derivatives turnover can see a sharp correction in the near-medium term. (source: Exchange disclosures, Oliver Wyman research and analysis)
- b. Changes to taxation regulations: Earlier this year, central government increased the securities transaction tax (STT) on options three-fold from existing 0.017% to 0.05% which led to an estimated decline of approximately 5% in options volumes. It is observed that increase in STT leads to a wider bid-ask spread reducing the liquidity of the market thus negatively impacting the volumes. Though, this particular change in taxation is small in absolute terms, and markets were able to recover quickly from its impact, increase in taxes decreases the overall attractiveness of derivative markets in India and any further increase in taxes may cause a permanent decline in the derivative volumes in India (source: Exchange disclosures, Oliver Wyman research and analysis)

Other asset classes

While cash equities and equity derivatives will be the key drivers of growth for market infrastructures in coming years, other asset classes including currency, interest rate and commodity derivatives, bonds and ETFs are also expected to witness a strong growth. Developed economies have large portion of their turnover coming from trade of currency and interest rate (IR) derivatives. However, India has small turnover for FX and IR derivatives due to a number of structural reasons such as absence of bond markets, restrictions on participation (includes outright bans (e.g., resident individuals could not participate in currency markets until recently) or regulatory restrictions on some kinds of activities (for example, banks are prohibited from adopting long positions on interest rate futures)).

a. Currency derivatives

In FY14, SEBI tightened exposure limits in FX derivatives to check large scale speculation and avoid the fall in rupee value which led to a sharp decline in trade volume in currency derivatives. However, it is expected that going forward, the markets will grow further on the back of growth drivers and achieve a sizeable market in next 5-7 years.

Growth in FX derivative segments will be driven by greater 'globalisation' of Indian economy leading to greater need for hedging, greater participation of FIIs, stable rupee levels and reduced capital controls (causing shifting of overseas Non Derivative Fund volumes to onshore).

Figure: FX derivatives turnover on exchanges in India is a significant proportion of imports / exports compared to global peers (OTC trading dominates in FX derivatives)

While there is a risk of restrictions on FII participation in FX derivatives markets in India, it is expected that growth drivers will help FX derivatives market in India to potentially grow at an annual rate of 10-15%. It is observed that a number of enablers will be required to support the strong growth in currency derivatives market. These include:

- Regulatory response strategies: Due to a perceived rise in speculative trading in currency futures which led to fall in rupee levels, SEBI placed limits on trading of FX derivatives in FY14 which led to a decline in trading volumes. Though the SEBI restrictions were removed once the rupee levels stabilised and the volumes are back to an upward trajectory, continued stability of rupee levels (as compared to a fall driven by speculative trading) will be required to avoid future regulatory intervention and ensure continued growth in volumes
- Ease in regulations on ECB: RBI is taking initiatives to relax regulations to develop currency derivative markets in India. Recent example includes relaxation of cap on External Commercial Borrowings from USD 500 mm to USD 750 mm. This allows firms to raise larger amounts in foreign currencies creating a stronger need for currency risk hedging leading to a stronger demand for FX derivatives. These continued initiatives are required to help grow the currency derivative markets in India
- Ease of foreign investor participation in Indian currency markets: Foreign investors could only participate in currency markets in India to hedge an underlying exposure. In 2014, RBI changed this regulation to allow foreign investors to participate in currency derivative markets in India to the extent of USD 10 mm without any underlying exposures which was further increased to USD 15 mm in 2015. This gradual relaxation of norms for foreign investor participation in currency markets will be crucial for development of currency markets in India
- Increase in trading time: India allows currency trades in four currency pairs: USD-INR, GBP-INR, EUR-INR, and JPY-INR. Due to time zone differences, there are often significant developments that impact the currency markets after trading has closed for the day in India. As a result, investors trading on Indian exchanges lose out on an opportunity to trade based on these developments. Increasing trading time on Indian exchanges to allow investors to make the most of these developments will encourage greater participation leading to higher volumes.
- Introducing new cross-currency pairs: RBI introduced three new cross-currency pairs (GBP-INR, EUR-INR, and JPY-INR) last year which led to an increase in volumes in currency markets. Introduction of more cross-currency pairs which are in demand among investors will also help push the volumes further

b. Interest rate derivatives

On the other hand, interest rate derivatives in India have a small base and have a potential to grow strongly in the next five years.

Figure: Compared to global peers, interest rate derivatives turnover in India is very low

Growth in interest rates derivative segments will be driven by lifting of restrictions pertaining to IR derivatives trading and establishment of arbitrage free yield curve. Additionally, it is observed that following enablers will be required support growth of interest rate derivatives market in India:

- Launch of more tenures in interest rate futures: currently, IRFs are permitted on 6-, 10- and 13-year government securities and 91-day treasury bills. Introduction of more tenures will provide greater flexibility to participants to choose a product suitable to them increasing volumes
- Development of bonds market in India: IRFs are mainly used by holders of government bonds to hedge their interest rate risks. A developed bonds market will help IR derivatives market to grow as well
- Relaxation of participation in IR derivatives market: The restrictions on participation in IR derivatives market have been gradually relaxed with participation of FIIs and retail investors now permitted. However, most entities can only participate in the IR derivatives market to hedge interest rate risk. Gradual relaxation of these restrictions will be crucial for development of IR derivatives market in India
- Focus from regulators to develop the market: Both RBI and SEBI have taken been taking active measures to develop the IR derivatives market in India. These initiatives need to continue to fuel further growth of IR derivatives market

As a result, it is estimated that IR derivatives market in India has a potential to grow at annual rate of 15-20% over the next 5 years.

c. Commodity derivatives

India commodity derivative market has seen a sharp decline since seeing its peak in FY12 due to imposition of commodities trading tax (CTT) of 0.01% on derivatives trading in non-agricultural commodities in 2013. We expect that a number of initiatives launched by regulators will be key enablers for the growth of commodity derivative markets in India:

- Increased focus of government on price discovery of agricultural produce
- Potential disruptive growth in turnover of agricultural derivatives due to adoption of e-mandi model
- Guidance from RBI to banks to manage commodities risk of borrowers for agricultural commodities

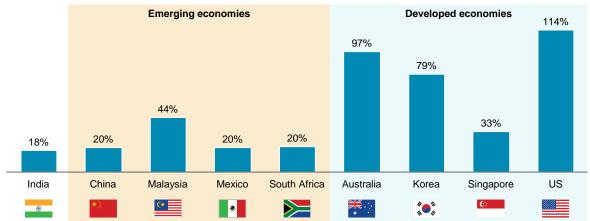

However, there is a risk that primary focus of regulator in the near term may be more on risk management (as opposed to market development). As a result, it is estimated that market for commodities derivatives in India will witness a growth of 0-10% over the next 5 years.

d. Corporate bonds

Compared to emerging markets and developed market peers, corporate bond markets in India are small in terms of outstanding issuances as well as turnover

Source: Asia Bond Monitor, SEBI

A number of initiatives launched by the regulators will be the key enablers for growth of corporate bond markets in India:

- Introduction of an electronic auction platform by SEBI for primary debt offers to develop an enabling eco system for private placement market for corporate bonds
- RBI has released guidelines to encourage large corporates to access a certain portion of their financing needs through capital markets instead of the banking channel
- Expansion of investment basket of foreign portfolio investors to include debt securities
- Hike in partial credit enhancement RBI has increased partial credit enhancement for corporate bonds from 20% to 50%
- RBI is in the process of drafting guidelines to accept corporate bonds as collateral for RBI's liquidity adjustment facility operations
- Set-up of a dedicated fund by LIC of India to provide credit enhancement to infrastructure projects. The fund will help in raising the credit rating of bonds floated by infrastructure companies and will facilitate investment from long term investors
- Development of a complete repository for corporate bonds, covering both primary and secondary market segments in plans by RBI and SEBI

If implemented well, these initiatives could reduce the reliance on the banking system and establish a robust avenue for corporate funding. However, there is a risk that ongoing emphasis on building exchange traded derivatives (ETD) market for credit and credit derivatives may dilute the focus on debt market. As a result of these drivers and risk factors, it is estimated that the bonds market in India has a potential to grow at an annual growth rate of 5-10% over the next 5 years. For India to witness a stronger growth in corporate bond markets, as explained earlier, regulators will have to push initiatives for development of the debt market in India.

e. ETFs

ETF market in India is still in its nascent stage with most of equity ETFs launched within the past couple of years. While Gold ETFs formed a major part of underlying AUM, they have seen a decline in the recent years causing a decline in ETF volumes. However, driven by pickup of equity ETFs and increasing awareness of ETFs in the market, ETF volumes have grown in 2015 and are expected to grow further driven by regulatory initiatives.

A number of initiatives launched by the regulators will be key enablers for the growth of ETFs market in India:

- Government's plan to use ETFs to operationalise divestment of its stake in state-owned firms and other corporate entities
- SEBI's initiative to clear ETFs quicker than mutual funds
- Lower annual expense ratio for ETFs as compared to mutual funds

However, there is a risk that ETFs market may not see substantial growth due to lack of proactive regulator initiatives to develop the ETF market. With these drivers and risk factors, it is estimated that ETF market in India has a potential to grow at 0-5% over the next 5 years.

Outlook for growth by services

Indian exchanges have a strong presence in services and service offerings which is expected to grow further bolstering total revenue of Indian exchanges.

Table: Outlook for services

Services	FY 16 revenues	Growth outlook	Estimated potential CAGR (%)
a. Listing services	INR 2.4 BN		15–20%
b. Data services	INR 0.86 BN		15–20%
c. Index products and services	INR 0.6 ¹ BN		15–20%

Note: Revenues calculated using revenues of BSE and NSE (the two largest exchanges in India), unless otherwise specified;

1. Based on revenues of NSE as BSE revenues not available in public domain; source: annual reports

a. Listing services

Indian economy looks towards having more IPOs in the future driven by strong economic fundamentals, favourable policy climate and strong investor confidence. This is expected to drive the growth of listing revenues for Indian exchanges. In terms of revision to fee schedule, considering that there has been a revision recently, another revision to fee schedule in not expected in near future. With this, it is expected that listing fees in India will potentially grow at 15-20% over the next 5 years.

b. Data services

Data revenues in the Indian market have grown steadily at 14% CAGR over the past 5 years. However, data revenues are still under-leveraged as compared to other global peers indicating potential for strong upside.

Developed economies (advanced economies) and emerging economies as defined by International Monetary Fund
 The data is for the financial reporting cycle for respective exchanges: NSE, BSE – Year ended March; SGX – year ended June for rest of the exchanges year ended December
 Source: Annual reports

It is expected that the market for data revenues in India will exhibit a strong growth in the coming years driven by opportunities to launch new product offerings and increased focus on driving data related revenues. However, two specific risks remain which may pose challenges for growth in data services: I) Reluctance to pay fees for data services in the Indian market; ii) Competition from global players (e.g. Bloomberg) as well as domestic exchanges and other data businesses.

Overall, it is estimated that market data revenues will maintain their past growth rate and potential to grow annually by 15-20%.

c. Index services

Historically, index products and services in India has been a growing segment with main revenue coming from licensing fee for usage of indices as an underlying for different products like index funds, ETFs and other structured financial products. Though, over the years, index licensing outside India has also been a major driver of revenue growth.

Globally, the market for index products and services is split between a few leading specialist index players and index businesses of banks and exchanges.

It is expected that revenues from index services can further grow for the Indian market by expanding product offering to beyond equities. With this, it is expected that revenues from index services will potentially grow at 15-20% over the next 5 years.

Emerging growth opportunities

Over the past couple of years, different steps of the market infrastructure value chain have seen different revenue pool growth. The different steps of the infrastructure value chain include solutions and services around data, the building of utilities (e.g. around areas of post-trade) and solutions around collateral management. The development of international financial centres and the advent of disruptive trading platforms and technologies are further topics highlighted in this context.

Data related services and solutions

Currently, revenues from data services make up a small proportion of revenues for Indian exchanges (approximately 3%). This is significantly lower than the share of revenues from data services at peer exchanges – ranging from 5-7% for emerging market exchanges (IDX, Bursa Malaysia, BM&F Bovespa, SET) and 10-35% for developed market exchanges (DBAG, SGX, KRX, LSE, NYSE, NASDAQ). On average, data business is a reliable revenue source for international stock exchanges, accounting for approximately 15-20% of total revenues for stock exchanges in developed economies. Similarly, index services have been a key area of focus for global exchanges. These products and offerings are under-developed in India and represent a key area for future growth opportunity.

Regarding market and reference data, most developed exchange groups have introduced sophisticated products to provide value-add to their clients and mitigate the risk of market data commoditization. This includes products that bundle data from multiple exchanges, innovative delivery methods (e.g. portals/apps) and customized solutions.

Exchanges without international reach and/or relatively small market cap are increasingly looking to launch international or specialist indices in cooperation with globally established index providers. This also opens up opportunities for trading of the corresponding ETFs on their platforms.

Most advanced exchange groups have expanded their product portfolio into the analytics/tools part of the market data value chain. This includes portfolio and risk management tools (mostly for the buy-side) as well as charting, pricing and technical analysis tools.

The broadened offering helps these peers to better serve their clients' needs and diversify/stabilize their revenue base. In the Indian market, growth opportunities exist in all areas around data distribution and advanced analysis/data products.

Utility building

Changing market conditions on both supply and demand side in capital markets create a strong rationale for alternative sourcing models. On one hand, market infrastructure industry now has the ability to address the need for simplification and mutualisation. On the other hand, there is a burning platform for change, especially for regional/domestic exchanges and Investment banks that lack scale to reach a competitive cost-per-trade compared to Tier one banks. The European players Clearstream/Eurex Clearing and Euroclear can serve as templates for services to add around the settlement step of securities transactions, as can "securities transactions banks" such as dwpbank in Germany, or similar services now offered by a joint venture partnership of Broadridge and Accenture.

For the Indian exchanges, there may be opportunities for value-added services around corporate action processing both on the corporate and the bank-side.

Collateral management

Globally, structural deepening of rates and FX futures markets is expected to drive listed derivative volumes upwards, nearly doubling by 2018. Bilateral trades experience the largest increase in collateral requirements as regulation bites; futurization will also shift collateral to exchanges. Europe and the US are expected to experience similar degrees of futurization by 2018, while Asia lags in both markets due to a delayed regulatory timeline. The global stock of highly-rated collateral is sufficient to meet higher demands, but clients will need increased support in accessing it.

Collateral management is one of the areas where opportunities for MI players exist – globally as well as in India. While regulations in India may not yet require sophisticated collateral management services to the same extent as in Europe or the US, Indian exchange groups can initiate capability building efforts for such services.

International Financial Centres

Exchange groups depend on their domestic market environment, but eventually also on their potential to attract international business such as ties to the operations of major banks that set up shop in International Financial Centres (IFCs) and international bonds or funds listings from large corporates that operate globally.

Market infrastructures in emerging economies are therefore showing increased interest in supporting regional or national governments in their efforts to increase the visibility of their main hubs as IFCs.

In India, of all the IFCs being planned, considerations have advanced the furthest for GIFT city initiative in Gujarat. While RBI and SEBI have specified regulations for setting up International Banking Units and market infrastructures, a number of key areas remain to be addressed for GIFT City to be successful – for example, introduction of capital account convertibility, clearance of bankruptcy laws and rationalization of tax structures. If these pre-requisites are addressed, the revenue potential from an IFC like GIFT city can be sizable.

Disruptive trading platforms and technologies

Last but not least, the exchange landscape is undergoing technological change in several aspects. New technologies such as block-chain are poised to overhaul parts of the trading value chain. Markets are becoming more fragmented in developed markets as banks launching their own alternative trading systems (dark pools) and increasing numbers of exchanges and other trading facilities opening for business. Similarly, some exchange groups are developing to become technology providers for others.

All of these trends can play out in the Indian market and can be used by the incumbent exchange groups to their advantage if they act swiftly and decisively.

We have a strong track record of growth alongside the Indian economy. Our NIFTY 50 index, a well-recognized and widelyused indicator of market activity in India, increased from 5,295.55 points as of March 31, 2012 to 7,738.40 points and 8,611.15 points as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively, demonstrating the strong recent growth of the Indian capital markets. We have adopted real-time risk monitoring for trading on our exchange. Our launches of electronic, screen-based trading in 1994 and derivatives trading (in the form of index futures) were each the first of their kind in India. We launched internet trading in 2000, electronic filing system for listed companies, direct market access, co-location facilities and our mutual fund trading platform in 2009 and mobile trading for investors in 2010.

We have a strong balance sheet and have accumulated significant financial resources which provide us with strategic flexibility to grow our business. Our consolidated net worth attributable to equity shareholders was ₹ 68,676.7 million and ₹ 70,574.7 million as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively, compared to ₹ 52,660.0 million as of March 31, 2012. We have a large and diversified long-term investment portfolio that totalled ₹ 39,230.5 million and ₹ 34,804.2 million as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively. Use have a large and diversified long-term investment portfolio that totalled ₹ 39,230.5 million and ₹ 34,804.2 million as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016, respectively. Our investment policy is governed by the SEBI guidelines, which limits our exposure to certain classes of assets that may be exposed to greater degrees of risk. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations – Key Components of Our Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit & Loss – Income – Income from Investments" and "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – Declines in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position" on pages 437 and 23, respectively.

Our diversified business model reduces our dependence on our trading business. In fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, 37.3% and 36.8% of our revenue from operations, respectively, were generated from sources other than our trading services and income from investments of deposits received from trading members, including annual listing fees, revenues from our data feed and index businesses and rack space rental and connectivity charges related to co-location services. These sources have generally provided us with predictable sources of revenue from year to year. Though diversified, our businesses are complementary, allowing us to leverage strong performance in individual products to increase our revenue streams throughout our vertically-integrated value chain.

Experienced and skilled management team

Our management team has extensive experience in financial market operations with a demonstrated ability to innovate and grow our business. Our management has strong sector-specific operational and management expertise and an understanding of the key opportunities and risks associated with our industry and our business. Our management team is supported by our Board of Directors, which has extensive executive leadership experience in the public and private sectors across business, regulation and technology.

We have implemented management training, development and progression plans to support our long-term operations. We periodically rotate members of our management team and non-management employees to different departments or businesses, which we believe contributes to the integration of our model and facilitates innovation.

Our Business Strategies

We seek to maintain the market leadership position of our exchange through the following strategies:

Diversify our product and service offerings and maintain new product innovation and development

We intend to further diversify our product and service offerings in our trading and non-trading businesses through innovation and investment in high-growth areas of our businesses.

Changes in listing and trading regulations by the GoI have in the past created, and may create future opportunities for us to introduce new products for trading on our exchange. For example, we have focused on increasing our listings of ETFs since the GoI eased its regulations in August 2015 to permit greater investment in ETFs by provident funds. The SEBI has promulgated regulations for the listing of real estate investment trusts, or REITs, and infrastructure investment trusts, or InvITs, and may authorize new investment products in the future, creating new opportunities for us to offer trading in new asset classes, particularly in our cash market. We also have numerous new products under development for which we are awaiting the SEBI's approval to launch, particularly in our derivatives business.

We believe that there is strong growth potential for our debt cash market as the majority of fixed income trading activity in India is still concentrated in the OTC market. The GoI is focused on growing India's debt capital market and the Working Group on Development of Corporate Bond Market in India issued recommendations to improve the regulatory framework for

India's debt market in its August 2016 report. In anticipation of greater interest in fixed income trading in the future, in June 2016, we launched our NSE Electronic Debt Bidding platform for private placement issuances of fixed income securities.

We are actively evaluating potential new opportunities in our index and data feed businesses to build on our established NIFTY indices and market data offerings. For example, we plan to continue licensing our NIFTY indices for use as benchmarks for derivative and other structured products listed in India and globally. We also plan to explore opportunities to broaden our data product offerings to remain competitive in the market data industry. In addition, our Subsidiary, DotEx, was selected by the Central Registry of Securitization Asset Reconstruction and Security Interest of India, or CERSAI, as the managed service provider for CERSAI's central KYC registry, which was launched in July 2016.

Our vertically-integrated business model also presents opportunities for cross-selling between our business lines and throughout the value chain. We remain focused on encouraging more of our exchange members to trade in multiple categories of assets on our exchange, attracting our financial education clients to our exchange, marketing our index and data products to our more sophisticated traders and pursuing other cross-selling opportunities that our business model creates.

In our commercial technology business, we plan to develop new offerings focused on IT-enabled management services and analytics as a service. We anticipate our products and services will support product excellence, digital transformation, cloud and total outsourcing and cyber security and intelligence, particularly among banking and financial services clients. We may also seek out inorganic growth opportunities, including in the areas of digital transformation and technology security services.

We are focused on improving liquidity on our exchange by attracting new issuers, strengthening our domestic investor base and making our exchange more accessible to foreign investors. We plan to target new types of issuers looking to access the Indian capital markets to list on our exchange. For example, we launched our EMERGE and EMERGE-ITP platforms to provide tailored listing alternatives for Indian SMEs seeking access to capital. We are reaching out to state governments to recommend the launch of SME-focused investment funds to expand the institutional investor base and attract more SMEs to our platforms. We conduct financial education workshops through NSE Academy to develop a new generation of investors. As the regulatory environment in India changes, we intend to diversify our listing acquisition campaigns to target new categories of issuers that become eligible for public listings in India. By continuously enhancing the quality of our exchange, we will also seek to encourage Indian companies listed or considering listing abroad to instead list on our exchange.

Our strategy to strengthen our investor base is focused on accommodating the evolving trading needs and expectations of institutional and other sophisticated traders and investors. We have rolled out co-location facilities on our premises and provide direct market access connections to our trading systems. We are in the process of further modernizing our trading infrastructure for algorithmic and high-volume trading and expanding our suite of derivative products. In addition, we plan to regularly update our trading terminals and internet and mobile browser-based trading platforms to further improve reliability and trade execution.

We seek to attract additional foreign investors to our exchange and to become the domestic exchange of choice for foreign investors looking to access the Indian capital markets. We offer foreign investors access to Indian corporates, including all companies that comprise our NIFTY 50 index, and we have expanded our index and currency derivatives offerings to provide foreign investors with more opportunities to gain exposure to the Indian capital markets. We expect to continue our international marketing efforts in select markets, which in the past have entailed participation in conferences, trade shows, roadshows and meetings with institutional investors in Singapore, Hong Kong, New York and London. We have also sought approval from the U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission in August 2007, which we updated in December 2015, to expand our marketing and customer acquisition efforts in the United States and plan to explore additional opportunities to increase our international footprint and outreach.

Finally, we continuously evaluate and refine our pricing strategy for each class of assets traded on our exchange and offer incentive schemes for individual asset classes from time to time.

Maintain and upgrade infrastructure and technology

We believe that our advanced electronic systems for trade execution and post-trade services are our competitive strength. We are committed to continually improving our core IT capabilities and platform infrastructure in order to maintain our systems' reliability, performance and security and enhance our customers' experience. We have regularly allocated substantial resources towards upgrading our information technology systems and infrastructure, with the over-arching goals of achieving higher capacity and lower latency, improving market efficiency and transparency, enhancing user access and providing flexibility for future business growth and market needs. We continually monitor and add processing capacity to safeguard against system disruptions during periods of high trading activity. We also seek to increase trading volume and turnover by optimizing our trading platforms to improve efficiency and reduce costs.

We plan to develop and implement initiatives to maintain and improve our system infrastructure and technology and our front- and back-end functions in response to technological developments, customer demand and competitive pressures. We are working toward integrating FinTech innovations into our businesses, including distributed ledger and block chain technology, big data analytics and machine learning. We participated in Hyperledger's Open Source Forum for blockchain technologies, are pursuing FinTech collaborations with third parties and plan to continue investing in technology innovation and working to bring FinTech-driven solutions to market in the future.

Pursue additional partnerships and collaborations in the global exchange ecosystem

We intend to further increase our brand recognition and diversify our product and service offerings by pursuing partnerships and collaborations with other leading global stock exchanges, market participants, technology providers and financial institutions throughout the global exchange ecosystem.

We have entered into cross-listing and licensing arrangements with the Singapore Exchange, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the Osaka Exchange and the TAIFEX to provide for trading of derivatives benchmarked to our NIFTY 50 index and other NIFTY indices on foreign exchanges. As a result of these partnerships, derivatives benchmarked to NIFTY indices are traded on four exchanges around the world, including U.S. Dollar denominated futures linked to our NIFTY 50, NIFTY Bank, NIFTY IT, NIFTY CPSE and NIFTY Midcap 50 indices traded on the Singapore Exchange, U.S. Dollar denominated futures linked to our NIFTY 50 futures traded on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Yen-denominated NIFTY 50 futures traded on the Osaka Exchange and New Taiwan Dollar denominated NIFTY 50 futures traded on the TAIFEX. Also in 2016, 6 ETFs linked to NIFTY indices were launched in international markets, including Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea. As of September 30, 2016, ETFs linked to NIFTY indices were listed on 17 exchanges in 15 countries.

Our arrangements with international stock exchanges also contribute to the liquidity of our markets. For example, our collaboration with the Chicago Mercantile Exchange enables us to offer Rupee-denominated derivatives benchmarked to the S&P 500® and the Dow Jones Industrial AverageTM on our exchange. Our non-NIFTY index derivatives turnover were ₹ 77,604,283.4 million and ₹ 111,933,910.1 million in fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, compared to ₹ 6,980,172.2 million in fiscal 2012.

We have entered into a memorandum of understanding with the LSE to explore opportunities for collaboration, such as the establishment of a research center in GIFT City (defined herein). We also will continue to explore organic and external opportunities to expand into new markets and products in our non-trading businesses, including in the areas of indices, data analytics, digital transformation and technology solutions.

Capture growth in the underpenetrated Indian financial markets

We intend to further strengthen our brand and market leadership position by reaching investors in more geographic locations and from different backgrounds across India. We plan to conduct investor awareness programs, pursue tie-ups with state-level education boards and universities to offer post-graduate and certificate programs and conduct conferences and seminars around our product and service offerings. Our past financial inclusion initiatives include state financial literacy programs that were developed together with the Tamil Nadu and Himachal Pradesh state education boards and are administered outside of India's metropolitan centers.

To introduce more first-time investors to the Indian markets and attract them to our exchange, our outreach, advertising and expansion initiatives seek to transform India's strong culture of saving into an "equity culture". We plan to intensify our outreach and advertising programs directed at younger Indians through our wholly-owned Subsidiary, NSE Academy, which promotes financial literacy as a necessary life skill. NSE Academy's initiatives, including partnerships with state and national school boards and schools, interactive courses on personal finance and certification programs, teach school children, homemakers and other non-finance professionals the value of investing, provide an introduction to the Indian capital markets and help to develop new market professionals.

Amid the recent trend of increasing mobile and internet penetration in India, we license NOW, our web-based and mobile trading platform, which is targeted towards the growing number of mobile phone users in India and positions us to increase our market share among internet and mobile traders. Assuming that mobile and internet penetration increases in India, we anticipate that investment in our trading platforms will enable us to attract more members to our exchange from areas outside of India's major commercial centers.

Indian capital markets are comparatively underpenetrated with significant potential for further growth according to the Oliver Wyman Report:

- financial savings in India totalled approximately $0.5 trillion as of 2015, comprising 56% of bank deposits and only 7% of investments in direct equities;
- foreign direct investment in India accounted for only approximately 2% of India's GDP in 2015 despite increasing from $28 billion to $34 billion to $44 billion in 2013, 2014 and 2015, respectively; and

• in 2015, India's market capitalization to GDP ratio was 73% compared to 140% in the United States, and India's cash turnover velocity was 53% compared to 268% in the United States.

Establishment of an international exchange in GIFT City

We have incorporated two Subsidiary companies, NSE IFSC Limited and NSE IFSC Clearing Corporation Limited, and applied to the SEBI for in-principle approval to establish international exchange and clearing corporation businesses in Gujarat International Finance Tech City – International Financial Service Centre, or GIFT City, which is a special economic zone under development to become India's first international financial services center.

These proposed new businesses are intended to expand our trading business and to grow our market share by capturing trading volumes that in the past have shifted outside of India in search of lower transaction costs and higher position limits. Stock exchanges operating in the GIFT IFSC will be permitted to offer trading in securities in any currency other than the Indian rupee. Subject to SEBI approval, trading would be permitted in equity shares of companies incorporated outside of India, depository receipts, debt securities of eligible issuers, currency, index, interest rate and non-agriculture commodity derivatives and all categories of exchange traded products that are available for trading in stock exchanges in FATF/IOSCO compliant jurisdictions. NSE IFSC Limited would also be permitted to offer longer trading days than what stock exchanges are currently permitted to do. We will be conducting marketing and familiarization activities to keep prospective investors informed about the framework of operations of NSE IFSC and NSE IFSC Clearing Corporation, as we have in the past for the launch of new businesses, products, and services.

Listings

We provide a listing venue for companies and other entities issuing securities in India and generate revenue from fees paid by issuers in connection with those listings. We aim to be the preferred designated stock exchange for issuers looking to use our markets. We offer a marketplace with multiple access points and a deep investor base, where price and liquidity formation can take place in a transparent and regulated framework, subsequent liquidity can develop and further capital can be raised.

Listing on our exchange can take several forms, including initial public offerings, or IPOs, and follow-on offerings, or FPOs. Follow-on offerings are offerings of securities by listed companies and include rights issues, which are issuances of shares to existing shareholders on a pro rata basis, as well as qualified institutional placements, or QIPs, which are issuances of shares to institutional investors. We also enable private placement of securities on our listing platform. Further, we provide facilities to enable book-building for IPOs and private placements of debt securities.

Equity

The Indian corporate entities that comprise our equity cash market issuer base include large corporates, SMEs, financial institutions, government agencies and emerging corporate forms, which in the future are expected to include REITs and InvITs. There were 1,822 companies with equity shares listed for trading in our cash market with a combined market capitalization of \gtrless 108,660,631.3 million as of September 30, 2016 compared to 1,646 companies with a combined market capitalization of \gtrless 60,965,175.5 million as of March 31, 2012.

SMEs

Our two platforms for the listing and trading of SME stocks are EMERGE and EMERGE's Institutional Trading Platform, or EMERGE-ITP. We have operated EMERGE since 2012 as an alternative listing platform for SMEs that have paid up capital below \gtrless 250 million. We launched EMERGE-ITP in 2014 as a specialized platform for SMEs that operate in key high-growth sectors, namely technology, information technology, intellectual property, data analytics, bio-technology or nano-technology, and/or in which sophisticated investors hold substantial ownership interests. These platforms are intended to provide access to early-stage capital for SMEs and new investment opportunities for sophisticated investors. SMEs that list on EMERGE or EMERGE-ITP pay initial and annual listing fees that are similar to, but less than, our fees for main board listings. As of September 30, 2016, 37 companies with a total market capitalization of \gtrless 21,017.9 million were listed on EMERGE and EMERGE-ITP and a total of \gtrless 2,327.2 million had been raised by SMEs on the two platforms since 2012.

Offers for Sale

We provide a market for substantial shareholders in listed companies to sell their interests through offers for sale. Offers for sale can be made by promoters of the top 200 companies on our exchange by market capitalization and any non-promoter shareholder with at least 10% interest in such eligible companies. We collect book building fees associated with offers for sale. See "– Listing Revenues". We also facilitate share buyback and exit offers to shareholders by delisting companies.

Mutual Funds

Units in close-ended mutual fund schemes are listed and traded on a separate market within our cash market category.

Members of our exchange access our mutual fund market to subscribe or redeem units of a mutual fund scheme through our Mutual Fund Service System, or MFSS, which was launched in 2009.

Subsequently we launched NMF II, our web-based reporting and trading platform for transactions in mutual fund units, which is accessible by non-member mutual fund distributors and independent financial advisors. NMF II operates using software developed by and licensed from a subsidiary of our associate company, CAMS, which also serves as registrar and transfer agent and provides back-office support for NMF II. Trading members that intend to clear their trades, whether on their own account or the accounts of their clients, and/or the trades of other trading members must also become members of our clearing corporation and wholly-owned Subsidiary, NSCCL. We refer to members of NSCCL as "clearing members".

Prospective members must fulfill the eligibility criteria set by the SEBI and our own requirements, which vary depending on the type of trading membership the prospective member is seeking and the market(s) on which the prospective member intends to trade. These requirements include minimum net worth standards and certain criteria related to the operating history of the prospective member.

Trading Platforms

Our members trade on our exchange through traditional trading terminals and our internet browser-based and mobile platforms. We also offer direct market access terminals, co-location facilities and other more advanced trading technologies for our sophisticated trading members. We generate revenues from leasing rack space for co-located servers and connectivity charges related to high-frequency trading through co-location facilities. See "— Our Technology" on page 172 for details about our trading platforms and technology. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – SEBI has initiated an examination and has directed our Company to also conduct an independent forensic examination by an external agency, into the co-location facilities of our Company and has also directed our Company to deposit the revenue generated from co-location in a separate bank account. Any adverse SEBI directive on this matter may materially and adversely affect our co-location business, results of operations, business and reputation" on pages 21 to 23.

Post-Trade

Our wholly-owned Subsidiary, National Securities Clearing Corporation Limited, or NSCCL, is responsible for clearing and settlement of all trades executed on our exchange and deposit and collateral management and risk management functions. NSCCL was the first clearing corporation to be established in India, according to the Oliver Wyman Report, and we introduced settlement guarantee before it became a regulatory requirement. NSCCL has maintained a credit rating of "AAA" from CRISIL since 2008.

Clearing & Settlement

NSCCL provides clearing and settlement services for all of the cash and derivative products listed on our exchange and derives revenue from clearing and settlement charges paid by our Company. These clearing and settlement charges are included in the transaction charges that our Company assesses on each trade on our exchange. NSCCL's revenue, being the amounts paid by our Company to NSCCL for rendering clearing and settlement services, amounted to ₹ 1,157.7 million, ₹ 725.9 million, ₹ 756.3 million, ₹ 911.8 million, ₹ 983.5 million, ₹ 493.2 million in fiscal 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015 and 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, respectively.

NSCCL and, through our contributions to the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund, our Company, assumes the credit risk of each party to the trade, which is the risk that a clearing member defaults on its obligations in respect of the trade.

Risk and Collateral Management

We have a multi-tiered risk management system, which is constantly upgraded to pre-empt market failures. Our risk containment measures include capital adequacy requirements for members, monitoring member performance and track record, stringent margin requirements, online monitoring of member positions and automatic disablement from trading when limits are breached.

Our Risk Assessment & Review Committee reviews our risk management policies for consistency with the Principles for Financial Market Infrastructure issued by the Committee on Payments and Market Infrastructure and the IOSCO.

Our primary risk and collateral management tools comprise the following:

Online Position Monitoring and Margining System. Clearing members are required to meet our initial margin and exposure margin requirements. Our risk-management system operates online and on an intra-day basis to set and update margin requirements for members and monitor our risk management functions. Initial margins requirement for our cash market are determined using a value at risk methodology which is computed based on the assessed volatility of individual securities in members' portfolios. Initial margin requirements for our derivatives market are determined by our risk-management system, which utilizes Standard Portfolio Analysis of Risk, or SPAN®, software that we license from the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. SPAN® computes a margin requirement for each clearing member based on the member's overall portfolio and the largest loss that the portfolio might reasonably suffer in a single trading day based on probable changes in underlying prices and volatility. The system is capable of recognizing unique exposures that our members may take, such as extremely deep out-of-the-money short positions, inter-month risk and inter-commodity risk. NSCCL also levies premiums and assignment margins for options positions according to the SEBI-specified margining framework.

Collateral Requirements. Clearing members deposit collateral toward margin requirements in the form of liquid assets (cash and cash equivalents and non-cash equivalents) sufficient to cover the clearing member's mark-to-market losses on outstanding settlement obligations, value at risk margins, extreme loss margins and any special margins imposed by us on a case-by-case basis. Members can manage their collateral on a real-time basis online through our web-based portal called Connect2NSE. We are able to use the collateral submitted by clearing members in situations in which clearing members fail to honor their obligations in a trade.

We impose concentration limits on the types of collateral that members deposit in addition to limits stipulated by the SEBI. In particular, at least 50% of a clearing member's deposited collateral must be in cash or cash equivalents. Collateral is evaluated daily and haircuts are applied to account for increased exposure. We also prescribe limits on the total amount of a single type of collateral that NSCCL can hold from all members.

Stress Tests. We conduct daily liquidity stress tests to confirm that we are maintaining sufficient liquid resources. NSCCL also has lines of credit with commercial banks in excess of its average daily funds pay-in to as a redundancy measure.

Core Settlement Guarantee Fund. NSCCL maintains a core settlement guarantee fund for each of our markets in accordance with SEBI regulations. The fund's purpose is to help ensure that NSCCL has sufficient assets to fulfil its settlement obligations in the event of defaults by our clearing members. The value of our Core Settlement Guarantee Fund has increased each year since its establishment in December 2014, as set forth below.

Our Technology

Trading Technology

We have a pan-India, high-speed network, which supported more than 181,524 terminals, as of September 30, 2016.

Our trading platforms comprise the following:

- National Exchange for Automated Trading (NEAT). NEAT is our screen-based trading system. We also offer our NEAT Plus package that provides members trading in multiple markets on our exchange with a unified trading interface. We are able to maintain a high uptime record and low latency levels for trade orders from terminals due to NEAT's scalability, which allows us to add additional hardware on-demand to support higher trading volume. We also conduct periodic testing and capacity enhancements as the number of NEAT users and trading loads increase. Trading data on NEAT is released almost instantaneously to all trading members on NEAT.
- NEAT-on-Web (NOW). NOW is licensed trading software that offers direct connectivity to our exchange for trade execution and data feeds through trading terminals, web-based browsers and mobile devices. NOW supports trading in all of the products on our cash and derivatives markets, as well as mutual fund units on our exchange and trading on other exchanges. Our members are able to access smart order routing, historical and real-time intra-day charting and other user friendly tools. In addition to its trading desk features, NOW has a built-in risk management system and allows access to our suite of data feed products. Trading on NOW accounted for 8.3% of cash market trading volume, 7.8% of equity derivative trading volume and 32.3% of currency derivative trading volume for the six months ended September 30, 2016.
- Non-NEAT Front End Platform. We offer customizable trading platforms that are customizable to the requirements of our individual trading members. Non-NEAT front-ends are through our computer-to-computer link, or CTCL, scheme. CTCL permits members to use their own trading software and hardware for trading on our exchange. Examples of customizable features that are available through Non-NEAT front-ends include online trade analysis, additional risk management tools and integrated back-office operations. Non-NEAT front-ends also facilitate non-NOW internet-based trading, direct market access, algorithmic trading, security trading through wireless technology and smart order routing.
- EMERGE and EMERGE-ITP. Our two platforms for the listing and trading of SME stocks. See "- Listings SMEs".
- MFSS and NMF II. MFSS is our mutual fund order collection system and NMF-II is our web-based mutual fund trading platform. See "– Listings Mutual Funds".

We developed our own connectivity software, Trading Access Point, to support messaging and data services on our platforms.

For our institutional clients and other sophisticated traders, we provide support for algorithmic trading through our colocation facilities, consisting of rented rack space for servers inside our exchange premises. Our real time tick-by-tick, or TBT, data feed was disseminated only in TCP-IP format until April 2014, when the alternative Multicast TBT, or MTBT, system was introduced and both systems of data feeds were provided to members in parallel. With effect from November 30, 2016, TCP-IP based TBT data broadcast has been discontinued and only MTBT data broadcast is provided. Our IT service management system that provides co-location hosting services for high-frequency trading conforms to the IT Service Management System Standard ISO/IEC 20000-1:2011. We also offer our institutional clients direct market access through trading terminals with direct connectivity to our exchange. Direct market access utilizes computer-to-computer link technology and offers faster and automated execution of orders, which contributes to reduced impact costs for large trade orders, fewer errors associated with manual order entry and improved record keeping.

Risk Management & Security Technology

Our electronic systems deploy real-time hardware and software monitoring and analytics with self-correction capability, predictive behavior technology and to detect known failure points and unexpected events. Our systems have processed an average of approximately 743 million messages per day for the six months ended September 30, 2016.

We have an experienced team of IT professionals, supported by select third-party IT vendors, to operate and support our infrastructure and software and create and implement new technologies. Our security operations center in Mumbai monitors, responds to and logs suspicious security events on a real-time basis.

To avoid system outages or disruptions, we ensure that our systems have built in redundancy and excess capacity at all times, implemented regular testing protocols and adopted continuous obsolescence planning to keep our hardware and systems updated. For example, our current systems utilize in-memory databases, ultra-fast messaging technology and field-programmable gate array integrated circuits. We maintain a disaster recovery framework comprising automated response processes and personnel training programs. We have a primary disaster recovery data center in south India and supplemental near-site data recovery center in Mumbai, which coordinate their operations with our Mumbai command center in our headquarters to provide redundancy protection.

To minimize cyber security threats, we have implemented a security framework to prevent and detect system intrusions and implemented internal and external security tools. Access to our servers is regulated by our privilege access management solution. We have also implemented a database encryption solution platform to prevent unauthorized access to the sensitive information that we store and transmit regarding our exchange and our trading and clearing members. We rely on tools licensed from third parties for data leakage prevention, database encryption and information rights management. Our security framework also includes, among other things, intrusion prevention systems, email gateways, two-tier firewalls, distributed denial of service and web application firewall technologies and malware and virus containment systems.

Regulatory, Surveillance and Investigation

Regulatory

We discharge regulatory functions to the extent permitted by SEBI. These functions include implementing rules governing our exchange related to surveillance, member registration, listing, compliance, inspection, enforcement, arbitration and investor protection, as required under the SECC Regulations. We also implement our own rules to support our regulatory functions. To encourage good corporate governance, our NSE MORE program rewards our trading members for maintaining strong governance standards on a continuous basis.

Our regulatory obligations are managed by our regulatory team, which comprised 73 employees as of September 30, 2016. Our oversight committee and operational committee oversee matters relating to member regulation, inspection, listing and delisting. We keep detailed records of all our customer and internal complaints lodged against trading members and resulting sanctions. In order to ensure transparency, we follow a segregation policy in accordance with SEBI requirements, which includes maintenance of a Chinese wall between our regulatory functions and our other businesses.

Surveillance and Investigation

Our investigation and surveillance department supports the SEBI's investigation and enforcement functions by monitoring and reporting trading activity on our exchange for compliance with SEBI regulations. We also enforce our own bye-laws and rules by conducting our own investigations and enforcement actions.

Our surveillance system provides real-time monitoring, automated alerts of abnormal trading activity and analysis of surveillance data. As part of our preventive surveillance operations, we also monitor social media traffic and investigate and verify suspicious content.

We have an anonymous portal and a toll free number to receive tips regarding improper market behavior, such as insider trading and violations of fair disclosure.

We also support the surveillance initiatives undertaken by the Integrated Surveillance Department of the SEBI by tracking and reporting unusual and suspicious market movements and maintaining an open information sharing policy.

Dispute Resolution

We facilitate dispute resolution between investors, members and listed companies through our complaint and dispute resolution process. Our Investor Services and Arbitration department facilitates complaint registration, related data processing, arbitration proceedings and implementation of arbitral awards. In fiscal 2016, we resolved 5,132 investor complaints.

We maintain an Investor Protection Fund to compensate investors in the event of defaults by our members. Our Defaulters' Committee generally makes investor compensation recommendations when deposits from the defaulting member are less than the amount of an investor's claim. The fund is administered through a registered trust and managed by the trustees of the trust.

Customers

In our listing business, our customers are issuers of securities across industries.

In our trading business, our customers are our members, who we classify as proprietary traders, corporate clients, foreign institutional investors and retail investors. Our index customers are primarily international stock exchanges, financial institutions, asset managers, brokers and other enterprises that monitor India's equity capital market. Our data feed business customers include data aggregators and redistributors, researchers, asset management companies, and media and software companies. Our customers in our commercial technology business include the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India, universities, state governments and companies in the financial services sector. See "Risk Factors – Internal Risks –We may not be able to increase our revenues from our non-trading businesses, which are subject to numerous operational risks".

Marketing & Business Development

Our marketing strategy is designed to attract new issuers and investors to our exchange. We aim to improve product awareness, promote Indian capital markets, build our brand image and enhance investor confidence and promote investor education through our marketing initiatives. In support of these aims, we have a dedicated marketing and business development team of 27 employees as of September 30, 2016, who undertake promotion and outreach activities. Our marketing efforts include organizing events and seminars and engaging in radio, internet and television advertising. Our business development efforts are focused on cross-selling, upselling and developing product offerings in our trading and non-trading business through directed outreach efforts at our existing and prospective trading members and customers in our non-trading businesses. We have also implemented initiatives targeted at specific groups of issuers and investors. In addition, our initiatives such as Funancial Quest, Nivesh India, Get Started in the Market and NSE FinWiz are aimed at promoting investor education and outreach to develop a new generation of investors and issuers.

Competition

Our listing and trading businesses face competition from traditional trading venues in and outside of India. In India, our primary competitor is BSE, which is a regulated market like ours. We also compete with BSE in respect of trading in mutual fund units. Our derivatives market primarily competes with international trading venues such as the Singapore Exchange and the Dubai Gold & Commodities Exchange, which have higher trading volumes, investor participation and open position limits than Indian stock exchanges. Our derivatives market also competes with non-traditional trading venues, such as multilateral trading facilities and a wide range of OTC services provided by market makers, banks, brokers, electronic communications networks and other financial market participants. See "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We operate in a competitive industry, and we may not be able to compete successfully".

Primary sources of competition in our non-trading businesses are as follows:

- our index business competes with global index providers that maintain indices that track the Indian capital markets and domestic index providers who have entered alliances with global players. We compete on the basis of brand recognition and value and bundled product offerings;
- our data feed business competes primarily with BSE for capital market data in India and globally from market information providers; and
- our commercial technology business faces competition primarily in India from other IT companies such as TCS, Polaris, Cognizant Technology Solutions India Private Limited and Mastek Limited.

We believe that our employees are our most valuable asset and that our success largely depends on our ability to attract, train, motivate, retain and effectively utilize our skilled professionals. Our attrition rate for full-time employees, which we calculate based on the number of employees who voluntary cease working, was 13.7% for the fiscal 2016. We believe that we maintain a good working relationship with our employees and have not experienced any major labor disputes.

We make contributions to a provident fund and provide a superannuation benefit for our employees. We also offer our employees defined-benefit plans in the form of a gratuity scheme. Benefits under the defined benefit plans are typically based on years of service and the employee's level of compensation before retirement. The gratuity scheme covers substantially all of our full-time employees.

We conduct ongoing training and development for our employees. We offer training in business development areas, such as, team building, customer relationship management and business presentation skills. Our training programs encourage and reward employees for innovative proposals that are adopted in our business. For example, we award individuals and teams on a quarterly basis for innovations in process and technology.

We organize internal campaigns from time to time to encourage innovation and creativity among our employees. We held an Idea Lab competition to collect ideas for innovations in external or internal products, services and processes from our employees. The competition provided employees with opportunities for interdepartmental cooperation and employee development as winning ideas were implemented. We also implemented Project Bijli, a similar competition for ideas focused on efficiency and waste mitigation instead of product innovation.

In addition to our own employees, we engage additional workers on a contractual basis through registered contractors for ancillary activities such as security, housekeeping and other backend services.

We rely on outsourced employees for support and maintenance of our licensed software. We also utilize open source software in our operating systems and databases. We license the VIX trademark which we use for our India VIX index.

See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We rely on third parties for the provision of certain services and products, including certain aspects of our critical system infrastructure and software and – We may be unable to keep up with rapid technological change" on pages 36 and 28.

Further, SEBI may supersede the governing body of a stock exchange and appoint any person(s) to exercise and perform all the powers and duties of the governing body subject to compliance with the provisions of SCRA including the procedures prescribed therein.

The SCRA also prescribes various penalties for the contravention of its provisions. If a recognised stock exchange fails to comply with the provisions of the SCRA such as failure to furnish periodical returns to SEBI or failure to make or amend its rules or bye-laws as directed by SEBI or failure to comply with the directions issued by SEBI, such a stock exchange shall be liable to a penalty, which can vary from a minimum of $\gtrless 0.5$ million to maximum of to $\gtrless 250$ million.

Securities Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1957 (the "SCRR")

The SCRR, amongst other things, prescribes the manner for making a fresh or renewal application for recognition by a stock exchange and the fees associated with such applications. Recognition, unless granted on a permanent basis, is for a minimum period of one year and the recognised stock exchange is required to make an application for renewal of such recognition three months before the expiry of the period of recognition. Under the SCRR, SEBI is empowered to nominate a maximum of three members of the governing body of a recognised stock exchange and such members will have the same status and powers as other members of the governing body. Additionally, the SCRR specifies (i) the list of books of accounts and documents to be maintained and preserved by a recognised stock exchange; (ii) the content of the annual report to be submitted to SEBI; and (iii) items in relation to which the recognised stock exchange is required to furnish periodical returns to SEBI.

Securities Contracts (Regulation) (Stock Exchanges and Clearing Corporations) Regulations, 2012 (the "SECC Regulations")

The SECC Regulations prescribe requirements, including in relation to recognition, regulation, ownership and governance of recognised stock exchanges and clearing corporations. The key requirements of the SECC Regulations include:

Obligation to seek recognition: The SECC Regulations provide that no person can conduct, organise or assist in organizing any stock exchange or clearing corporation unless it has obtained recognition from SEBI in accordance with the SCRA, the SCRR and the SECC Regulations. The SECC Regulations also prescribe the conditions and the procedure for obtaining such recognition.

Net–worth of stock exchanges and clearing corporations: The SECC Regulations provide that every recognised stock exchange is required to maintain a minimum net-worth of \gtrless 1,000 million at all times. An applicant seeking recognition as a clearing corporation is required to have a minimum net worth of \gtrless 1,000 million and is required to achieve a minimum networth of \gtrless 3,000 million within three years from the date of grant of recognition. Additionally, a recognised stock exchange or a recognised clearing corporation is not permitted to distribute profits in any manner to its shareholders until the minimum net-worth requirement is achieved.

Shareholding in a recognised stock exchange and a recognised clearing corporation: Pursuant to the SECC Regulations, at least 51% of the paid up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange is required to be held by the public. 'Public' has been defined under the SECC Regulations to include any member or section of the public but excludes any trading or clearing member or their associates and agents. Further, a public sector bank, public financial institution, an insurance company, mutual fund or alternative investment fund in the public sector, that have associates as trading members or clearing members are deemed as public for the purposes of the SECC Regulations.

Pursuant to the SECC Regulations, at least 51% of the paid up equity share capital of a recognised clearing corporation is required to be held by one or more recognised stock exchanges. However, a recognised stock exchange is not permitted to, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons in concert, acquire or hold more than 15% of the paid up equity share capital in more than one clearing corporation.

A person resident in India (other than a recognised stock exchange in the case of a clearing corporation), directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, is not permitted to acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid up equity share capital in a recognised stock exchange or a recognised clearing corporation. However, the SECC Regulations permit stock exchanges, depositories, banking companies, insurance companies and public financial institutions, to hold, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, up to 15% of the paid up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange. However, such persons require the prior approval of SEBI to acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange or a recognised clearing corporation.

A person resident outside India, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, is not permitted to acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid up equity share capital in a stock exchange or a clearing corporation.

Further, if any person, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, acquires equity shares such that its shareholding exceeds 2% of the paid up equity share capital of the recognised stock exchange or recognised clearing corporation, such person is required to seek the approval of SEBI within 15 days of the acquisition, in the manner prescribed in the SEBI circular no. CIR/MRD/DSA/33/2012, dated December 13, 2012. If SEBI does not grant the aforementioned approval, such person is required to forthwith divest his excess shareholding.

The SECC Regulations also provide that subject to the limits as otherwise prescribed by the Central Government from time to time, the combined holding of all persons resident outside India in the paid up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange shall not exceed, at any time, 49% of its total paid up equity share capital. Further, an FPI is not permitted to acquire shares of a recognised stock exchange otherwise than through the secondary market. As regards investment by FIIs / FPIs in stock exchanges, the union cabinet, pursuant to the press release dated July 27, 2016 (the "Press Release") has given its approval for increasing the foreign shareholding limit from 5% to 15% in Indian stock exchanges for a stock exchange, a depository, a banking company, an insurance company and a commodity derivative exchange. The Press Release states that the Union cabinet has also approved the proposal to allow FPI to acquire shares through initial allotment, besides the secondary market, in the stock exchanges. In addition, SEBI, in its board meeting dated September 23, 2016, has approved amendment to Regulation 17 of the SECC Regulations to increase the limit of shareholding of individual FIIs / FPIs in stock exchanges from 5% to 15% as well as acquisition of shares through initial allotment, besides the SECC Regulations and the FDI Policy are yet to be amended in this regard. Further, no clearing corporation is permitted to hold any right, stake or interest, of whatsoever nature, in any recognised stock exchange.

Fit and Proper Criteria: Pursuant to the SECC Regulations no person is permitted to, directly or indirectly, acquire or hold equity shares of a recognised stock exchange or a recognised clearing corporation unless such person is fit and proper. The SECC Regulations set out the conditions for a person to be deemed to be a fit and proper person. Further, any person holding more than two per cent of the paid up equity share capital in a recognised stock exchange or a recognised clearing corporation is required to file a declaration within 15 days from the end of every financial year to the recognised stock exchange or the recognised clearing corporation, as the case may be, that such person complies with the fit and proper criteria set out in the SECC Regulations.

For further details relating to the fit and proper criteria, see "Offer Procedure" beginning on page 506.

Governance of Stock Exchanges: The governing board of a recognised stock exchange and a recognised clearing corporation is required to include (i) shareholder directors, (ii) public interest directors, and (iii) managing director. Subject to the prior approval of SEBI, the governing board shall elect the chairperson from amongst the public interest directors. The SECC Regulations further provide, inter alia, the requirements in relation to minimum number of directors, conditions for appointment of shareholder directors, public interest directors and managing director, quorum for meetings of the governing board, code of conduct for directors and key management personnel, compensation and tenure of key management personnel of a recognised stock exchange and a recognised clearing corporation. Further, the SECC Regulations prohibit trading members, clearing members, their associates and agents to be on the governing board of any recognised stock exchange or recognised clearing corporation.

Fund to Guarantee Settlement of Trades: A recognised clearing corporation is required to establish and maintain a fund for each segment to guarantee the settlement of trades executed in the respective segment of a recognised stock exchange. The contribution to such fund by the recognised stock exchange, the recognised clearing corporation and the clearing members is specified by SEBI from time to time. Further, the utilisation of profits and investments by recognised clearing corporations is required to be in accordance with the norms specified by SEBI. SEBI has also issued circulars dated August 27, 2014 and May 4, 2016 prescribing norms for the core settlement guarantee funds required to be established under the SECC Regulations. Pursuant to the amendment dated August 29, 2016 to the SECC Regulations, contribution to the settlement guarantee fund is required to be made as specified by SEBI from time to time. By way of the aforesaid amendment, the requirement of an annual credit of 25% of profits by a recognised stock exchange to the settlement guarantee fund has been done away with.

Listing of Securities: Subject to provisions of applicable law in force, a recognised stock exchange may apply for listing of its securities on any recognised stock exchange, other than itself and its associated stock exchange, if (i) it is compliant with the provisions of the SECC Regulations, particularly those relating to ownership and governance; (ii) it has completed three years of continuous trading operations immediately preceding the date of application of listing; and (iii) it has obtained approval of SEBI. Further, a recognised stock exchange is not permitted to list any securities of its associates, and the securities of a recognised clearing corporation are not permitted to be listed on any stock exchange.

SEBI has issued circular no. CIR/MRD/DSA/33/2012 for the effective implementation of the SECC Regulations. The circular, inter alia, prescribes (i) procedure for appointment of directors, (ii) process of seeking approval from SEBI for shareholding beyond 2% and 5%, monitoring of shareholding limits and obligation of the recognised stock exchange to ensure that all its shareholders are fit and proper persons, (iii) the list of mandatory committees for stock exchanges and clearing corporations, (iv) norms for compensation for key management personnel of the stock exchanges and the clearing corporations, and (v) the procedure for submitting amendments to articles, rules, bye-laws and regulations for SEBI's approval.

SEBI Circular dated January 1, 2016

Pursuant to SEBI circular no. CIR/MRD/DSA/ 01/2016 dated January 1, 2016, SEBI has notified certain directions to listed stock exchanges to ensure compliance with the SECC Regulations including the following:

Minimum public shareholding: (i) a listed stock exchange shall display its shareholding pattern, in the format prescribed by SEBI, on a continuous basis on its website and the stock exchange where its shares are listed is also required to display such information. The depositories are required to establish necessary systems to ensure that the aggregate shareholding of trading members or their associates and agents in the listed stock exchange does not exceed 49% of the paid-up share capital of the stock exchange; (ii) the trading members or their associates and agents are required to obtain prior approval of the listed stock exchange for further acquisition of shares once the aggregate shareholding of the trading members or their associates and agents crosses the limit of 45% of the paid-up share capital of the stock exchange. If such prior approval is not obtained, the depositories are authorized to initiate actions such as freezing of voting rights and other corporate benefits in respect of such shareholding until such shares are divested by the relevant shareholder or acquirer; and (iii) the divestment of any excess shareholding beyond the specified limit would be through a special window provided by the stock exchange where the shares are listed.

Fit and Proper: (i) an exchange proposing an initial public offering its equity shares, is required to include a declaration in the application form stating that the applicant is fit and proper in terms of the relevant provisions of the SECC Regulations; (ii) upon listing of the stock exchange, the text of the applicable regulation in relation to the fit and proper criteria is required to be a part of the contract note; (iii) the listed stock exchange is required to undertake all measures to make investors aware of the requirement of fit and proper criteria; (iv) the listed stock exchange and the stock exchange where the shares are listed are required to notify on their websites that the shares of a listed stock exchange can only be dealt with by fit and proper persons; (v) in case of acquisition of shares by the person who is found not to be fit and proper, the voting rights and all corporate benefits with respect to such shareholding are required to submit to SEBI on a quarterly basis an exceptional report regarding the shareholders who are not fit and proper and action taken thereof.

Ensuring shareholding of 5% and 15%: (i) the depositories are required to establish a mechanism to ensure that no shareholder gets credit of shares beyond 5% or 15%, as applicable; (ii) the depositories are also required to generate an alert when such shareholding exceeds 2% and monitor such shareholding under intimation to SEBI; (iii) the depositories are required to inform the listed stock exchange as and when the threshold is breached and take consequential action such as freezing of voting rights and all corporate actions in respect of such excess holding until such excess holding is divested through the special window.

Pursuant to SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/MRD/DSA/CIR/P/2016/30 dated January 22, 2016, SEBI amended the provisions of the SEBI circular dated December 13, 2012 relating to composition of governing board of a recognized stock exchange or clearing corporation. SEBI has clarified that a trading or clearing member, or their associates or agents shall not be on the governing board of any recognized stock exchange and clearing corporation. Further, a person who is a director in an entity which itself is a trading member or clearing member, or has an associate as a trading or clearing member, shall be deemed to be trading member or clearing member himself. However, the circular exempts a director on the board of a public financial institution or a public sector bank from being deemed a trading or clearing member subject to conditions specified under the circular. The recognised stock exchanges and clearing corporations are required to monitor and verify the aforesaid compliance to verify that directors appointed, on their governing board, do not get associated with trading member or clearing member.

Pursuant to SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/MRD/DP/CIR/P/2016/129 dated December 1, 2016, SEBI advised the stock exchanges to provide direct connectivity between co-location facilities of different recognized stock exchanges while also providing for such connectivity between the servers of the same broker at co-location facilities of different stock exchanges. SEBI has clarified that co-location services provided by a third party or outsourced from a third party are deemed to be provided by stock exchanges and accordingly, stock exchanges shall remain responsible and accountable for actions of the outsourced entity. Stock exchanges are also required to submit a quarterly compliance report with SEBI regarding the outsourcing services upon approval of the governing board of the respective stock exchange.

SEBI Circular dated November 28, 2016

Pursuant to the SEBI circular no. SEBI/HO/MRD/DSA/CIR/P/2016/125 dated November 28, 2016, SEBI has prescribed a broad framework for functioning of stock exchanges and clearing corporations in IFSC. These Restated Consolidated Financial Information and Other Consolidated Financial Information were reviewed by the Audit Committee and subsequently approved by the Board of Directors of the Company on December 19, 2016.

II. Principles of consolidation and equity accounting

i) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities over which the group has control. The Group controls an entity when the Group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the relevant activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

The acquisition method of accounting under Ind AS is used to account for business combinations by the Group from the date of transition to Ind AS i.e. April 1, 2015. Prior to the date of transition to Ind AS, business acquisition has been accounted based on previous GAAP.

The Group combines the financial statements of the parent and its subsidiaries line by line adding together like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses. Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

Non-controlling interests in the results and equity of subsidiaries are shown separately in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, Restated Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity and Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities, respectively.

ii) Associates

Associates are all entities over which the Group has significant influence but not control or joint control. This is generally the case where the Group holds between 20% and 50% of the voting rights. Investments in associates are accounted for using the equity method of accounting (see (iv) below), after initially being recognised at cost.

iii) Joint Arrangements

Under Ind AS 111 Joint Arrangements, investments in joint arrangements are classified as either joint operations or joint ventures. The classification depends on the contractual rights and obligations of each investor, rather than the legal structure of the joint arrangement. The Group has only joint ventures.

Interests in joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method (see (iv) below), after initially being recognised at cost in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

Transition to Ind AS

Upon first-time adoption of Ind AS, the Group has elected to measure its investments in joint ventures and associates at the Previous GAAP carrying amount as its deemed cost on the date of transition to Ind AS i.e., April 1, 2015. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

iv) Equity method

Under the equity method of accounting, the investments are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the post - acquisition profits or losses of the investee in profit and loss, and the Group's share of other comprehensive income of the investee in other comprehensive income. Dividends received or receivable from associates and joint ventures are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment.

When the Group's share of losses in an equity accounted investment equals or exceeds its interest in the entity, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the Group does not recognise further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the other entity.

Unrealised gains on transactions between the Group and its associates and joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the group's interest in these entities. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of equity accounted investees have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

The carrying amount of equity accounted investments are tested for impairment in accordance with the policy described in note (g) below.

v) Changes in ownership interests

The Group treats transactions with non-controlling interests that do not result in a loss of control as transactions with equity owners of the Group. A change in ownership interest results in an adjustment between the carrying amounts of the controlling and non-controlling interests to reflect their relative interests in the subsidiary. Any difference between the amount of the adjustment to non-controlling interests and any consideration paid or received is recognised within equity.

When the Group ceases to consolidate or equity account for an investment because of a loss of control, joint control or significant influence, any retained interest in the entity is remeasured to its fair value with the change in carrying amount recognised in statement of profit and loss. This fair value becomes the initial carrying amount for the purposes of subsequently accounting for the retained interest as an associate, joint venture or financial asset. In addition, any amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in respect of that entity are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. This may mean that amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to statement of profit and loss.

If the ownership interest in a joint venture or an associate is reduced but joint control or significant influence is retained, only a proportionate share of the amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to statement of profit and loss where appropriate.

The Group has recorded changes in ownership interests before April 1, 2015 i.e. date of transition to Ind AS as per the Previous GAAP. The Group has selected to measure its investments in joint ventures, associates and subsidiaries at the Previous GAAP carrying amount as its deemed cost on the date of transition to Ind AS i.e., April 1, 2015.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information of the Group are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian currency (INR), which is the parent company functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end exchange rates are recognized in statement of profit and loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. For example, translation differences on non-monetary assets and liabilities such as equity instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in statement of profit and loss as part of the fair value gain or loss and translation differences on non-monetary assets such as equity investments classified as FVOCI are recognised in other comprehensive income.

(iii) Group Companies

The results and financial position of foreign operations that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- assets and liabilities are translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet
- income and expenses are translated at average exchange rates (unless this is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the dates of the transactions), and

• all resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.

On consolidation, exchange differences arising from the translation of any net investment in foreign entities are recognised in other comprehensive income. When a foreign operation is sold, the associated exchange differences are reclassified to statement of profit and loss, as part of the gain or loss on sale.

(b) Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Amounts disclosed as revenue are net of allowances, incentives, service taxes and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

The Group recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured and it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity. Revenue is recognised in the period when the service is provided as per arrangements/agreements with the customers. The sources of revenue are:

- (i) Transaction charges revenue is recognised on transactions in accordance with the Group's fee scales as and when the transaction occurs.
- (ii) Subscription/ Datafeed Service and other fees revenue is recognised on a straight-line basis over the period to which the fee relates.
- (iii) Book building fees revenue is recognised at the time of completion of book building process.
- (iv) Revenue from the sale of products (software product licenses, digital certificates and resale of hardware and software) is recognised when the group transfers to buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods.
- (v) Revenue from online examination services are recognised basis dates when exams are conducted and revenue from e-learning activity is recognized on the basis of enrollment.
- (vi) Revenue from consulting services (software development) is recognised in the accounting period in which the services are rendered. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised based on the actual service provided to the end of the reporting period as a proportion of the total services to be provided (percentage of completion method). Estimates of revenues, costs or extent of progress toward completion are revised if circumstances change. Any resulting increases or decreases in estimated revenues or costs are reflected in statement of profit and loss in the period in which the circumstances that give rise to the revision become known by management.
- (vii) Revenues from Information Technology and Process support charges, including maintenance are recognised on time and material basis based on the terms agreed with the customers.
- (viii) Others all other revenue is recognised in the period in which the service is provided.

In respect of members who have been declared as defaulters by the Group all amounts (dues) remaining to be recovered, net of available security and insurance cover available if any, till the date of being declared as defaulters are written off as bad debts. All subsequent recoveries are accounted when received.

Penal charges in respect of shortages due from the respective member is recognised in profit and loss as part of other revenue to the extent such charges are recoverable in the period of declaration of default.

Insurance claims are accounted on accrual basis when the claims become due and payable.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(c) Inventory

The Inventory is valued at cost or net realisable value whichever is lower. Cost of inventories include all other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost of purchased inventory are determined after deducting rebates and discounts. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

(d) Income taxes

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses, if any.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information. However, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if they arise from the initial recognition of goodwill. Deferred income tax is also not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting profit nor taxable profit (tax loss). Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are recognised only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax liabilities are not recognised for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in subsidiaries, branches and associates and interest in joint arrangements where the group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are not recognised for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in subsidiaries, associates and interest in joint arrangements where it is not probable that the differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will not be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Dividend distribution tax paid on the dividends is recognised consistently with the presentation of the transaction that creates the income tax consequence. Dividend distribution tax is charged to Restated

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss if the dividend itself is charged to statement of profit and loss. If the dividend is recognised in equity, the presentation of dividend distribution tax is recognised in equity.

(e) Leases

As a lessee

Leases of property, plant and equipment and land where the Group, as lessee, has substantially transferred all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at the lease's inception at the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding rental obligations, net of finance charges, are included in other financial liabilities. Each lease payment is allocated between the liability and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to the statement of profit and loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are not transferred to the Group as lessee are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessor) are charged to statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease unless the payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases.

As a lessor

Lease income from operating leases where the Group is a lessor is recognised in income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities based on their nature.

(f) Business Combinations

The acquisition method of accounting is used to account for all business combinations, regardless of whether equity instruments or other assets are acquired. The consideration transferred for the acquisition of a subsidiary comprises:

- the fair values of the assets transferred;
- liabilities incurred to the former owners of the acquired business;
- equity interests issued by the group; and
- fair value of any asset or liability resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement.

Identifiable assets acquired and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are, with limited exceptions, measured initially at their fair values at the acquisition date. The group recognizes any non-controlling interest in the acquired entity on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis either at fair value or at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquired entity's net identifiable assets.

Acquisition-related costs are expensed as incurred.

The excess of the - consideration transferred;

- amount of any non-controlling interest in the acquired entity, and
- acquisition-date fair value of any previous equity interest in the acquired entity

over the fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired is recorded as goodwill. If those amounts are less than the fair value of the net identifiable assets of the business acquired, the difference is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve provided there is clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as a bargain purchase. In other cases, the bargain purchase gain is recognised directly in equity as capital reserve.

Where settlement of any part of cash consideration is deferred, the amounts payable in the future are discounted to their present value as at the date of exchange. The discount rate used is the entity's incremental borrowing rate, being the rate at which a similar borrowing could be obtained from an independent financier under comparable terms and conditions.

Contingent consideration is classified either as equity or a financial liability. Amounts classified as a financial liability are subsequently remeasured to fair value with changes in fair value recognised in statement of profit and loss.

If the business consideration is achieved in stages, the acquisition date carrying value of the acquirers previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date. Any gains or losses arising from such remeasurement are recognised in statement of profit and loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate.

Transition to Ind AS

Upon first-time adoption of Ind AS, the Group has elected not to restate business combinations which occurred prior to the transition date i.e. April 1, 2015. Accordingly, the Group has continued with its business combination accounting under Previous GAAP up to the period ended March 31, 2015 i.e. the excess of the cost of its investment in subsidiary over the Group's portion of equity of the subsidiary entity as at the date on which investment in subsidiary entity is made, is recognized in the financial statement as Goodwill. The excess of Group's share of equity and reserve of the subsidiary company over the cost of acquisition is treated as Capital Reserve.

The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012.

(g) Impairment of assets

Goodwill and intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

(h) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and Cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These do not include bank balances earmarked/restricted for specific purposes.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(i) Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

(j) Investments and other financial assets

(i) Classification

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through statement of profit and loss), and
- those measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in statement of profit and loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in debt instruments, this will depend on the business model in which the investment is held. For investments in equity instruments, this will depend on whether the Group has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income. The Group reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

(ii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through statement of profit and loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through statement of profit and loss are expensed in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three measurement categories into which the group classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortised cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at amortised cost and is not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest rate method.
- Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI): Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI). Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment gains or losses, interest revenue and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognised in profit and loss. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from equity to statement of profit and loss and recognised in other gains/ (losses). Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

• Fair value through profit or loss: Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss is recognised in statement of profit and loss and presented net in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and loss within other gains/(losses) in the period in which it arises (except gains or loss on SGF investments which are attributed directly to the fund balance). Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income.

Equity investments (other than investments in associates and joint venture)

The Group subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Where the Group's management has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to statement of profit and loss. Dividends from such investments continue to be recognised in statement of profit and loss as other income when the Group's right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in other gain/ (losses) in the statement of profit and loss. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

(iii) Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost and FVOCI debt instruments. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For trade receivables only, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by Ind AS 109, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables.

De-recognition of financial assets

A financial asset is de-recognised only when

- The Group has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or
- retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the Group has transferred an asset, it evaluates whether it has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is de-recognised. Where the Group has not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is not de-recognised.

Where the Group has neither transferred a financial asset nor retains substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is de-recognised if the Group has not retained control of the financial asset. Where the Group retains control of the financial asset, the asset is continued to be recognised to the extent of continuing involvement in the financial asset.

(iv) Income recognition

Interest income

Interest income from debt instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial assets to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Group estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividends

Dividends are recognised in profit and loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Group, and the amount of the dividend can be reliably measured.

(k) Financial liabilities

(i) Classification as debt or equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by the Group are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

(ii) Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial liabilities are initially measured at the amortised cost unless at initial recognition, they are classified as fair value through profit and loss.

(iii) Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(iv) Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

(I) Derivatives

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period.

(m) Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities where there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Group or the counterparty.

(n) Property, plant and equipment (including CWIP)

Freehold land is carried at historical cost of acquisition. All other items of property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to statement of profit and loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its property, plant and equipment recognised as at April1, 2015 measured as per the Previous GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of the property, plant and equipment. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives or, in the case of certain leased furniture, fittings and equipment, the shorter lease term as follows:

Building	60 years
Furniture and fixture	5 to 10 years
Office equipment	4 to 5 years
Electrical equipment	10 years
Computer systems office automation	3 years
Computer systems – others	4 years
Computer software	4 years
Telecommunication systems	4 years
Trading and Clearing systems	4 years

The property, plant and equipment including land acquired under finance leases is depreciated over the asset's useful life or the lease term if there is no reasonable certainty that the Group will obtain ownership at the end of the lease term.

The useful lives have been determined based on technical evaluation done by the management's expert which are not higher than those specified by Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, in order to reflect the actual usage of the assets, except in case of subsidiary NSEIT Limited. In case of furniture and fixtures, office equipment's, computer system-others, telecommunication systems and trading & clearing systems, the management estimate of the useful life is lower than that prescribed in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. This is based on the consistent practices followed, past experience, internal assessment and duly supported by technical advice.

In case of subsidiary company NSEIT Limited, fixed assets are depreciated as per the useful life specified under schedule II to Companies Act 2013 except the furniture and fixtures, electrical installation and office equipment including civil improvements at lease hold premises which are depreciated over the lease period.

The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset. The asset's residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted on a prospective basis if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount and are included in statement of profit and loss.

Depreciation on assets purchased / disposed off during the year is provided on pro rata basis with reference to the date of additions / deductions.

Fixed assets whose aggregate cost is Rs. 5,000 or less are depreciated fully in the year of acquisition.

(o) Investment properties

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Group, is accounted as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs.

Investment properties are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Investment properties generally have a useful life of 60 years. The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation performed by the management's expert.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its investment properties recognised as at April 1, 2015 measured as per the previous Indian GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of investment properties. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

(p) Intangible assets

(i) Goodwill:

Goodwill on acquisitions of subsidiaries is included in intangible assets. Goodwill is not amortised but it is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that it might be impaired, and is carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Gains and losses on the disposal of an entity include the carrying amount of goodwill relating to the entity sold.

Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units for the purpose of impairment testing. The allocation is made to those cash-generating units or groups of cash-generating units that are expected to benefit from the business combination in which the goodwill arose. The units or groups of units are identified at the lowest level at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes, which in our case are the operating segments.

(ii) Other intangible assets:

Costs associated with maintaining software programmes are recognised as an expense as incurred.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of identifiable and unique software products controlled by the Group are recognised as intangible assets when the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the software so that it will be available for use
- · management intends to complete the software and use or sell it
- there is an ability to use or sell the software
- it can be demonstrated how the software will generate probable future economic benefits
- adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the software are available, and
- the expenditure attributable to the software during its development can be reliably measured.

Directly attributable costs that are capitalised as part of the software include employee costs and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads.

Capitalised development costs are recorded as intangible assets and amortised from the point at which the asset is available for use.

Computer software is amortised over a period of 4 years. In case of subsidiary Company NSEIT Limited, software products/ licenses purchased/ acquired for internal use of the Company which are capitalised and depreciated over a period of 3 years on Straight Line Method.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Group has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of intangible assets recognised as at April 1, 2015 measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value the deemed cost of intangible assets. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2013, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

(q) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of financial period which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(r) Provisions

Provisions for legal claims and discounts/incentives are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

At the end of each reporting period, provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at a future date. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

(s) Contingent Liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

(t) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. Short term employee benefits are recognised in statement of profit and loss in the period in which the related service is rendered. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liabilities for earned leave are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. They are therefore measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method. The benefits are discounted using the market yields at the end of the reporting period that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. Remeasurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in statement of profit and loss.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities since the Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations

The Group operates the following post-employment schemes:

- (a) defined benefit plans such as gratuity, and
- (b) defined contribution plans such as provident fund and superannuation.

Gratuity obligations

The Group has maintained a Group Gratuity Cum Life Assurance Scheme with the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) towards which it annually contributes a sum determined by LIC. The liability or asset recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to yields on government securities at the end of the reporting period that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the

Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognised immediately in statement of profit and loss as past service cost.

(iv) Defined contribution plans

Provident fund

The Company has established 'National Stock Exchange of India Limited Employee Provident Fund Trust' and one of the subsidiary, NSE Infotech Services Limited has established 'NSE Infotech Services Limited Employee Provident Fund Trust' to which both the employee and the employer make monthly contribution equal to 12% of the employee's basic salary, respectively. Such contribution to the provident fund for all employees, are charged to the profit and loss. In case of any liability arising due to shortfall between the return from its investments and the administered interest rate, the same is provided for by the Group.

One of the subsidiary, NSEIT Limited contributes to the Government administered fund and the same is charged to statement of profit and loss.

Superannuation

Superannuation benefits for employees designated as chief managers and above are covered by Group policies with the Life Insurance Corporation of India. Group's contribution payable for the year is charged to profit and loss. There are no other obligations other than the annual contribution payable.

(v) Bonus plans

The Group recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses. The Group recognises a provision where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

(u) Contributed equity

Equity shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(v) Dividends

IV. Critical accounting estimates and judgements

The preparation of restated financial statements requires the use of accounting estimates which, by definition, will seldom equal the actual results. This note provides an overview of the areas that involved a higher degree of judgement or complexity, and of items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation for each affected line item in the financial statements.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgements are:

Estimation of fair value of unlisted securities Note 40 of Annexure VI

Estimation of useful life of intangible asset Note 3 of Annexure VI

Estimation of defined benefit obligation Note 30 of Annexure VI

Estimation of contingent liabilities refer Note 34 of Annexure VI

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Group and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

* On August 27, 2013, the Group has acquired additional stake of 49% in India Index Services & Products Limited, a subsidiary, for a cash consideration of Rs.1,000.6 Millions resulting in goodwill of Rs.655.9 Millions. (Refer Note 39)

Significant estimate: Useful life of intangible assets under development

The Group has completed the development of software that is used to in its various business processes. The Group estimates the useful life of the software to be 4 years based on the expected technical obsolescence of such assets. However, the actual useful life may be shorter or longer than 4 years, depending on technical innovations and competitor actions.

Impairment of goodwill

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to a cash generating unit, representing the lowest level within the Group at which goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and which is not higher than the Group's operating segment. The goodwill of Rs.655.9 Millions relates to the index licensing services activity of the Group and Rs.17.6 Millions relates to datafeed services. The recoverable amount of the cash generating unit has been determined based on value in use. Value in use has been determined based on future cash flows, after considering current economic conditions and trends, estimated future operating results, growth rates and anticipated future economic conditions.

As at April 1, 2015 i.e. transition date to Ind AS, the Group carried goodwill impairment test and estimated cash flows for a period of 5 years using internal forecasts. The management believes that any reasonably possible change in the key assumptions would not cause the carrying amount to exceed the recoverable amount of the cash generating units.

The Group has carried out annual goodwill impairment assessment as at March 31, 2016 and the carrying amount does not exceed the recoverable amount of the cash generating units. Accordingly there was no impairment recorded for the period.

As explained above, NSE contributes to the Settlement Guarantee Fund / Core Settlement Guarantee Fund ("Core SGF") established and maintained by its clearing corporation subsidiary – National Securities Clearing Corporation Limited (NSCCL) in accordance with the Regulation 33 of the Securities Contracts (Regulations) (SECC) Regulations, 2012 and as per the circulars issued by SEBI thereunder ("SEBI Regulations"). As per the SEBI Regulations, NSE was required to transfer 25% of its annual profits every year to a fund maintained by the NSCCL. Further, as per SEBI Circular CIR/MRD/DRMNP/25/2014 dated August 27, 2014 and Circular SEBI/HO/MRD/DRNP/CIR/2016/54 dated May 04, 2016, NSE and NSCCL are also required to contribute to the Minimum Required Corpus ("MRC") of the Core SGF maintained by the NSCCL.

The contribution to the Core SGF being regulatory in nature and has restricted use and purpose. Accordingly, as a matter of accounting prudence and consistent with the accounting policy followed while preparing the financial statements in the earlier years under Previous GAAP, the contributions made by NSE to the Core SGF is treated as an item of expenditure and hence has been charged to the Restated Statement of Profit and Loss in both the standalone and the consolidated financial statements of the NSE Group. Further, the contributions made by the NSCCL to the MRC of the Core SGF, being a Fund within the same legal entity, is recorded as appropriation from its reserves both in the standalone financial statements of NSCCL and the consolidated financial statements of the NSE Group.

On adoption of Ind AS, an alternative view and approach to the above in these Consolidated Financial Statements of NSE Group could be to record the contribution to the Core SGF made by NSE as an appropriation from reserves, instead of charging as an expense in the consolidated statement of profit and loss of the NSE Group. This is considering that NSE, NSCCL and the Core SGF are part of NSE group thereby elimination intra-group transactions. NSE is in the process of seeking necessary clarification in this regard.

However, as mentioned above since the contribution to Core SGF is regulatory requirement having restricted use and purpose and as a matter of accounting prudence and consistent with the accounting policy followed while preparing the financial statements in the earlier years under previous GAAP, the Group has decided to continue to treat the contribution to the Core SGF by NSE as an item of expenditure in these consolidated financial statements and in its restated consolidated financial information.

40 FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group's business activities expose it to a variety of financial risks, namely liquidity risk, market risks and credit risk. The Group's senior management has the overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Group's risk management framework. The Group has constituted a Risk Management Committee, which is responsible for developing and monitoring the Group's risk management policies. The Group's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Group, to set appropriate risk limits and controls and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Group's activities.

The Risk Management Committee of the Group is supported by the Treasury department that provides assurance that the Group's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Group's policies and risk objectives. The Treasury department activities are designed to:

- protect the Group's financial results and position from financial risks
- maintain market risks within acceptable parameters, while optimising returns; and
- protect the Group's financial investments, while maximising returns.
- The Treasury department is responsible to maximise the return on companies internally genereted funds.

A MANAGEMENT OF LIQUIDITY RISK

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group will face in meeting its obligations associated with its financial liabilities. The Group's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that it will have sufficient funds to meet its liabilities when due without incurring unacceptable losses. In doing this, management considers both normal and stressed conditions. A material and sustained shortfall in our cash flow could undermine the Group's credit rating and impair investor confidence.

The following table shows the maturity analysis of the Group's financial liabilities based on contractually agreed undiscounted cash flows as at the Balance Sheet date.

B MANAGEMENT OF MARKET RISK

The Group's size and operations result in it being exposed to the following market risks that arise from its use of financial instruments:

- price risk; and
- interest rate risk

The above risks may affect the Group's income and expenses, or the value of its financial instruments. The objective of the Group's management of market risk is to maintain this risk within acceptable parameters, while optimising returns. The Group's exposure to, and management of, these risks is explained below.

C MANAGEMENT OF CREDIT RISK

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Group if a customer or counter-party fails to meet its contractual obligations.

Trade receivables

Concentrations of credit risk with respect to trade receivables are limited, due to the Group's customer base being large and diverse and also on account of member's deposits kept by the Group as collateral which can be utilised in case of member default. All trade receivables are reviewed and assessed for default on a quarterly basis.

Our historical experience of collecting receivables, supported by the level of default, is that credit risk is low.

Other financial assets

The Group maintains exposure in cash and cash equivalents, term deposits with banks, investments in commercial papers, government securities, investments in mutual funds and exchange traded funds. The Group has difersified portfolio of investment with various number of counter-parties which have secure credit ratings hence the risk is reduced. Individual risk limits are set for each counter-party based on financial position, credit rating and past experience. Credit limits and concentration of exposures are actively monitored by the Group's Treasury department.

The Group's maximum exposure to credit risk as at September 30, 2016, March 31, 2016, March 31, 2015, March 31, 2014, March 31, 2013, and March 31, 2012, is the carrying value of each class of financial assets as disclosed in note 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

The fair value of financial instruments referred above have been classified into three categories depending on the inputs used in the valuation technique. The hierarachy gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active market for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The categories used are as follows :

- Level 1:

This hierarchy includes financial instruments measured using quoted prices. This includes listed equity instruments, exchange traded funds and mutual funds that have quoted price. The fair value of all equity instruments which are traded in the stock exchanges is valued using the closing price as at the reporting period. The mutual funds are valued using the closing Net Assets Value (NAV). NAV represents the price at which the issuer will issue further units and will redeem such units of mutual fund to and from the investors.

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (such as traded bonds, debentures, government securities and commercial papers) is determined using Fixed Income Money Market and Derivatives Association of India (FIMMDA) inputs and valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data and rely as little as possible on entity-specific estimates. Considering that all significant inputs required to fair value such instruments are observable, these are included in level 2.

The fair value of investments in unlisted equity shares of NCDEX has been classified within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Valuations of Level 2 instruments can be verified to recent trading activity for identical or similar instruments, broker or dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources with reasonable levels of price transparency. Consideration is given to the nature of the quotations (e.g., indicative or firm) and the relationship of recent market activity to the prices provided from alternative pricing sources.

The Management has considered Price to Book (P/B) multiple under the Market Approach to arrive at the fair value of investment in NCDEX as at each reporting date. The P/B is computed based on the price of recent investment transaction available in market and applied to the book value of NCDEX to arrive at the fair value of Group's investment in NCDEX at each reporting date.

- Level 3:

If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3. There are no transfers between levels 1 and 2 during the period. The group's policy is to recognise transfers into and transfers out of fair value hirerchy level as at the end of reporting period.

ii) Valuation processes :

The finance department of the Group includes a team that performs the valuations of financial assets and liabilities required for financial reporting purposes, including level 3 fair values. This team reports directly to the Chief Financial Officer (CFO).

- For financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

Significant estimates

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques. The Company uses its judgement to select a variety of methods and make assumptions that are mainly based on market conditions existing at the end of each reporting period. For details of the key assumptions used and the impact of the changes to these assumptions, see note (i).

Annexure VI – Notes to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

Note 41 - Statement of Reconciliation between the Indian GAAP and Ind AS

Note 1 First time adoption of Ind AS

The accounting policies set out in Annexure V have been applied in preparing the Restated Consolidated Financial statements for the half years ended September 30, 2016 and for the years ended March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. The Group has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1 ,2015 while preparing Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments are made in the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments are made in the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

An explanation of how the transition from Indian GAAP to Ind AS has affected the Group's Restated Consolidated Financial Information is set out in the following tables and notes.

A. Exemptions and exceptions availed

Set out below are the applicable Ind AS 101 optional exemptions and mandatory exceptions applied in the transition from previous GAAP to Ind AS as at the transition date, i.e. April 1, 2015.

A.1 Ind AS optional exemptions

A.1.1 Deemed cost

Ind AS 101 permits a first-time adopter to elect to continue with the carrying value for all of its property, plant and equipment as recognised in the financial statements as at the date of transition to Ind AS, measured as per the Previous GAAP and use that as its deemed cost as at the date of transition after making necessary adjustments for de-commissioning liabilities. This exemption can also be used for intangible assets covered by Ind AS 38 Intangible Assets and Investment Property covered by Ind AS 40 Investment Properties.

Accordingly, the Group has elected to measure all of its property, plant and equipment, intangible assets and investment property at their Previous GAAP carrying value.

A.1.2 Business combinations

Ind AS 101 provides the option to apply Ind AS 103 prospectively from the transition date or from a specific date prior to the transition date. This provides relief from full retrospective application that would require restatement of all business combinations prior to the transition date.

The Group elected to apply Ind AS 103 prospectively to business combinations occurring after its transition date. Business combinations occurring prior to the transition date have not been restated instead have been accounted as per previous GAAP. The Group has applied same exemption for investment in associates and joint ventures.

A.1.3 Designation of previously recognised financial instruments

Ind AS 101 allows an entity to designate investments in equity instruments at FVOCI on the basis of the facts and circumstances at the date of transition to Ind AS.

The Group has elected to apply this exemption for its investment in equity instruments.

A.1.4 Leases

Appendix C to Ind AS 17 requires an entity to assess whether a contract or arrangement contains a lease. In accordance with Ind AS 17, this assessment should be carried out at the inception of the contract or arrangement. Ind AS 101 provides an option to make this assessment on the basis of facts and circumstances existing at the date of transition to Ind AS, except where the effect is expected to be not material.

The Group has elected to apply this exemption for such contracts/arrangements.

A.2 Ind AS mandatory exceptions

A.2.1 Estimates

An entity's estimates in accordance with Ind AS at the date of transition to Ind AS shall be consistent with estimates made in for the same date in accordance with previous GAAP (after adjustments to reflect any difference in accounting policies), unless there is objective evidence that those estimates were in error.

Ind AS estimates as at April 1, 2015 are consistent with the estimates as at the same date made in conformity with previous GAAP. The Group made estimates for following items in accordance with Ind AS at the date of transition as these were not required under previous GAAP:

- Investment in mutual funds / ETFs carried at FVPL:
- Investment in equity instruments carried at FVOCI;
- Investment in debt instruments carried at FVOCI; and
- Fair value of the Investment property.

A.2.2 Classification and measurement of financial assets

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification and measurement of financial assets (investment in debt instruments) on the basis of the facts and circumstances that exist at the date of transition to Ind AS. Accordingly, classification and measurement of bonds, debentures, government securities, commercial papers, certificate of deposits has been based on the facts and circumstances that exist at the date of transition to Ind AS.

A.2.3 Non-Controlling Interest

Ind AS 101 permits a first-time adopter to apply the following requirements of Ind AS 110 prospectively from the date of transition to Ind AS:

(i) the requirement that total comprehensive income should be attributed to the owners of the parent and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

(ii) the requirement that do not result in a loss of control, i.e., considering such a change as an equity transaction (transaction with owners in their capacity as owners) to be accounted for accordingly.

National Stock Exchange of India Limited

Annexure VI – Notes to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

(iii) the requirements under Ind AS 110 for accounting for a loss of control over a subsidiary, and the related requirements under Ind AS 105.

The Group has applied the requirement of Ind AS 101 prospectively from April 1, 2015.

Ind AS 101 requires the group to reconcile equity, total comprehensive income and cash flows for prior periods. The following reconciliations provide the explanations and quantification of the differences arising from the transition from Previous GAAP to Ind AS in accordance with Ind AS 101:

- A. Reconciliation of Equity as at April 1, 2011 and as at March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012;
- B. Reconciliation of Statement of Profit and Loss for the years ended March, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012; and
- C. The impact on cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities for the year March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012 on transition to Ind AS is as follows :

Note 8: Non-controlling interest

Under Ind AS, Non-controlling interest is adjusted for its share of Ind AS profit. Further, under Indian GAAP, net profit is attributed to owners after deducting share of profit attributable to non-controlling interest holders, whereas under Ind AS it is presented as part of total comprehensive income.

Note 9: Other adjustments

Under Previous GAAP, the maintenance and operational charges paid to a service provider for generation of the electricity, has been charged to profit and loss accounts in the year in which it is contractually payable. Under Ind AS, such charges paid have been recognized on a straight line basis over the contractual term. Consequent to the above, following is the impact in statement of Profit and loss account and total equity for each of the respective years:

Items of income and expense that are not recognised in profit or loss but are shown in the statement of profit and loss includes re-measurements of defined benefit plans, and fair value gains or (losses) on FVOCI equity instruments and debt instruments. II. Significant accounting policies

The Restated Standalone Financial Information have been prepared in accordance with the historical cost basis, except as disclosed in the accounting policies below, and are drawn up in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") and Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under Section 133 of the Act [Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015] and other relevant provisions of the Act.

The financial statements up to year ended 31 March 2016 were prepared in accordance with Companies (Accounting Standard) Rules, 2006 (as amended) and other relevant provisions of the Act ("Previous GAAP").

(i) Historical cost convention

The Restated Standalone Financial Information have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following:

- certain financial assets and liabilities that is measured at fair value, and
- defined benefit plans plan assets measured at fair value

(a) Foreign currency translation and transactions

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the Restated Standalone Financial Information of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The Restated Standalone Financial Information are presented in Indian currency (INR), which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the period end exchange rates are recognised in profit or loss.

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss. For example, translation differences on non-monetary assets and liabilities such as equity instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in profit or loss as part of the fair value gain or loss and translation differences on non-monetary assets such as equity investments classified as FVOCI are recognised in other comprehensive income.

(b) Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Amounts disclosed as revenue are net of allowances, incentives, service taxes and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

The Company recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured and it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity. Revenue is recognised in the period when the service is provided as per arrangements/agreements with the customers. The sources of revenue are:

- (i) Transaction charges revenue is recognised on transactions in accordance with the Company's fee scales as an when the transaction occurs;
- (ii) Subscription and other fees revenue is recognised on a straight-line basis over the period to which the fee relates;
- (iii) Book building fees revenue is recognised at the time of completion of book building process.
- (iv) Others all other revenue is recognised in the period in which the service is provided.

In respect of members who have been declared as defaulters by the Company all amounts (dues) remaining to be recovered, net of available security and insurance cover available if any, till the date of being declared as defaulters are written off as bad debts. All subsequent recoveries are accounted when received.

Penal charges in respect of shortages due from the respective member is recognised in profit and loss as part of other revenue to the extent such charges are recoverable in the period of declaration of default.

Insurance claims are accounted on accrual basis when the claims become due and payable.

(c) Income taxes

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses, if any.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the Restated Standalone Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are recognised only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets are not recognised for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in subsidiaries, associates and interest in joint arrangements where it is not probable that the differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will not be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(d) Leases

As a lessee

Leases of property, plant and equipment and land where the Company, as lessee, has substantially transferred all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at the lease's inception at the fair value of the leased property or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments. The corresponding rental obligations, net of finance charges, are included in borrowings or other financial liabilities as appropriate. Each lease payment is allocated between the liability and finance cost. The finance cost is charged to the profit or loss over the lease period so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are not transferred to the Company as lessee are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases (net of any incentives received from the lessor) are charged to profit or loss on a straightline basis over the period of the lease unless the payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases.

As a lessor

Lease income from operating leases where the Company is a lessor is recognised in income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. The respective leased assets are included in the Restated Statement of Assets and Liabilities based on their nature.

(e) Impairment of assets

Intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

(f) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and Cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. These do not include bank balances earmarked/restricted for specific purposes.

(g) Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(h) Investments and other financial assets

(i) Classification

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through profit or loss), and
- those measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in profit or loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in debt instruments, this will depend on the business model in which the investment is held. For investments in equity instruments, this will depend on whether the Company has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income. The Company reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

(ii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in Restated Standalone Statement of Profit or Loss.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Company's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three measurement categories into which the group classifies its debt instruments:

- Amortised cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at amortised cost and is not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest rate method.
- Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI): Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest, are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI). Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment gains or losses, interest revenue and foreign exchange gains and losses which are recognised in profit and loss. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from equity to profit or loss and recognised in other gains/ (losses). Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.
- Fair value through profit or loss: Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss is recognised in profit or loss and presented net in the Restated Standalone Statement of Profit and Loss within other gains/(losses) in the period in which it arises. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

Equity investments (other than Investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture)

The Company subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Where the Company's management has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to profit or loss. Dividends from such investments continue to be recognised in profit or loss as other income when the Company's right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in other gain/ (losses) in the Restated statement of profit and loss. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

Equity Investments (in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture)

Investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Where an indication of impairment exists, the carrying amount of the investment is assessed and written down immediately to its recoverable amount. The accounting policy on impairment of non-financial assets is disclosed in Note (e) of Annexure V. On disposal of investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture, the difference between net disposal proceeds and the carrying amounts are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Transition to Ind AS

Upon first-time adoption of Ind AS, the Company has elected to measure its investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates at the Previous GAAP carrying amount as its deemed cost on the date of transition to Ind AS i.e., April 1, 2015. The Company has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Standalone Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and April 1, 2011.

(iii) Impairment of financial assets

The Company assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost and FVOCI debt instruments. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk.

For trade receivables only, the Company applies the simplified approach permitted by Ind AS 109, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables.

De-recognition of financial assets

A financial asset is de-recognised only when

- The Company has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or
- retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the company has transferred an asset, it evaluates whether it has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is derecognised. Where the company has not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is not de-recognised.

Where the Company has neither transferred a financial asset nor retains substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is de-recognised if the Company has not retained control of the financial asset. Where the Company retains control of the financial asset, the asset is continued to be recognised to the extent of continuing involvement in the financial asset.

(iv) Income recognition

Interest income

Interest income from debt instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial assets to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but does not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividends

Dividends are recognised in profit and loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to the Company, and the amount of the dividend can be reliably measured.

(i) Financial liabilities

(i) Classification as debt or equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by the Company are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

(ii) Initial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial liabilities are initially measured at the amortised cost unless at initial recognition, they are classified as fair value through profit and loss.

(iii) Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(iv) Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

(j) Derivatives

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period.

(k) Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Restated Statement of Assets and Liabilities where there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. The legally enforceable right must not be contingent on future events and must be enforceable in the normal course of business and in the event of default, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or the counterparty.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(I) Property, plant and equipment (including CWIP)

Freehold land is carried at historical cost of acquisition. All other items of property, plant and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to profit or loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its property, plant and equipment recognised as at April 1, 2015 measured as per the previous Indian GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of the property, plant and equipment. The Company has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Standalone Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method to allocate their cost, net of their residual values, over their estimated useful lives or, in the case of certain leased furniture, fittings and equipment, the shorter lease term as follows:

Building	60 years
Furniture and fixture	5 to 10 years
Office equipment	4 to 5 years
Electrical equipment	10 years
Computer systems office automation	3 years
Computer systems – others	4 years
Computer software	4 years
Telecommunication systems	4 years
Trading systems	4 years

The property, plant and equipment including land acquired under finance leases is depreciated over the asset's useful life or the lease term if there is no reasonable certainty that the Company will obtain ownership at the end of the lease term.

The useful lives have been determined based on technical evaluation done by the management's expert which are higher than those specified by Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013, in order to reflect the actual usage of the assets. The residual values are not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset. The asset's residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted on a prospective basis if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount and are included in profit or loss

Depreciation on assets purchased / disposed off during the year is provided on pro rata basis with reference to the date of additions / deductions.

Fixed assets whose aggregate cost is Rs. 5,000 or less are depreciated fully in the year of acquisition.

acquisition.

(m) Investment properties

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is accounted as investment property. Investment property is measured initially at its cost, including related transaction costs.

Investment properties are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Investment properties generally have a useful life of 60 years. The useful life has been determined based on technical evaluation performed by the management's expert.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of its investment properties recognised as at April 1, 2015 measured as per the previous Indian GAAP and use that carrying value as the deemed cost of investment properties. The Company has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Standalone Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013.

(n) Intangible assets

Costs associated with maintaining software programmes are recognised as an expense as incurred. Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of identifiable and unique software products controlled by the Company are recognised as intangible assets when the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the software so that it will be available for use
- management intends to complete the software and use or sell it
- there is an ability to use or sell the software
- it can be demonstrated how the software will generate probable future economic benefits
- adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the software are available, and
- the expenditure attributable to the software during its development can be reliably measured.

Directly attributable costs that are capitalised as part of the software include employee costs and an appropriate portion of relevant overheads.

Capitalised development costs are recorded as intangible assets and amortised from the point at which the asset is available for use.

Computer software is amortised over a period of 4 years.

Transition to Ind AS

On transition to Ind AS, the Company has elected to continue with the carrying value of all of intangible assets recognised as at April 1, 2015 measured as per the previous GAAP and use that carrying value the deemed cost of intangible assets. The Company has followed the same accounting policy choices (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions availed as per Ind AS 101) as initially adopted on transition date i.e. April 1, 2015 while preparing Proforma Restated Standalone Financial Information for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012. Accordingly, suitable restatement adjustments in the accounting heads are made to the financial statements as of and for the years ended March 31, 2015, 2014, 2012 and April 1, 2011.

(o) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial period which are unpaid. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(p) Provisions

Provisions for legal claims and discounts/incentives are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

At the end of each reporting period, provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at a future date. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

(q) Contingent Liabilities

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

(r) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. Short term employee benefits are recognised in Restated Statement of profit and loss in the period in which the related service is rendered. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the Restated Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liabilities for earned leave are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. They are therefore measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method. The benefits are discounted using the market yields at the end of the reporting period that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation. Remeasurements as a result of experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in profit or loss.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the Restated Standalone Statement of Assets and Liabilities since the company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations

The Company operates the following post-employment schemes:

- (a) defined benefit plans such as gratuity, and
- (b) defined contribution plans such as provident fund and superannuation.

Gratuity obligations

The Company has maintained a Group Gratuity Cum Life Assurance Scheme with the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) towards which it annually contributes a sum determined by LIC. The liability or asset recognised in the Restated Standalone Statement of Assets and Liabilities in respect of defined benefit gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method. The present value of the defined benefit obligation is determined by discounting the estimated future cash outflows by reference to yields on government securities at the end of the reporting period that have terms approximating to the terms of the related obligation.

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the statement of profit and loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the Restated Standalone Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments are recognised immediately in profit or loss as past service cost.

(iv) Defined contribution plans

Provident fund

The Company has established 'National Stock Exchange of India Limited Employee Provident Fund Trust' to which both the employee and the employer make monthly contribution equal to 12% of the employee's basic salary, respectively. Such contribution to the provident fund for all employees, are charged to the profit and loss. In case of any liability arising due to shortfall between the return from its investments and the administered interest rate, the same is provided for by the Company.

Superannuation

Superannuation benefits for employees designated as chief managers and above are covered by Company policies with the Life Insurance Corporation of India. Company's contribution payable for the year is charged to profit and loss. There are no other obligations other than the annual contribution payable.

(v) Bonus plans

The Company recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses. The Company recognises a provision where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

(s) Contributed equity

Equity shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(t) Dividends

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

Annexure V - Basis of Preparation and Significant Accounting Policies

(u) Earnings per share

(i) Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to owners of the company
- by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements and share split in equity shares issued during the year.

(ii) Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

(v) Core Settlement Guarantee Fund

The Company contributes to Settlement Guarantee Fund/ Core Settlement Guarantee Fund in accordance with Securities Exchange Board of India ('SEBI') regulations. The Company contributes 25% of its annual profits and also contributes amounts pertaining to Minimum Required Contribution to the Core Settlement Guarantee Fund maintained by National Securities Clearing Corporation Limited (subsidiary of the Company), which is determined as per SEBI guidelines. The contribution to Settlement Guarantee Fund/ Core Settlement Guarantee Fund is recorded as an expense and such amounts are separately disclosed as other current liability in balance sheet.

(w) Rounding of amounts

All amounts disclosed in the Restated Financial Information and notes have been rounded off to the nearest millions, unless otherwise stated.

(x) Reclassification

Previous year's figures have been reclassified / regrouped wherever necessary.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

The preparation of Restated Standalone Financial Information requires the use of accounting estimates which, by definition, will seldom equal the actual results. This note provides an overview of the areas that involved a higher degree of judgement or complexity, and of items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation for each affected line item in the Restated Standalone Financial Information.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgements are:

Estimation of fair value of unlisted securities Note 40 in Annexure VI Estimation of useful life of intangible asset Note 3 in Annexure VI Estimation of defined benefit obligation Note 30 (ii) in Annexure VI Estimation of contingent liabilities refer Note 34 in Annexure VI

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the Company and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The fair value of financial instruments as referred to in note above have been classified into three categories depending on the inputs used in the valuation technique. The hieraractly gives the highest priority to quoted prices in active market for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The categories used are as follows :

- Level 1:

This hierarchy includes financial instruments measured using quoted prices. This includes listed equity instruments, exchange traded funds and mutual funds that have quoted price. The fair value of all equity instruments which are traded in the stock exchanges is valued using the closing price as at the reporting period. The mutual funds are valued using the closing Net Assets Value (NAV). NAV represents the price at which the issuer will issue further units and will redeem such units of mutual fund to and from the investors.

- Level 2:

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (such as traded bonds, debentures, government securities and commercial papers) is determined using Fixed Income Money Market and Derivatives Association of India (FIMMDA) inputs and valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data and rely as little as possible on entity-specific estimates. Considering that all significant inputs required to fair value such instruments are observable, these are included in level 2.

The fair value of investments in equity shares of NCDEX has been classified within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Valuations of Level 2 instruments can be verified to recent trading activity for identical or similar instruments, broker or dealer guotations or alternative pricing sources with reasonable levels of price transparency. Consideration is given to the nature of the quotations (e.g., indicative or firm) and the relationship of recent market activity to the prices provided from alternative pricing sources.

The Management has considered Price to Book (P/B) multiple under the Market Approach to arrive at the fair value of investment in NCDEX as at each reporting date. The P/B is computed based on the price of recent investment transaction available in market and applied to the book value of NCDEX to arrive at the fair value of Company's investment in NCDEX at each reporting date.

- Level 3:

If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3, There are no transfers between levels 1 and 2 during the period. The Company's policy is to recognise transfers into and transfers out of fair value hirerchy level as at the end of reporting period.

ii) Valuation processes :

The finance department of the Company includes a team that performs the valuations of financial assets and liabilities required for financial reporting purposes, including level 3 fair values. This team reports directly to the Chief Financial Officer (CFO).

The carrying amounts of trade receivables, trade payables, other receivables, cash and cash equivalent including other current bank balances and other liabilities including deposits, creditor for capital expenditure, etc. are considered to be the same as their fair values, due to current and short term nature of such balances.

The fair value of finance lease obligation is based on discounted cash flow.

For financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

Significant estimates

The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques. The Company uses its judgement to select a variety of methods and make assumptions that are mainly based on market conditions existing at the end of each reporting period. For details of the key assumptions used and the impact of changes to these assumptions see note (i).

Note 40 - FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company's business activities expose it to a variety of financial risks, namely liquidity risk, market risks and credit risk. The Company's senior management has the overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management framework. The Company has constituted a Risk Management Committee, which is responsible for developing and monitoring the Company's risk management policies. The Company's risk management policies are established to identify and analyse the risks faced by the Company, to set appropriate risk limits and controls and to monitor risks and adherence to limits. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Company's activities.

The Risk Management Committee of the Company is supported by the Treasury department that provides assurance that the Company's financial risk activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with the Company's policies and risk objectives. The Treasury department activities are designed to:

- protect the Company's financial results and position from financial risks

- maintain market risks within acceptable parameters, while optimising returns; and
- protect the Company's financial investments, while maximising returns.
- The Treasury department is responsible to maximise the return on companies internally genereted funds.

A MANAGEMENT OF LIQUIDITY RISK

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will face in meeting its obligations associated with its financial liabilities. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that it will have sufficient funds to meet its liabilities when due without incurring unacceptable losses. In doing this, management considers both normal and stressed conditions. A material and sustained shortfall in our cash flow could undermine the Company's credit rating and impair investor confidence.

The following table shows the maturity analysis of the Company's financial liabilities based on contractually agreed undiscounted cash flows as at the Balance Sheet date.

B MANAGEMENT OF MARKET RISK

The Company's size and operations result in it being exposed to the following market risks that arise from its use of financial instruments:

- price risk; and

The above risks may affect the Company's income and expenses, or the value of its financial instruments. The objective of the Company's management of market risk is to maintain this risk within acceptable parameters, while optimising returns. The Company's exposure to, and management of, these risks is explained below.

POTENTIAL IMPACT OF RISK	MANAGEMENT POLICY	SENSITIVITY TO RISK
1. PRICE RISK
 1. PRICE RISK The Company is mainly exposed to the price risk due to its investment in mutual funds, exchange traded funds and investments in equity instruments. The price risk arises due to uncertainties about the future market values of these investments. At September 30, 2016, the exposure to price risk due to investment in mutual funds amounted to Rs. 25,249.0 million (March 31, 2016: Rs. 6,869.4 million, March 31, 2015 : Rs. 8,750 million, March 31, 2016: Rs. 6,869.4 million, March 31, 2013 : Rs. 344.3 million , and March 31,2012 : Rs. 1,188.5 million). At September 30, 2016, the exposure to price risk due to investment in exchange traded fund amounted to Rs. 4,005.3 million (March 31, 2016: Rs. 3,433.9 million, and March 31, 2015 : Rs. 685.8 million,). Equity Price Risk is related to the change in market reference price of the investments in equity securities. The fair value of some of the Company's investments in fair value through other comprehensive income securities exposes the Company to equity price risks. In general, these securities are not held for trading purposes. These investments are subject to changes in the market price of securities. The fair value of quoted equity instruments classified as fair value through other comprehensive income as at September 30, 2016 was Rs.6.8 million, Rs. 5.6 million, Rs. 2.5 million, Rs. 1038.3 million and Rs. 1587.8 million, Rs. 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012, was Rs. 4.2 million, Rs. 5.6 million, Rs. 2.5 million, Rs. 1038.3 million and Rs. 602.8 million, Rs. 898.1 million, Rs. 867.3 million and Rs. 602.8 million, as at March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013, and 2012, respectively), the fair value of which is determined using valuation techniques.	In order to manage its price risk arising from investments in mutual funds, the Company diversifies its portfolio in accordance with the limits set by the risk management policies. The Treasury department maintains a list of approved financial instruments. The use of any new investment must be approved by the Chief Financial Officer.	As an estimation of the approximate impact of price risk, with respect to mutual funds, exchange traded funds and investments in equity instruments, the Company has calculated the impact as follows. For mutual funds, a 0.25% increase in prices would have led to approximately an additional Rs. 63.1 million gain in the Statement of Profit and Loss (2015-16: Rs. 17.2 million, 2014-15: Rs. 21.9 million, 2013-14: Rs. 3.0 million, 2012-13: Rs. 0.9 million, 2011-12: Rs. 3.0 million, 2012-13: Rs. 0.9 million, 2011-12: Rs. 3.0 million, A 0.25% decrease in prices would have led to an equal but opposite effect. For exchange traded fund, a 10% increase in prices would have led to approximately an additional Rs. 400.5 million gain in the Statement of Profit and Loss (2015-16: Rs. 343.4 million, and 2014-15: Rs. 68.6 million). A 10% decrease in prices would have led to an equal but opposite effect. For equity instruments, a 10% increase in prices would have led to approximately an additional Rs. 165.4 million gain in Other comprehensive income (2015-16: Rs. 160.3 million gain, 2014-15: Rs. 138.7 million, 2013-14: Rs. 90.1 million, 2012-13: Rs. 190.6 million, 2011-12: Rs. 219.1 million). A 10% decrease in prices would have led to an equal but opposite effect.
2. INTEREST RATE RISK
2. INTEREST RATE RISK The Company is mainly exposed to the interest rate risk due to its investment in government securities. The interest rate risk arises due to uncertainties about the future market interest rate of these investments. Other than above, the Company does not designate any fixed rate financial assets as at fair value through profit or loss nor as at fair value through other comprehensive income. Therefore, changes in interest rates of fixed rate instruments would not affect profit or loss or equity. As at September 30, 2016, the exposure to interest rate risk due to investment in government securities amounted to Rs. 5,384.3 million (March 31, 2016: Rs. 12,671.1 million, March 31, 2015: Rs. 6,475.6 million, March 31, 2014 : Rs. 350.2 million and March 31, 2013: Rs. 154.5 million).	arising from investments in treasury bills and government securities, the Company diversifies its portfolio in accordance with the limits set by the risk management policies. The Treasury department maintains a list of approved financial instruments. The use of any new investment must be approved by the Chief Financial Officer.	interest rate risk, with respect to financial instruments, the Company has calculated the impact of a 0.25% change in interest rates. A 0.25% increase in interest rates would have led to approximately an additional Rs. 85.7 million loss in Other Comprehensive income (2015-16: Rs.

Note 2: Investments

Mutual funds and equity instruments (other than investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint venture):

Under Ind AS, these investments are required to be measured at fair value. The resulting fair value changes of these investments (other than equity instruments designated as at FVOCI) have been recognised in other equity as at the date of transition i.e. April 1, 2011 for the purpose of Restated Financial Information and subsequently in the profit or loss during the years ended March 31, 2016, 2015, 2014, 2013 and 2012.

Investments in Debt instruments

Under Previous GAAP, the investments in debentures, government securities (G-Sec), commercial papers and bond are measured at cost or fair value, whichever is lower, if classified as current investment. Long-term investments were carried at cost less provision for other than temporary decline in the value of such investments.

- a. Investments in Government Securities Under Ind AS, the Company has designated Government Securities (G-Sec) as fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI). Accordingly, these investments are required to be measured at fair value. At the date of transition to Ind AS i.e. April 1, 2011 for the purpose of Restated Financial Information, difference between the instrument's fair value and Previous GAAP carrying amount has been recognised in other equity (Retained earnings for interest income component and Debt instruments through Other Comprehensive Income for fair value change). Interest income and fair value changes are recognised in the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income, respectively.
- b. Under Ind AS, the Company has designated debenture, commercial papers, certificate of deposits and bonds at amortised cost. Difference between the instruments's amortised value and Previous GAAP carrying amount has been recognised in other reserves and subsequently in the statement of profit or loss.

We had no outstanding loans or borrowings as of March 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016.

Factors Affecting Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Our business and results of operations have been affected by a number of important factors that are expected to continue to affect our business and results of operations in the future. These factors include the following:

Trading Volumes & Market Activity

The volume and value of equities, derivatives and other products traded on our exchange and, the number of new entity and product listings on our exchange, largely determines revenue from trading activity on our exchange. As a result, trading volumes and the level of general market activity on our exchange directly affects our level of profitability.

Liquidity migrates between international capital markets in response to changing market conditions, and greater market volatility in India generally increases trading volumes on our exchange, particularly in our derivatives market. Market volatility and trading volumes are dependent on macroeconomic factors and the financial prospects of companies whose securities are listed on our exchange and to which securities listed on our exchange are benchmarked. A significant amount of our trading revenues for derivatives are generated through algorithmic and high-volume trading at co-location facilities on our premises which provide direct market access connections to our trading systems. See "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – SEBI has initiated an examination and has directed our Company to also conduct an independent forensic examination by an external agency, into the co-location facilities of our Company and has also directed our Company to deposit the revenue generated from co-location in a separate bank account. Any adverse SEBI directive on this matter may materially and adversely affect our co-location business, results of operations, business and reputation" on pages 21 and 23.

We seek to expand and diversify the range of securities listed on our exchange to sustain trading activity on our exchange despite fluctuations in market volatility by company, sector or asset class. There can be no assurance that our efforts to create a market for a particular sector or asset class will succeed. The wholesale debt market was the first market offered by our exchange in 1994 and we continue to invest in this market although it does not currently generate significant revenue for us. Similarly, while our currency derivatives market and the interest rates futures market continue to see growth in trading volumes, the contributions from these markets to our revenue are currently minimal.

Increased trading volumes may also in turn benefit our post-trade and non-trading businesses. Market interest in our indices, data on our exchange and indices and demand for securities linked to our exchange and the Indian market typically increases during periods of high trading activity or increased market volatility. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks –We may not be able to maintain or increase our trading volumes, which may result in loss of market share, a reduction in revenue from transaction charges or other adverse effects on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects and – Broad market trends and other factors beyond our control could significantly reduce demand for our products and services" on pages 20 to 21, respectively.

India's Economic Conditions

Nearly all of the issuers of securities listed on our exchange and our trading and clearing members are located in India, and the majority of our lines of business are focused on the Indian capital markets. Therefore, general economic conditions in India can have a significant impact on our results of operations.

While relatively sudden declines to general economic conditions in India can result in market volatility and, therefore, increased short term trading volumes on our exchange, any such decline would have an adverse effect on our overall results of operations. The Indian economy and capital markets are influenced by economic conditions and stability in India and globally. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – Broad market trends and other factors beyond our control could significantly reduce demand for our products and services" on pages 20 and 21.

India is projected to be among the fastest growing economies in the world between 2016 and 2020 and is expected to become the third largest economy in the world by 2030, with GDP approximately tripling to $7 trillion by 2030, according to the Oliver Wyman Report. We anticipate that the growth of the Indian economy, together continued focus on economic liberalization by the GoI, will lead to an expansion of the Indian capital markets and opportunities for us to further expand our business in the future.

Regulatory Oversight and Governmental Policies

Regulatory changes relating to market structure or affecting particular types of securities traded on our exchange, transactions, pricing structures, exchange participants or reporting or compliance requirements can affect our business and the businesses of companies that issue securities listed on, or trade on, our exchange.

We operate in a highly regulated industry and are subject to extensive regulation. In particular, the SEBI regulates us and has broad powers to approve or consent to proposals made by us, whether with respect to rule amendments, product range or infrastructure or market development initiatives. The SEBI may also conduct periodic reviews, audits and inspections and issue suspension orders of our exchange. We face the risk of significant intervention by the SEBI and other regulatory authorities, including extensive examination and surveillance activity. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We operate in a highly regulated industry and any failure to comply with our legal and regulatory requirements or obligations may result in censures, fines and other penalties imposed on us" on pages 26 and 27.

The Indian central and state governments have traditionally exercised, and continue to exercise, significant influence over many aspects of the Indian economy. Since 1991, successive governments have pursued policies of economic liberalization and financial sector reforms. The current government has announced its general intention to continue India's current economic and financial sector liberalization and deregulation policies. See also "Risk Factors – External Risks – Government and regulatory policies in India or abroad or changes to such policies could materially adversely affect our customers, leading to a reduction in trading volumes, transaction charges or demand for our products and services" on page 42.

The recent GoI action of demonetization has resulted in uncertainty which could lead to greater market volatility in the capital markets, potentially increasing our turnover, or negatively affect GDP growth, which could have a corresponding negative affect on capital markets, according to the Oliver Wyman Report. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – There is uncertainty on the impact of currency demonetization in India on our business" on page 27.

Changes in policies by the GoI or foreign governments may relate to, among others, monetary or tax law or policy, tax treaties, regulatory changes in India regarding foreign portfolio investors, the listing requirements on competing stock exchanges, changes affecting the ability of investors to freely trade on our platforms, the taxation or repatriation of profits from trading on international exchanges, or changes to the manner in which securities are traded, cleared and settled. Legislative and regulatory changes may create potential for regulatory arbitrage if significant policy differences emerge. Such changes, if favorable may attract increased trading activity to our exchange, or if unfavorable may reduce the level of activity on our exchange or divert trading volumes to other exchanges.

Technology Advancements

The successful operation of our business and operating results are dependent on our use and deployment of technology to provide fast, reliable and secure trading services. Our advanced electronic systems for trade execution and post-trade services, including clearing, settlement and risk management, provide reliable and consistent transaction execution and settlement, which helps us to maintain our competitive position. We have an experienced team of IT professionals, supported by select third-party IT vendors, to operate and support our infrastructure and software and create and implement new technologies.

Many of the key systems and technology that support our "anytime, anywhere, any asset" platform were developed in house, including our screen-based trading system National Platform for Automated Trading, or NEAT.

We have rolled out co-location facilities on our premises and provide direct market access connections to our trading systems. We are in the process of further modernizing our trading infrastructure for algorithmic and high-volume trading and expanding our suite of derivative products. In addition, we plan to regularly update our traditional trading terminals and internet and mobile browser-based trading platforms to further improve reliability and trade execution.

We expect that advances in technology will enable us to expand access to our exchange for existing and new market participants, provide more efficient trade execution services and increase our economies of scale. The telecom sector in particular is poised for growth in the internet and mobile services, including the rise of fin-tech companies and mobile banking services, which would improve access to financial services in India, according to Oliver Wyman Report. We also face potential competition from fin-tech firms and financial institutions that could develop new products or services to compete with those that we provide, such as alternative trading, clearing and settlement systems and back-end services. See "Risk Factors – Internal Risks –We may be unable to keep up with rapid technological change" on page 28. Consequently, our ability to increase our revenues and profitability depends on our success in updating and improving our systems, platforms and technology infrastructure.

Global and Domestic Competition

We face competition globally and domestically in each of our primary lines of business and competition is a major factor in the determination of the pricing of our products and services. Our listing and trading businesses face competition from traditional trading venues in and outside of India. In our non-trading businesses, our index business competes with global index providers that maintain indices that track the Indian capital markets and domestic index providers who have entered alliances with global players. Our data feed business competes with domestic and global data providers who employ advanced data analytics solutions and our commercial technology business faces competition primarily from other key players in India. In each of our businesses, we compete primarily on pricing, but also increasingly in respect of types and range of product offerings in response to widening market demand. See also "Our Business – Competition" and "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We operate in a competitive industry, and we may not be able to compete successfully" on pages 174 and 25, respectively.

Interest rates and funds available for investment

We earn a significant amount of income from investment activity, namely from revenue derived from investing deposits received from trading members, which we classify as investment income, and the revenue derived from investing our own surplus funds from treasury, which we classify as other income. We invest these funds primarily in bonds, mutual funds and bank deposits, and to a lesser extent, in equity ETFs. We follow our investment policy that is governed by the SEBI guidelines in investing these funds and earn interest income, dividend income and income from redemption of units in mutual funds.

The investment and treasury income that we receive depends primarily on two factors, namely (i) the prevailing interest rates in the case of investments we make in interest bearing assets (or on market rates of return in the case of investments that we make in non-interest bearing investments) and (ii) the levels of cash surplus that we have available for investment. These, in turn, depend on external factors such as the prevailing interest rate and macroeconomic environment in India, and levels of market activity. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – Declines in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position" on page 23.

The amount of cash that we receive as collateral for a transaction, and therefore have available for investment, depends primarily on the margin policy applicable to the particular trade and the settlement period of the trade. We invest our own funds, as well as cash that we receive from market participants and earn interest and dividend income on such investments. The deposits and collateral that we receive from market participants is interest free, so any income that we earn on investments made with such funds accrues to our benefit and we recognize income from such investments as income from operations on our statement of profit and loss.

For the six months ended September 30, 2016 and for fiscal 2016, fiscal 2015 and fiscal 2014, our investment income under revenue from operations and our treasury income under other income together accounted for 33.2%, 31.4%, 36.1% and 40.0% of our total income, respectively.

Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue recognition

Our revenue is measured at the fair value of consideration received or receivable. Amounts disclosed as revenue are net of allowances, incentives, service taxes and amounts collected on behalf of third parties. We recognize revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured and it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity. Revenue is recognized in the period when the service is provided in accordance with our relevant arrangements and agreements with our customers.

While our revenues are largely transaction based, in particular our revenue from transaction charges related to trading on our exchange, we also receive recurring revenues such as annual listing fees, revenues from technology services, indices licensing fees and data feed subscriptions.

We recognize revenues as follows:

- Transaction charges revenue is recognized on transactions in accordance with our fee scales as and when a transaction occurs;
- Subscription/ Datafeed services and other fees revenue is recognized on a straight-line basis over the period to which the fee relates;
- Book building fees revenue is recognized at the time of completion of the book building process;
- Revenue from the sale of software products (software product licenses, digital certificates and resale of hardware and software) is recognized when the buyer is transferred the significant risks and benefits of ownership of the products;
- Revenue from online examination services are recognized on the dates when exams are conducted and revenue from e-learning activity is recognized at the time of enrollment;
- Revenue from consulting services (software development) is recognized in the accounting period in which the services are rendered. For fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognized based on the actual service provided to the end of the reporting period as a proportion of the total services to be provided (percentage of completion method). Estimates of revenues, costs or extent of progress toward completion are revised if circumstances change. Any resulting increases or decreases in estimated revenues or costs are reflected in statement of profit and loss in the period in which the circumstances that give rise to the revision become known by management.
- Revenues from information technology and process support charges and maintenance are recognized on time and material basis based on the terms agreed with the customers; and
- Others all other revenue is recognized in the period in which the service is provided.

Income taxes

Income tax expense or credit for a period is the tax payable on the period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses, if any.

The current income tax charge is calculated based on tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period. We periodically evaluate positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation and make provisions where appropriate based on amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is calculated using the liability method on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, deferred tax liabilities are not recognized if they arise from the initial recognition of goodwill. Deferred income tax is also not accounted for if it arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction does not affect accounting profit or taxable profit (tax loss). Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are recognized only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilize those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax liabilities are not recognized for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in subsidiaries, branches and associates and interest in joint arrangements where we are able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are not recognized for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in subsidiaries, associates and interest in joint arrangements where it is not probable that the differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will not be available against which the temporary difference can be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognized in restated consolidated statement of profit and loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In such case, the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively

Dividend distribution tax paid on dividends is recognized consistently with the presentation of the transaction that creates the income tax consequence. Dividend distribution tax is charged to restated consolidated profit and loss if the dividend itself is charged to statement of profit and loss. If the dividend is recognized in equity, the presentation of dividend distribution tax is recognized in equity.

Investments and other financial assets

Classification

We classify our financial assets into two categories: (i) those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through profit or loss), and (ii) those measured at amortized cost. The classification depends on the business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses are either recorded in profit or loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in debt instruments, recognition depends on the business model in which the investment is held. For investments in equity instruments, recognition depends on whether we have made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income. We reclassify debt investments when and only when our business model for managing those assets changes.

Measurement

At initial recognition, we measure a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in profit or loss. Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on our or our Subsidiary's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. All equity investments are subsequently measured at fair value. For further details, see Note 1(III)(j) to our consolidated Restated Financial Information beginning on page 215.

Debt instruments

There are three measurement categories into which we classify our debt instruments.

- Amortized cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows, where those cash flows solely represent payments of principal and interest, are measured at amortized cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at amortized cost and is not part of a hedging relationship is recognized in statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognized or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest rate method.
- Fair value through other comprehensive income, or FVOCI: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for sale of financial assets, where the assets' cash flows solely represent payments of principal and interest, are measured at FVOCI. Movements in the carrying amount are recognized in other comprehensive income, except for the recognized in profit and loss. When a financial asset is derecognized, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in other comprehensive income is reclassified from equity to the statement of profit and loss and recognized in other gains/ (losses). Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.
- Fair value through profit or loss, or FVPL: Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortized cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through profit or loss. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at fair value through profit or loss is recognized in statement of profit and loss and presented net in our restated consolidated statement of profit and loss within other gains/(losses) in the period in which it arises. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income.

Equity investments (other than investments in associates and joint venture)

We measure all equity investments at fair value. Where our management has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to statement of profit and loss. Dividends from such investments continue to be recognized in statement of profit and loss as other income when our right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognized in other gain/ (losses) in the statement of profit and loss. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

Impairment of Financial Assets

We assess on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortized cost and FVOCI debt instruments. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk. For trade receivables only, we apply the simplified approach permitted by Ind AS 109, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognized from initial recognition of the receivables.

A financial asset is de-recognized only when we have transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or we retain the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where we have transferred an asset, we evaluate whether we have transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is de-recognized. Where we have not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is not de-recognized.

Where we have neither transferred a financial asset nor retain substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset, the financial asset is de-recognized if we have not retained control of the financial asset. Where we retain control of the financial asset, the asset is continued to be recognized to the extent of continuing involvement in the financial asset.

Income Recognition

Interest income from debt instruments is recognized using the effective interest rate method. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial assets to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. When calculating the effective interest rate, we estimate the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument but do not consider the expected credit losses.

Dividends are recognized in profit and loss only when the right to receive payment is established, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the dividend will flow to us, and the amount of the dividend can be reliably measured.

Core Settlement Guarantee Fund

Prior to August 29, 2016, SEBI rules required a recognized stock exchange, such as our exchange, to transfer 25% of its annual profits on a standalone basis every year to a settlement guarantee fund set up by a clearing corporation that clears and settles trades executed on that stock exchange in order to guarantee the settlement of trades executed on that stock exchange. In our case, our wholly-owned Subsidiary, NSCCL, which conducts the clearing and settlement of trades for all segments of our exchange, maintains a core settlement guarantee fund, or CSGF, for each segment of a recognized stock exchange to guarantee the settlement of trades executed in the respective segment. In the event that a clearing member fails to settle its obligations, funds in the CSGF would be used to complete the settlement. If and when the CSGF is required to be utilized in accordance with the SEBI guidelines, we record such amount as a loss in our statement of profit and loss.

The clearing corporation is required to contribute at least 50% of the minimum required corpus, whereas the recognized stock exchange is required to contribute at least 25% of the minimum required corpus. The remaining 25% is required to be contributed by clearing members. Contributions made by the stock exchanges to a CSGF can be offset against the requirement by a stock exchange to transfer 25% of its annual profits to the settlement guarantee fund described above. On August 29, 2016, SEBI removed the provision that requires a recognized stock exchange to transfer 25% of its annual profits to cSGF only up to August 29, 2016. Going forward, we would be required to contribute amounts to CSGF to make up any shortfalls based on certain stress tests. In additional to our requisite contributions, fines and penalties recovered from members and income from investing CSGF funds are each attributed to the CSGF balance. We invest amounts in the CSGF in categories of securities prescribed under SEBI's guidelines.

Contribution to the CSGF by our Company is recorded as an expense in our consolidated statement of profit and loss and contribution by NSCCL is recorded as an appropriation from our retained earnings. These amounts are separately disclosed as Core Settlement Guarantee Fund in our restated consolidated statement of assets and liabilities. In addition, we have been providing for the amount of our contribution to the CSGF maintained by NSCCL in our consolidated financial statements since fiscal 2013. On May 4, 2016, SEBI required that all amounts provided for until March 31, 2015 be transferred to the CSGF. We have accordingly recognized all the amounts we had provided for until March 31, 2015 as an expense in each respective year for which such amount was provided for.

On adoption of Ind AS, an alternative approach could be to record our contributions to the CSGF as an appropriation from reserves, instead of charging as an expense in our consolidated statement of profit and loss, based on the view that our Company, NSCCL and the CSGF are part of NSE Group, thereby eliminating intra-group transactions.

While we are in the process of seeking further clarification in this regard, we have decided to continue to treat the contributions by our Company to the CSGF as item of expenditure in our consolidated financial statements and in our consolidated Restated Financial Information (i) because contribution to CSGF is a regulatory requirement with restrictions on use and purpose and (ii) as a matter of accounting prudence and consistent with the accounting policy followed while preparing the financial statements in the earlier years under Indian GAAP.

If we were to record our contributions to the CSGF as an appropriation instead of charging such contributions as an expense, the impact of such adjustments on our consolidated Restated Financial Information would be as follows:

Significant Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements require the application of judgment by our management in selecting appropriate assumptions for calculating financial or accounting estimates, which inherently contain some degree of uncertainty and which, by definition, will seldom equal the actual results. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated. They are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on us and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Below are the areas that involved a higher degree of judgement or complexity, and of items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed.

Estimation of fair value of unlisted securities

The finance department of our Company includes a team that performs the valuations of financial assets and liabilities required for financial reporting purposes. Where possible, the fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market (such as bonds, debentures, government securities and commercial papers) is determined using Fixed Income Money Market and Derivatives Association of India inputs and valuation techniques which maximize the use of observable market data and rely as little as possible on entity-specific estimates. Other valuation methods are also used where required, for example the fair value of one of our investments is computed based on the price of recent investment transaction available in market and applied to the book value of that particular investment using a 'Price to Book' multiple.

Estimation of useful life of intangible asset

Management estimates the useful life of the software used in various business processes to be four years based on the expected technical obsolescence of such assets. However, the actual useful life may be shorter or longer than four years, depending on technical innovations and the need to maintain competitive technology. Development costs that are directly attributable to the design and testing of identifiable and unique software products controlled by us are recognized as intangible assets when the following criteria are met:

- it is technically feasible to complete the software so that it will be available for use
- management intends to complete the software and use or sell it
- there is an ability to use or sell the software
- it can be demonstrated how the software will generate probable future economic benefits
- adequate technical, financial and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the software are available, and
- the expenditure attributable to the software during its development can be reliably measured.

Estimation of goodwill impairment

Goodwill and intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortization and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to a cash generating unit, such as index licensing services. The recoverable amount of the cash generating unit is determined based on value in use. Value in use has been determined based on future cash flows, after considering current economic conditions and trends, estimated future operating results, growth rates and anticipated future economic conditions. There were no impairment recorded for fiscal 2016 as we carried out an annual goodwill impairment assessment as at March 31, 2016 and the carrying amount did not exceed the recoverable amount of the cash generating units.

Estimation of defined benefit obligation

Defined Contribution Plans

We have established the National Stock Exchange of India Limited Employee Provident Fund Trust and one of our Subsidiaries, NSE Infotech Services Limited, has established the NSE Infotech Services Limited Employee Provident Fund Trust, to which both the employee and the employer make monthly contribution equal to 12% of the employee's basic salary, respectively. Contributions to the provident fund for all employees are charged to profit and loss. In case of any liability arising due to shortfall between the return from its investments and the administered interest rate, a provision is made by our Company.

Gratuity Obligations

We provide for gratuity for employees in accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Employees who are in continuous service for a period of 5 years are eligible for gratuity. The amount of gratuity that is payable on retirement or termination is determined based on of the employee's last drawn basic salary per month multiplied for the number of years of service. The gratuity plan is a funded plan and we make contribution to recognized funds with Life Insurance Corporation of India.

Management use assumptions concerning projected employee compensation levels and attrition rates to determine the present value of the interest rate guarantee for our employee provident fund. Gratuity is calculated by actuaries using the projected unit credit method.

Key Components of Our Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit & Loss

Income

We derive revenue from the following sources:

- (1) revenue from operations consisting primarily of revenue from (a) trading services, (b) listing services and processing fees, (c) licensing services, (d) data feed services, (e) technology services, (f) financial education business (which is accounted for as "registration and test enrolment fees" in our consolidated Restated Financial Information) and (g) income from investment of deposits received from trading members, and
- (2) other income comprising primarily of income from investments.

Revenue from operations

We derive our revenue from operations primarily from the fees that we charge to our trading members to trade on our exchange, which we record as revenue from "transaction charges" under "trading services" in our consolidated financial statements. Transaction charges are set according to our tiered fee structure and vary by type of product. Transaction charges include clearing and settlement charges, which our Company pays to NSCCL for the provision of clearing and settlement services for all of the cash and derivative products listed on our exchange. We also derive revenue, to a lesser extent, from initial and annual listing fees. In fiscal 2016 and the six months ended September 30, 2016, our revenue from transaction charges represented 62.7% and 63.2% of our revenue from operations, respectively.

In addition to income from investment of deposits received from trading members, our revenue from operations is composed of:

- income generated from our listing services, comprising of initial and annual listing fees (recorded as "listing fees" in our consolidated financial statements), book building fees and processing fees. Companies that list their securities on our exchange pay one-time initial listing fees, book building fees and processing fees at the time of listing. The initial listing fee is a fixed amount that is reviewed annually, while book building and processing fees are determined based on the size of a company's proposed securities offering. In addition, companies pay a recurring annual listing fee at the beginning of each year that their securities remain listed on our exchange in an amount determined based on total paid up share, bond or debenture capital;
- income generated from our index licensing business that we operate through our subsidiary, India Index Services & Products Limited. We charge fee for licensing our NIFTY indices and ETFs linked to NIFTY indices to stock exchanges (including four international stock exchanges), financial institutions, asset managers, brokers, investors, foreign stock exchanges and other enterprises that monitor the equity capital markets, and derive revenue primarily from licensing these to customers outside India;
- income generated from our data feed business that we operate through our subsidiary, DotEx International Limited, selling trading data, including real-time market data, sourced from our exchange through our online data feed service and data subscription packages;
- income generated from our technology services that includes the commercial technology business that we operate through our wholly-owned subsidiary, NSEIT, comprising of technology consultancy and development services for the financial services industry, primarily in the Indian and the United States markets;
- income generated from data center charges. These comprise of the fee we receive from providing co-location facilities through rented servers inside our exchange premises to our institutional clients and other sophisticated traders; and
- income generated from our financial education business that we offer through our subsidiary, NSE Academy, which is accounted for as "registration and test enrolment fees" in our consolidated financial statements. NSE Academy offers online training programs in various aspects of banking, financial services, financial markets and financial literacy.

Income from investments

Income from investments includes income that we derive from investing deposits received from trading members (which we receive when they are admitted for trading) and our investments. We classify the income derived from investing deposits received from trading members as revenue from operations, and the revenue derived from our own investments as other income. We invest these funds primarily in bonds, mutual funds and bank deposits, and to a lesser extent, in equity ETFs. We follow our investment policy that is governed by the SEBI guidelines in investing these funds and earn interest income, dividend income and income from redemption of units in mutual funds. See also "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – Declines in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial position" on page 23.

Contribution to Core Settlement Guarantee Fund

Tax expenses

Our tax expense includes current tax and deferred tax. Provisions for current tax are made on the basis of the estimated taxable income for the current accounting period in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Deferred tax results from temporary differences (related to timing) between the book and the taxable profits for the period and is accounted for using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted as on the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognized and carried forward only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty, except for carried forward losses and unabsorbed depreciation, which are recognized when it is probable that the difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

We strive to structure our operations, including our investment portfolio and treasury operations, in a tax efficient manner. For example, our investments in Public sector undertaking's bonds are tax free.

Other Comprehensive Income

We include other comprehensive income in our consolidated financial statements, which primarily shows the impact of changes in fair value of debt and equity instruments held by us for such period.

Notes:

(1) EBITDA and EBITDA margin are non-GAAP financial measures and supplemental measures of our performance. We define EBITDA as net profit after tax as restated before (i) net interest cost for the current period, (ii) net interest cost recognized in the statement of consolidated profit and loss, (iii) current tax, (iv) deferred tax expense / (credit) and (v) depreciation and amortization expense. We define EBITDA margin as EBITDA divided by total income for the applicable period, expressed as a percentage.

As a measure of our operating performance, we believe that the most directly comparable Ind AS financial measure to EBITDA is our net profit after tax as restated. The following table reconciles our profit after tax as restated under Ind AS to our definition of EBITDA and EBITDA margin for the periods indicated.

We prepare our statement of cash flows under the indirect method. Our cash and cash equivalents on the first and last day of the period are largely comprised of amounts received from members in payment for securities trades which we have received in advance of, and which are payable to the seller of the securities on, the T+2 settlement date. As a result, each of our cash from operating activities and our cash used from investing activities on the first or last day of the financial year or period is largely dependent on the turnover of trades on the trade date reflected in the settlement value on the last settlement date before such date. These values can vary considerably, which has significant effect on the calculation of our cash flows from operating activities and used in investing activities. For example, the settlement value on the last settlement day of fiscal 2014 was substantially higher than the settlement value on the last settlement day of either fiscal 2015 or fiscal 2013. We account for funds which we hold for settlement obligations as "other financial liabilities" and describe the effect of settlement value on our cash flows as "movement in pay in obligation at reporting date".

Contingent Liabilities

As of September 30, 2016, our contingent liabilities were primarily related to two litigation matters. See also "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" and "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – Any increase in or realization of our contingent liabilities could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition" beginning on pages 450 and 41, respectively.

Our competitor, the Metropolitan Stock Exchange of India Limited, or MSI, had filed an information with the CCI alleging that our Company had abused a dominant market position under Section 4 of the Competition Act, by engaging in predatory pricing in the newly established currency derivatives segment, where our Company had waived various fees. In June 2011, the CCI, held that our Company abused its dominance by engaging in unfair pricing and directed our Company to cease and desist from unfair pricing and pay a penalty of 5% of the average turnover for the last three years, which amounted to ₹ 555.0 million. On appeal, this penalty was upheld by the COMPAT in August 2014. Our appeal of this order is pending before the Supreme Court of India, which had granted an interim stay on the penalty. MSI has filed a compensation application which is pending before the COMPAT, claiming an amount of ₹ 8,569.9 million along with interest at the rate of 18% per annum until realization of the claim.

In October 2013, a ₹ 1,525.7 million claim for damages was filed against our Company and our clearing corporation and Subsidiary, NSCCL.

Based on legal advice, our management has assessed the possibility that these lawsuits will not be decided in our favor as remote and no provision has been made in respect of the compensation claimed or penalty assessed.

We also have contingent liabilities for an aggregate of \gtrless 1,050.9 million as of September 30, 2016, on account of disputes between us and various tax authorities, most notably \gtrless 496.5 million relating to income taxes and \gtrless 483.0 million relating to service taxes.

We also have bank guarantees of ₹ 49.3 million as of September 30, 2016.

Off-Balance Sheet Transactions

We do not have any off-balance sheet transactions.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

We are exposed to a variety of market risks, which are described in detail below. Our overall risk management program focuses on minimizing the adverse effects of market volatility and unpredictability on our financial performance and condition. Our risk management approach focuses is to minimize the potential material adverse effects from these exposures. Our risk management policies and guidelines set out our tolerance for risk and our general risk management philosophy. Accordingly, risk management framework and process and prudential norms are established to identify, evaluate and monitor the exposures and implement appropriate measures in a timely manner.

Credit Risk

We provide a performance and settlement guarantee to each party to every trade executed on our exchange. This guarantee exposes us to risks associated with any failure by our members to make payment or delivery of securities in accordance with the terms of the relevant trade. We manage our credit risks through the margin and collateral requirements that we have established for our members, the maintenance of our Core Settlement Guarantee Fund and our insurance policy. See "Our Business — Risk and Collateral Management" on page 168.

Interest Rate Risk

We are exposed to the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market rates on our financial position and cash flows, which primarily arises out of fluctuations on the yield of debt investments we hold. In the long term, the yield on debt investments we hold is primarily affected by interest rates set by Indian banks, the interest rates on Indian government securities and the condition of India's financial markets. Given that our investment portfolio constitute a significant portion of our assets, our exposure to long-term fluctuations in the yield on debt instruments we hold is material, and we expect that any changes in such yield may have a material impact on our financial condition and results of operations.

For the six months ended September 30, 2016, our interest income from financial assets at amortized cost was ₹770.0 million and interest income from financial assets designated at fair value through other comprehensive income was ₹ 325.8 million. A sensitivity analysis shows that if interest rates had been 25 basis points higher, with all other variables held constant, our income from financial assets designated at FVOCI would have decreased by ₹ 85.7 million. Similarly, a decrease of 25 basis points for the six months ended September 30, 2016, would have increased our income from financial assets designated at FVOCI by ₹ 85.7 million.

Foreign Exchange Risk

We derive most of our income in Indian Rupees and incur most of our expenses in Indian Rupees. Our investment portfolio is concentrated in Indian securities and is also denominated in Indian Rupees. As such, we are not subject to material foreign exchange risk and are only subject to foreign exchange for export of licensing of our indices, sale of exchange data products and procurement of commercial technology products and services.

Unusual or Infrequent Events or Transactions

To our knowledge, except as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there have been no transactions or events which, in our judgment, would be considered unusual or infrequent.

Known Trends or Uncertainties

Our business has been affected and we expect that it will continue to be affected by the trends identified above in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and the uncertainties described in "Risk Factors" beginning on pages 428 and 19, respectively. To our knowledge, except as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there are no known factors which we expect to have a material adverse effect on our income.

Future Relationship between Cost and Revenue

Other than as described in "Risk Factors" beginning on page 19 and this section, there are no known factors that might affect the future relationship between cost and revenue.

Competitive Conditions

We expect competition in our industry from existing and potential competitors to intensify. For details, please refer to the discussions of our competition in the sections "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We operate in a competitive industry, and we may not be able to compete successfully" and "Our Business – Competition" on pages 25 and 174 to 175, respectively.

Seasonality of Business

Dependence on a Few Customers

Our index business is subject to concentration risks. Our index business revenues are highly concentrated among our exchange customers and in particular our top exchange customer which accounted for a significant portion of our licensing fees outside of India in fiscal 2016. See "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We may not be able to increase our revenues from our non-trading businesses, which are subject to numerous operational risks" on pages 31 and 32.

New Products or Business Segments

We intend to further diversify our product and service offerings in our trading and non-trading businesses. Our business strategies seek to further diversify our product and service offerings through strategic innovation and investment in high-growth areas of our businesses, additional partnerships and collaborations and the establishment of an international exchange and clearing corporation in Gujarat International Finance Tech City – International Financial Service Centre, or GIFT City. For more information, see "Our Business – Our Business Strategies" and "Risk Factors – Internal Risks – We may be unsuccessful in implementing, or fail to realize the expected benefits from, our growth strategies" beginning on pages 156 and 25, respectively.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there are no recent accounting pronouncements which would have a material effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

Significant Developments Subsequent to September 30, 2016

Except as otherwise disclosed elsewhere in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, there have been no significant developments after September 30, 2016 which materially affect, or are likely to materially affect, our financial condition or results of operations within the next 12 months.

I. Litigation involving our Company

A. Litigation filed against our Company

Criminal matters

1. Our Company and one of our Subsidiaries, NSCCL, one of our Directors, Ravi Narain, our Chief Executive Officer In-charge J Ravichandran, along with other officials, have filed special leave petitions dated December 21, 2011 and November 22, 2011, respectively, before the Supreme Court in relation to the alleged dishonest disposition of security deposits, bank guarantees and shares of Rusoday Securities Limited ("Rusoday"), the then trading member of our Company, by our Company and NSCCL. Surendra Kumar Jain, on behalf of Rusoday had filed a complaint dated May 18, 2002 before the Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Calcutta (the "Magistrate") against our Company, NSCCL, Ravi Narain, J Ravichandran and others (collectively, the "Accused") under Sections 406, 511 and 34 of the IPC alleging that the properties entrusted by Rusoday in the form of security deposits, bank guarantees and shares have been dishonestly disposed of by our Company and NSCCL in violation of the provisions of SCRA. The Accused filed a discharge application before the Magistrate, which was allowed for Ravi Narain but the Magistrate continued proceedings against our Company through a discharge order (the "Discharge Order"). Subsequently, Rusoday filed a revision application before the Sessions Court, Calcutta against the Discharge Order. Our Company and NSCCL also filed a revision application before the Calcutta High Court against the Discharge Order to the extent it disallowed their prayer for discharging our Company and NSCCL. Rusoday's revision application was transferred to the Calcutta High Court, which set aside the Discharge Order and also rejected the revision application filed by our Company and NSCCL pursuant to order dated July 29, 2011 (the "High Court Order"). Accordingly, our Company and NSCCL filed the aforesaid special leave petitions dated December 21, 2011. In addition, J Ravichandran and Ravi Narain also filed the special leave petitions dated November 22, 2011 and an interim stay was granted by the Supreme Court on further proceedings before the Magistrate, pursuant to order dated December 12, 2011. The aforesaid interim stay is continuing as on date and the matters are currently pending before the Supreme Court.

- Our Company, one of our Directors, Ravi Narain and our Chief Executive Officer In-charge J Ravichandran, along 2. with other officials have filed a criminal revision application in 2011 ("Revision Application") before the Calcutta High Court in relation to the alleged criminal breach of trust and criminal conspiracy by our Company. Surendra Kumar Jain, on behalf of Rusoday, the then trading member of our Company (the "Complainant") had filed a complaint in 2003 before the Metropolitan Magistrate, Calcutta (the "Magistrate") against, inter alia, our Company, Ravi Narain, J Ravichandran, Oriental Insurance Company Limited ("OICL") and others (collectively, the "Accused") for criminal breach of trust and criminal conspiracy under Sections 406 and 120B of the IPC. Rusoday had lost a parcel containing scripts worth ₹ 0.6 million approximately and it filed a claim which was accepted by OICL to the extent of ₹ 0.6 million approximately (the "Claim"). However, the file was later closed by OICL as our Company failed to issue a 'no objection certificate' in respect of the disbursement of the Claim, thereby allegedly dishonestly misappropriating the said sum in collusion with OICL. The Magistrate issued process against the Accused under Sections 406 and 120B of the IPC (the "Order"). Thereafter, our Company filed the Revision Application before the Calcutta High Court under Section 482 of CrPC praying for, inter alia, quashing of the Order and to direct stay of all further proceedings in the Order. Subsequently, a stay order dated June 29, 2011 was granted by the Calcutta High Court directing stay of further proceedings and thereafter was extended and an ad-interim order of stay was passed for a limited period. Thereafter, an application for extension of the ad-interim order was filed by the Company ("Extension Application"). The Revision application and the Extension Application are currently pending.
- 3. Raman Kumar Ohri and Ramesh Chandra Bhardwaj (collectively, the "Complainants") have filed two complaints dated June 25, 2012 and July 3, 2012, respectively, before the Metropolitan Magistrate, Delhi (the "Magistrate") against certain officers in charge of inspection department of our Company, Religare Securities Limited ("Religare"), a trading member of our Company and others (collectively, the "Accused") in relation to offences committed under Sections 120B, 191, 406, 409, 415, 420 and 471 of the IPC alleging, inter alia, that the inspection department of our Company conspired with Religare and overlooked the fraudulent illegal trading and violations done by them and validated the alleged illegal authorisations and forgery by Religare. The Complainants have also filed applications in September 2011 and May 2012 under Section 156(3) of CrPC before the DCP, Economic Offence Wing, New Delhi seeking to direct the local police of DCP, Economic Offence Wing, New Delhi to investigate the matter and lodge an FIR. The matters are currently pending.
- 4. Elegant Industries Private Limited (the "Complainant") has filed a criminal revision application in January, 2008 before the Bombay High Court in relation to the alleged criminal breach of trust and criminal conspiracy with respect to possession of property by our Company, one of the Directors of our Company, Ravi Narain and others (collectively, the "Accused"). The Complainant had filed a complaint dated April 16, 2004 before the Metropolitan Magistrate, Mumbai (the "Magistrate") against the Accused, inter alia, for alleged criminal breach of trust and criminal conspiracy, in relation to using the property of the Complainant rented by the Accused (the "Property"), without making the required payments, wherein the Magistrate issued process against the Accused under Sections 406, 447, 341 and 34 of the IPC (the "Magistrate Order"). The Accused challenged the Magistrate Order by filing a criminal revision application before the Additional Sessions Judge, Mumbai, which set aside the Magistrate Order (the "Discharge Order"). Accordingly, the Complainant has filed the aforesaid criminal revision application before the Bombay High Court praying, inter alia, to set aside the Discharge Order and restore the Magistrate Order. The matter is currently pending. The Complainant has also filed a suit against our Company with respect to recovery of possession. For further details, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments - Litigation involving our Company - Litigation filed against our Company - Other matters involving an amount exceeding ₹ 97.5 million" on page 456.

- 1. SEBI, by way of an ex-parte interim order dated May 26, 2014 prohibited Unickon Securities Private Limited ("Unickon"), a stock broker functioning on our Company's exchange, and its directors from accessing the securities market and dealing in securities for indulging in activities detrimental to the interests of investors. On similar grounds, by way of an ex-parte interim order dated March 19, 2015, SEBI prohibited Kassa Finvest Private Limited ("Kassa"), a stock broker functioning on our Company's exchange, and its directors and promoter from accessing the securities market and dealing in securities. Pursuant to the aforesaid SEBI interim orders, our Company expelled Unickon and Kassa, respectively from the trading membership of our Company. SEBI advised our Company to take immediate steps to avoid recurrence of such instances in future, sensitise members, give a strict warning to the market participants in this regard and submit to SEBI a preliminary as well as comprehensive report with respect to the steps taken by our Company. SEBI issued show cause notice dated November 10, 2015 to our Company under Section 11B of the SEBI Act and Section 12A of the SCRA for the alleged non-compliance of the aforesaid directions. Our Company submitted a reply stating that it has been in constant interaction with SEBI on the matter and has acted in accordance with the directives of SEBI including disbursal of amounts, and providing details of the specific measures taken against Unickon and Kassa, general preventive measures, awareness initiatives initiated by our Company on safety of client funds and securities and training programs with members. The matter is currently pending and no order has been passed by SEBI in this regard.
- 2. SEBI received certain complaints against our Company's co-location facility, including among others, allegations that our Company had provided unfair access to the co-location facility to select trading members. SEBI forwarded the complaints to our Company in early 2015 and advised us to examine the issues highlighted and furnish a report to SEBI after placing the same before the Company's standing committee on technology. We undertook the exercise and submitted the report to SEBI. Subsequently, SEBI pursuant to its letter dated December 29, 2015 assigned the task of comprehensive examination of complaints to a team headed by professors of the Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay and advised our Company to extend all co-operation to the team. Subsequently, by its letter dated March 29, 2016, SEBI forwarded the interim observations of the team under the report (the "CFT/IIT Interim Report") to our Company and required our Company to submit responses to the observations of the CFT/IIT Interim Report within a period of 15 days, which was subsequently extended. The CFT/IIT Interim Report contained the following observations, among others:
 - a. our Company's TCP-IP based tick by tick ("TBT") architecture was prone to market abuse and thereby compromised with market fairness and integrity by providing quicker order dissemination to those who managed to login early;
 - b. one of the members consistently logged in early and crowded out other members and gained materially from the exploitation of the TBT architecture;
 - c. certain members were given preferential access to the backup servers of the TBT system;
 - d. our Company was not fully co-operative with the team in providing complete and / or timely responses; and
 - e. our Company was in violation of our internal policy by permitting entities that are not internet service provider to lay fibre optic cables at our co-location facility.

Our Company submitted its response to the findings of the CFT/IIT Interim Report, through letters dated May 12, 2016 and June 29, 2016, wherein it had disputed the findings of the CFT/IIT Interim Report, particularly stating the following key points: (i) trading members logging in early would not necessarily receive data ahead of other trading members or any material advantage; (ii) our Company had provided a level-playing field to all trading members and consistent early login per-se would not amount to market abuse; (iii) no limit had been placed on the number of IP connections available to any trading members was given preferential access to the back up server; (v) our Company had fully cooperated with the team; and (vi) our Company was not in violation of any internal policy, and did not regulate the choice of internet service providers of trading members while establishing connectivity.

Thereafter, a meeting was held among the Technical Advisory Committee of SEBI and the NSE Standing Committee on Technology, a committee of our Company, to discuss various technical issues involved in the TBT architecture and co-location facility of our Company.

SEBI through its letter dated September 9, 2016 ("Observation Letter"), among other things, observed (i) that the architecture of our Company with respect to dissemination of TBT through transmission control protocol was prone to manipulation and market abuse; (ii) preferential access was given to certain stock brokers; and (iii) violated our own policies by permitting entities that are not internet service provider to lay fibre optic cables at our co-location facility for various stock brokers and (iv) the possibility of collusion between our officials and stock broker(s). Further, SEBI advised our Board: (i) to immediately initiate an independent examination (including forensic examination by an external agency) of the concerns highlighted in the CFT/IIT Interim Report, including lack of processes and collusion, if any, and fix accountability for the breaches of the entities involved including our Company, stock brokers, vendors and outsourced entities; (ii) as an interim measure, pending investigation and submission of the report to the satisfaction of SEBI, to place all revenues generated from the co-location facility, including from any fibre optic cable connectivity from stock broker's co-location facility to such stock broker's offices, in a separate bank account and submit details of such account to SEBI; and (iii) to submit a comprehensive report to SEBI within a period of three months from the date of the Observation Letter.

Our Company appointed an independent agency (the "Independent Agency") to conduct an examination of all the concerns highlighted in the CFT/IIT Interim Report, including, particularly whether norms of fair access were breached, whether some brokers unduly benefitted and if there were was any collusion or misconduct by our employees. Our Company, through its letters dated November 10, 2016 and November 17, 2016 intimated SEBI of (i) appointment of the Independent Agency and the commencement of their investigation from September 24, 2016 and (ii) details of the separate bank account and transfer of an amount of ₹ 65.33 million for the month of September, 2016 (that is the month of the Observation Letter), being the amount collected towards colocation charges in the nature of rack charges and connectivity charges. Further, in view of the extension sought by the Independent Agency to submit its report, our Company sought an extension until December 31, 2016 to submit the comprehensive report to SEBI. Subsequently, SEBI through its letter dated November 28, 2016, observed that our Company has not complied with certain observations as indicated in the Observation Letter, including (i) the transfer of all revenues emanating from the co-location facility, including those generated from the trading activity; and (ii) granted an extension until December 31, 2016 to our Board to submit its report pursuant to the independent examination of the matter. Our Board in its meeting held on November 29, 2016 took note of the same and decided to comply with SEBI's letter and deposit in the separate bank account not only the rack charges (that is the rental for rack space) and connectivity charges in respect to the co-location facility but also the transaction charges resulting from the trading activity at the co-location facility. Accordingly, in addition to the rack charges and connectivity charges, an amount of ₹ 1,455.23 million, representing the transaction charges on trade orders placed through our colocation facility for the months of September 2016, October 2016 and November 2016 has been transferred to the separate bank account described above. We intend to deposit the rack charges, connectivity charges and transaction charges to the separate bank account, for each month going forward until SEBI directs us otherwise.

The Independent Agency has submitted its report to the Company, which in turn has been filed with SEBI on December 23, 2016. The report has made the following observations:

- a. The system architecture of the Company's TCP-IP based TBT system was prone to manipulation. The Independent Agency's analysis highlighted trends for certain periods where a few stock brokers appear to be the first to connect to specific servers significantly more often than others. The TCP-IP based TBT system architecture indicated that data was disseminated in a sequential manner whereby the stock broker who connected first to the server received ticks (market feed) before the stock broker who connected later;
- b. The Independent Agency observed indications of potential preferential treatment to a few stock brokers. Different stock brokers were treated differently and there was no uniform approach applied across stock brokers with respect to allocation of new IPs across ports on existing servers and movement from one server to another. Ticks were disseminated faster to members connected to less crowded servers, thereby giving an advantage to such stock brokers;
- c. The Independent Agency's analysis indicated that one particular stock broker almost consistently connected first to the fall back or secondary server during the period from December 10, 2012 to May 30, 2014 and was very often also the second stock broker to connect during this period. The Independent Agency observed that the particular stock broker's continuous access to the fall back or secondary server during the period from December 10, 2012 to May 30, 2014 may not have been possible without the knowledge of certain employees identified in the report, who did not take any action despite consistent connections to the fall back servers against protocol;
- d. In order to ensure that norms of fair access were not breached, it was possible for our Company to negate the advantage of connecting first by implementing a randomiser which would randomly pick a connection to begin dissemination of data through the random function was applied to other process but was not implemented for TBT systems;
- e. The Independent Agency has observed that while it has not validated the performance of the Multicast TBT system (which was introduced in April 2014) in an operating environment, on the basis of a review of the architecture of the Multicast TBT, the issues related to benefits from early connectivity and sequential dissemination of ticks appears to have been addressed;
- f. In relation to the question of whether we breached our own policies by permitting entities that are not internet service provider to lay fibre optic cables at our co-location facility for various stock brokers, The Independent

Agency has observed that in the absence of a specific policy and operating procedure, it appears that our Company relied on such entities' undertakings rather than satisfying itself about the entities' status as a licensed provider of point to point connectivity;

- g. While the Independent Agency observed indications of differential behaviour being shown towards a few stock brokers by certain employees identified in the report, the Independent Agency has stated that it is not in a position to comment on whether this would amount to collusion or connivance;
- j. The Independent Agency observed lack of documented policies and protocols with respect to various aspects of the functioning of the TBT system and certain historical information was not available due to absence of protocols related to data retention; and
- h. After our Company confirmed completion of the data restoration exercise for all TBT servers, the Independent Agency came across additional TBT servers which had not been put through the restoration process, and the NSE team was unaware of them.

The Independent Agency has also made observations that due to absence of protocols related to data retention, email and other information for certain former employees of our Company was unavailable.

Our Board, in its meeting held on December 19, 2016, has taken the report on record and decided to initiate a review of the Multicast TBT systems of our Company including the processes and procedures, data retention, job rotation, mandatory leave, segregation of duties. We have forwarded the report to SEBI on December 23, 2016. We have not commented on the observations made by the Independent Agency in its report. Additionally, we have also requested SEBI, pursuant to our letter dated December 26, 2016, that its decision be communicated to us as early as possible, and that once the decision is taken, to take a view on the decision on the freezing of the revenues accruing to us from the co-location facility.

Additionally, in relation to the allegations against our Company's co-location facility as describe above, Moneywise Media Private Limited and its editors had, in June and July, 2015 published certain articles against our Company's co-location facility, in response to which, our Company had filed a defamation suit in July, 2015, wherein interim reliefs sought by our Company was dismissed by the Single Judge of the Bombay High Court. For details, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments - Litigation involving our Company- Litigation filed by our Company- Other matters involving an amount exceeding ₹ 97.5 million" on pages 457 and 458.

SEBI sought information from our Company, including details of the volumes of the transactions where modification of client codes by our Company and details of mechanism to verify the genuineness of modification of such client codes. Subsequently, SEBI issued a show cause notice dated February 11, 2011 to our Company alleging that our Company filed a reply. SEBI passed an order dated April 10, 2012 observing, inter alia, that there was high volume of instances of client code modification and thereby warned our Company to be more cautious and perceptive in discharge of its regulatory duties.
- 3. SEBI conducted a special purpose inspection of our Company to ascertain whether our Company was in compliance with the provisions of SEBI circulars dated January 31, 2000 and June 28, 2001, including in relation to mechanism of monitoring the risk management practices of its trading members. Subsequently, SEBI issued a show cause notice dated April 18, 2013 to our Company requiring our Company to show cause as to why appropriate directions under Section 12A of the SCRA should not be issued against it, to which our Company had filed a reply. SEBI, through its order dated October 10, 2014 (the "Order"), censured our Company for its conduct and directed our Company to be more careful and cautious while dealing in securities and comply with legal requirements that governs its functions as a stock exchange. SEBI, by its letter dated September 15, 2016, advised us to place the complaint letters before our Board and to decide whether there has been any violation of code of conduct or principle of avoidance of conflict of interest while appointing Anand Subramanian as the Group Operating Officer and Advisor to the Managing Director and submit a report to SEBI. Anand Subramanian has foreclosed his consultancy assignment with effect from October 21, 2016 and SEBI has been informed of the same through our e-mail dated December 21, 2016. 1. On November 16, 2009, MCX Stock Exchange Limited, now the Metropolitan Stock Exchange of India Limited ("MSI"), filed an information with the Competition Commission of India ("CCI") against our Company and DotEx, principally alleging that our Company is in a dominant position in the stock exchange services market (including the equity, futures and options, wholesale debt market and currency derivatives segments) and that it has abused its dominance under Section 4 of the Competition Act by engaging in, among other things, predatory pricing in the newly established currency derivatives segment, where our Company had waived various fees. The CCI, through a majority decision of 4-2 dated June 23, 2011 (the "CCI Order") held, inter alia, that our Company enjoyed a dominant position in the market for stock exchange services in the currency derivatives segment and that our Company abused its dominance by engaging in "unfair pricing" (not specifically "predatory pricing") vis-a-vis MSI. The CCI Order under Section 27 of the Competition Act directed our Company to, inter alia, cease and desist from unfair pricing and levied a penalty of 5% of the average turnover for the last three years, which amounted to ₹ 555.0 million. The CCI order also observed that DotEx, being a wholly owned subsidiary of our Company had little independence of action in the matter and did not levy any separate penalty on it.

Our Company challenged the CCI Order, before the COMPAT. The COMPAT, by an order dated August 5, 2014, while setting aside certain parts of the CCI Order, nevertheless upheld the finding of abuse of dominance. The COMPAT held that our Company engaged in "predatory pricing" in the stock exchange services market and upheld the 5% penalty levied by the CCI (the "COMPAT Order").

Actions by regulatory / statutory authorities

SEBI through its letter dated May 7, 2015 required NSCCL to clarify inter alia, as to (i) why loss caused to NSCCL due to default of Prime Broking Company (India) Limited ("Prime"), a trading and clearing member of our Company was not written off as bad debts, as mentioned in the notes to financial statements for the Financial year 2013-14 and instead directly appropriated against the amount receivable from our Company towards contribution of settlement guarantee fund (the "SGF"); and (ii) how the allocation of loss arising due to default by NSCCL was in consonance with the default waterfall mechanism contained in the bye-laws of NSCCL. NSCCL, through its reply dated May 25, 2015 inter alia stated that (i) in terms of Regulation 39(5) of the SECC Regulations, the appropriation of loss from the contribution of SGF is a valid security for NSCCL, in case of settlement default by members that (ii) allocation of loss was in accordance the waterfall mechanism as contained in the applicable by laws of NSCCL as NSCCL had utilised the amount paid in the form of margin and deposits by Prime and dues amounting to `723.8 million were appropriated from the contribution to the SGF, which was provisionally receivable by the Company under the SECC Regulations. Prime, a trading and clearing member on the Future and Options segment of NSCCL failed to perform its obligations owed to the Petitioner, pursuant to which the Petitioner started liquidating shares of Gitanjali Gems Limited pledged with the Petitioner by Prime (the "Pledged Shares"). Accordingly, the Petitioner has filed the SLP. Subsequently, the Supreme Court by an order dated September 18, 2015 permitted the Petitioner to dispose of the Pledged Shares, which would be without prejudice to the rights and contentions of the parties in the SLP, and directed that the sale proceeds be deposited with the registry of the Supreme Court in the form of a fixed deposit for a period of one year in the first instance. Compliance with the SECC Regulations

Fit and proper criteria

In terms of Regulation 19 of the SECC Regulations, no person shall, directly or indirectly, acquire or hold shares in a recognised stock-exchange unless he is a 'fit and proper' person. The fit and proper criteria are set out under Regulation 20 of the SECC Regulations. Accordingly, in terms of the SEBI circular dated January 1, 2016 (the "January Circular"), a declaration will be included in the Bid cum Application Form confirming that the Bidder is a 'fit and proper' person under the SECC Regulations. Submission of the Bid cum Application Form will be deemed to be a confirmation by the Bidder that such Bidder satisfies the fit and proper criteria. The SECC Regulations also states that once the Equity Shares are listed, the text of the applicable regulation with regard to fit and proper criteria shall be made part of the contract note. The SECC Regulations states that if any question arises as to whether a person is a fit and proper person, SEBI's decision on such question shall be final. For details in relation to the fit and proper criteria prescribed under Regulation 20, see "Offer Procedure – Part A – Fit and proper criteria" on pages 507 to 508.

In terms of the January Circular, in the event of acquisition of shares by persons who do not meet the fit and proper criteria, the voting rights and corporate benefits with respect to such shareholding shall be frozen by the depositories until the same is divested through the special window.

Restrictions on shareholding

1. Shareholding of "public" in our Company:

In terms of the SECC Regulations, at least 51% of the paid up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange shall be held by public. The term 'public' has been defined under the SECC Regulations to include any member or section of the public but does not include any trading member or clearing member or their associates and agents. However, public sector banks, public financial institutions, insurance companies, mutual funds and alternative investment funds in public sector, that have associates as trading members or clearing members are deemed to be public under the SECC Regulations (the "Deemed Public Entities").

Accordingly, trading and clearing members or their associates and agents other than the Deemed Public Entities shall be considered for Allotment on a proportionate basis such that the total shareholding of trading members, clearing members, their associates and agents in our Company does not exceed 49% of the paid-up Equity Share capital, subject to valid Bids being received at or above the Offer Price. In this regard, each Bidder will be required to certify in the Bid cum Application Form if it is (i) a trading or (ii) clearing member or (iii) an associate or agent of a trading or clearing member or (iv) whether it is a Deemed Public Entity, and such certification shall be the sole responsibility of the Bidder. Please note that our Company, the Managers and the Registrar will rely strictly and solely on such a declaration.

In terms of the January Circular, the trading members or their associates and agents are required to obtain prior approval of our Company for further acquisition of Equity Shares, in the event the aggregate shareholding of the trading members or their associates and agents crosses the limit of 45% of the paid-up Equity Share capital.

2. Shareholding of persons resident in India:

Pursuant to the SECC Regulations, no person resident in India shall at any time, directly or indirectly, either individually or acting together with persons acting in concert, acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid-up Equity Share capital in our Company. However, stock exchanges, depositories, banking companies, insurance companies, and public financial institutions are permitted either directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert, to acquire or hold, up to 15% of the paid up Equity Share capital of our Company, provided that such entities are resident in India. Further, in the event the shareholding of such entities exceeds 5% of the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company, prior approval of SEBI will be required.

3. Shareholding of persons resident outside India:

Pursuant to the SECC Regulations, no person resident outside India shall, directly or indirectly, either individually or acting together with persons acting in concert, acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company. Further, the combined holding of all the persons resident outside India in the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company shall not exceed 49% of the total paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company.

4. Acquisition of more than 2% of the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company:

Any person who, directly or indirectly, either individually or acting together with persons acting in concert, acquires equity shares pursuant to which his shareholding exceeds 2% of the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company, shall seek approval of SEBI within 15 days from the date of such acquisition. In the event SEBI approval is not obtained, such person will be required to forthwith divest his excess shareholding.

5. Acquisition of more than 5% of the paid-up equity share capital of our Company:

As stated above, only stock exchanges, depositories, banking companies, insurance companies, and public financial institutions can, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with any person acting in concert, acquire or hold up to 15% of the paid up Equity Share capital of our Company with the prior approval of SEBI.

Accordingly, in case of Bids representing for such number of Equity Shares, that may result in the shareholding of a Bidder either directly or indirectly, by himself or acting in concert with other persons and including existing shareholding, if any) exceeding 5% of the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company, such Bidder is required to affix a clear legible certified copy of the approval obtained from SEBI along with the Bid cum Application Form and declare that it is eligible to own more than 5% of the paid-up equity share capital of our Company. The Bidders shall also deliver the self certified copy of the approval obtained from SEBI to the Registrar to the Offer within one Working Day of the Bid / Offer Closing Date. All Allotments to such Bidders shall be in accordance with and subject to the conditions contained in such SEBI approval.

In case of any failure by such Bidder to submit the requisite approval within the above time period, our Company may Allot such number of Equity Shares, as adjusted for the Bid Lot (and in case of over-subscription in the Offer, after making applicable proportionate allocation for the Equity Shares Bid for), that will limit the aggregate shareholding of the Bidder (either directly or indirectly, by itself or acting in concert with other persons and including existing shareholding, if any) to 5% of the paid-up Equity Share capital of our Company. Please note that our Company, the Managers and the Registrar will rely strictly and solely on the SEBI approvals received from the Bidders for making any Allotments to any Bidders together with persons acting in concert for more than 5% of the paid up Equity Share capital of our Company. Our Company, the Registrar and the Managers will not exercise any discretion or judgment in identifying the persons acting in concert in relation to any Bidder and will not be responsible, directly or indirectly, for the consequences of any Bidder and persons acting in concert with such Bidder, acquiring any Equity Shares in excess of 5% of the paid-up equity share capital of our Company, without a valid and subsisting SEBI approval. Basis of Allotment as set out in "Offer Procedure - Part B - General Information Document" shall be to the aforementioned Allotment restrictions.

Additionally, the SECC Regulations restrict clearing corporations from holding any right, stake or interest, of whatsoever nature, in any recognised stock exchange. Accordingly, any Bids made by a clearing corporation will be rejected.

For further details in relation to fit and proper criteria and the restrictions on shareholding, see "Regulations and Policies" on page 177.

Eligibility and Transfer Restrictions

As described more fully below, there are certain restrictions regarding the Equity Shares that affect potential U.S. and non-U.S. investors. These restrictions are (i) prohibitions on participation in the Offer by persons in circumstances which would cause our Company to be required to be registered as an investment company under the U.S. Investment Company Act and (ii) restrictions on the ownership of Equity Shares by such persons following the offer.

The Equity Shares have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act and may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons as defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act ("U.S. Persons") except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and applicable U.S. state securities laws. Our Company has not registered and does not intend to register under the U.S. Investment Company Act. Accordingly, the Equity Shares are only being offered and sold (i) to persons in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. Persons, in each case that are both "qualified institutional buyers" (as defined in Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act and referred to in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus as "U.S. QIBs"; for the avoidance of doubt, the term U.S. QIBs does not refer to a category of institutional investor defined under applicable Indian regulations and referred to in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus as "QIBs") and "qualified purchasers" (as defined under the U.S. Investment Company Act and referred to in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus as "OPs") in transactions exempt from or not subject to the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and in reliance upon section 3(c)(7) of the U.S. Investment Company Act; or (ii) outside the United States to investors that are not U.S. Persons nor persons acquiring for the account or benefit of U.S. Persons in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act and the applicable laws of the jurisdiction where those offers and sales occur. The Equity Shares may not be re-offered, re-sold, pledged or otherwise transferred except in an offshore transaction in accordance with Regulation S to a person outside the United States and not known by the transferor to be a U.S. Person by pre-arrangement or otherwise (including, for the avoidance of doubt, a bona fide sale on the [•] Stock Exchange or the [•] Stock Exchange). See "Offer Information – Terms of the Offer – Eligibility and Transfer Restrictions" beginning on page 497.

The Equity Shares have not been and will not be registered, listed or otherwise qualified in any other jurisdiction outside India and may not be offered or sold, and Bids may not be made, by persons in any such jurisdiction except in compliance with the applicable laws of such jurisdiction.

Until the expiry of 40 days after the commencement of the Offer, an offer or sale of Equity Shares within the United States by a dealer (whether or not it is participating in the Offer) may violate the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act.

The Equity Shares have not been recommended by any U.S. federal or state securities commission or regulatory authority. Furthermore, the foregoing authorities have not confirmed the accuracy or determined the adequacy of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus or approved or disapproved the Equity Shares. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offence in the United States. In making an investment decision investors must rely on their own examination of our Company and the terms of the Offer, including the merits and risks involved.

Our Company is not and will not be registered under the U.S. Investment Company Act, and investors will not be entitled to the benefits afforded to investors under the U.S. Investment Company Act.

THIS SECURITY MAY NOT BE OFFERED, SOLD, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE TRANSFERRED EXCEPT TO A PERSON OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES AND NOT KNOWN BY THE TRANSFEROR TO BE A US PERSON BY PRE-ARRANGEMENT OR OTHERWISE IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION COMPLYING WITH RULE 903 OR RULE 904 OF REGULATION S UNDER THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT, AND OTHERWISE IN A TRANSACTION EXEMPT FROM, OR NOT SUBJECT TO, THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE U.S. SECURITIES ACT AND THE U.S. INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT

THIS SECURITY IS NOT TRANSFERABLE EXCEPT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESTRICTIONS DESCRIBED HEREIN. EACH TRANSFEROR OF THIS SECURITY AGREES TO PROVIDE NOTICE OF THE TRANSFER RESTRICTIONS SET FORTH HEREIN AND IN THE COMPANY'S OFFER DOCUMENTS TO THE TRANSFEREE AND TO ANY EXECUTING BROKER.

- (21) the purchaser agrees, upon a proposed transfer of the Equity Shares, to notify any purchaser of such Equity Shares or the executing broker, as applicable, of any transfer restrictions that are applicable to the Equity Shares being sold and agrees not to act as a swap counterparty or other type of intermediary whereby any other party will acquire an economic interest or beneficial interest in the Equity Shares acquired or reoffer, resell, pledge or otherwise transfer the Equity Shares or any beneficial interest therein, to any person except to a person that meets all of the requirements above and who agrees not to subsequently transfer the Equity Shares or any beneficial interest therein;

The purchaser understands that the transfer restrictions will remain in effect until the Company determines, in its sole discretion, to remove them, and confirms that the proposed transfer of the Equity Shares is not part of a plan or scheme to evade the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act or the U.S. Investment Company Act;

- (7) the purchaser agrees that neither the purchaser, nor any of its affiliates, nor any person acting on behalf of the purchaser or any of its affiliates, will make any "directed selling efforts" as defined in Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act in the United States with respect to the Equity Shares;

4.2.2 FIELD 4 & 5: BID OPTIONS REVISION 'FROM' AND 'TO'

(a) Apart from mentioning the revised options in the Revision Form, the Bidder must also mention the details of all the bid options given in his or her Bid cum Application Form or earlier Revision Form. For example, if a Bidder has Bid for three options in the Bid cum Application Form and such Bidder is changing only one of the options in the Revision Form, the Bidder must still fill the details of the other two options that are not being revised, in the Revision Form. The Designated Intermediaries may not accept incomplete or inaccurate Revision Forms.

- (b) In case of revision, Bid options should be provided by Bidders/Applicants in the same order as provided in the Bid cum Application Form.
- (c) In case of revision of Bids by RIIs, Employees and Retail Individual Shareholders, such Bidders/Applicants should ensure that the Bid Amount, subsequent to revision, does not exceed ₹ 200,000. In case the Bid Amount exceeds ₹ 200,000 due to revision of the Bid or for any other reason, the Bid may be considered, subject to eligibility, for allocation under the Non-Institutional Category, not being eligible for Discount (if applicable) and such Bid may be rejected if it is at the Cut-off Price. The Cut-off Price option is given only to the RIIs, Employees and Retail Individual Shareholders indicating their agreement to Bid for and purchase the Equity Shares at the Issue Price as determined at the end of the Book Building Process.
- (d) In case the total amount (i.e., original Bid Amount plus additional payment) exceeds ₹ 200,000, the Bid will be considered for allocation under the Non-Institutional Category in terms of the RHP/Prospectus. If, however, the RII does not either revise the Bid or make additional payment and the Issue Price is higher than the cap of the Price Band prior to revision, the number of Equity Shares Bid for shall be adjusted downwards for the purpose of allocation, such that no additional payment would be required from the RII and the RII is deemed to have approved such revised Bid at Cut-off Price.
- (e) In case of a downward revision in the Price Band, RIIs and Bids by Employees under the Reservation Portion, who have bid at the Cut-off Price could either revise their Bid or the excess amount paid at the time of Bidding may be unblocked after the Allotment is finalised.

4.2.3 FIELD 6: PAYMENT DETAILS

In case of Bidders specifying more than one Bid Option in the Bid cum Application Form, the total Bid Amount may be calculated for the highest of three options at net price, i.e. Bid price less discount offered, if any.
- (b) Bidder may issue instructions to block the revised amount based on cap of the revised Price Band (adjusted for the Discount (if applicable) in the ASBA Account, to the same Designated Intermediary through whom such Bidder had placed the original Bid to enable the relevant SCSB to block the additional Bid Amount, if any.
- (c) In case the total amount (i.e., original Bid Amount less discount (if applicable) plus additional payment) exceeds ₹ 200,000, the Bid may be considered for allocation under the Non-Institutional Category in terms of the RHP/Prospectus. If, however, the Bidder does not either revise the Bid or make additional payment and the Issue Price is higher than the cap of the Price Band prior to revision, the number of Equity Shares Bid for may be adjusted downwards for the purpose of Allotment, such that additional amount is required blocked and the Bidder is deemed to have approved such revised Bid at the Cut-off Price.
- (d) In case of a downward revision in the Price Band, RIIs, Employees and Retail Individual Shareholders, who have bid at the Cut-off Price, could either revise their Bid or the excess amount paid at the time of Bidding may be unblocked after finalisation of Basis of Allotment.

- (a) The SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2009 specify the allocation or Allotment that may be made to various categories of Bidders/Applicants in an Issue depending on compliance with the eligibility conditions. Certain details pertaining to the percentage of Issue size available for allocation to each category is disclosed overleaf of the Bid cum Application Form and in the RHP/Prospectus. For details in relation to allocation, the Bidder may refer to the RHP/Prospectus.
- (b) Under-subscription in any category (except QIB Category) is allowed to be met with spill-over from any other category or combination of categories at the discretion of the Issuer and in consultation with the Managers and the Designated Stock Exchange and in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2009. Unsubscribed portion in QIB Category is not available for subscription to other categories.
- (c) In case of under subscription in the Issue, spill-over to the extent of such under-subscription may be permitted from the Reserved Portion to the Issue. For allocation in the event of an under-subscription applicable to the Issuer, Bidders/Applicants may refer to the RHP.

(d) Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process

Bidders/Applicants should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue; it also excludes Bidding by Anchor Investors.

Bidders/Applicants can bid at any price within the price band. For instance, assume a price band of \gtrless 20 to $\end{Bmatrix}$ 24 per share, issue size of 3,000 equity shares and receipt of five bids from Bidders/Applicants, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the equity shares of the issuer at various prices and is collated from bids received from various investors.

Bid quantity	Bid amount (₹)	Cumulative quantity	Subscription
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the issuer is able to issue the desired number of equity shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., \gtrless 22.00 in the above example. The issuer, in consultation with the book running lead managers, may finalise the issue price at or below such cut-off price, i.e., at or below \gtrless 22.00. All bids at or above this issue price and cut-off bids are valid bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

(e) Alternate Method of Book Building

In case of FPOs, Issuers may opt for an alternate method of Book Building in which only the Floor Price is specified for the purposes of Bidding ("Alternate Book Building Process").

The Issuer may specify the Floor Price in the RHP or advertise the Floor Price at least one Working Day prior to the Bid/Issue Opening Date. QIBs may Bid at a price higher than the Floor Price and the Allotment to the QIBs is made on a price priority basis. The Bidder/Applicant with the highest Bid Amount is allotted the number of Equity Shares Bid for and then the second highest Bidder/Applicant is Allotted Equity Shares and this process continues until all the Equity Shares have been allotted. RIIs, NIIs and Employees are Allotted Equity Shares at the Floor Price and Allotment to these categories of Bidders/Applicants is made proportionately. If the number of Equity Shares Bid for at a price is more than available quantity then the Allotment may be done on a proportionate basis. Further, the Issuer may place a cap either in terms of number of specified securities or percentage of issued capital of the Issuer that may be Allotted to a single Bidder/Applicant, decide whether a Bidder/Applicant be allowed to revise the bid upwards or downwards in terms of price and/or quantity and also decide whether a Bidder/Applicant be allowed single or multiple bids.

SECTION 6: ISSUE PROCEDURE IN FIXED PRICE ISSUE

Applicants may note that there is no Bid cum Application Form in a Fixed Price Issue. As the Issue Price is mentioned in the Fixed Price Issue therefore on filing of the Prospectus with the RoC, the Application so submitted is considered as the application form.

Applicants may only use the specified Application Form for the purpose of making an Application in terms of the Prospectus which may be submitted through the Designated Intermediary.

Applicants may submit an Application Form either in physical form to the any of the Designated Intermediaries or in the electronic form to the SCSB or the Designated Branches of the SCSBs authorising blocking of funds that are available in the bank account specified in the Application Form only ("ASBA Account"). The Application Form is also made available on the websites of the Stock Exchanges at least one day prior to the Bid/Issue Opening Date.

In a fixed price Issue, allocation in the Offer to the public category is made as follows: minimum fifty per cent to Retail Individual Investors; and remaining to (i) individual investors other than Retail Individual Investors; and (ii) other Applicants including corporate bodies or institutions, irrespective of the number of specified securities applied for. The unsubscribed portion in either of the categories specified above may be allocated to the Applicants in the other category.

However, in case the Issue is in the nature of Offer for Sale only, then minimum subscription may not be applicable.

7.1 ALLOTMENT TO RIIS

Bids received from the RIIs at or above the Issue Price may be grouped together to determine the total demand under this category. If the aggregate demand in this category is greater than the allocation to in the Retail Category at or above the Issue Price, then the maximum number of RIIs who can be Allotted the minimum Bid Lot will be computed by dividing the total number of Equity Shares available for Allotment to RIIs by the minimum Bid Lot ("Maximum RII Allottees"). The Allotment to the RIIs will then be made in the following manner:

- (a) In the event the number of RIIs who have submitted valid Bids in the Issue is equal to or less than Maximum RII Allottees, (i) all such RIIs shall be Allotted the minimum Bid Lot; and (ii) the balance available Equity Shares, if any, remaining in the Retail Category shall be Allotted on a proportionate basis to the RIIs who have received Allotment as per (i) above for the balance demand of the Equity Shares Bid by them (i.e. who have Bid for more than the minimum Bid Lot).
- (b) In the event the number of RIIs who have submitted valid Bids in the Issue is more than Maximum RII Allottees, the RIIs (in that category) who will then be Allotted minimum Bid Lot shall be determined on the basis of draw of lots.

In case the aggregate demand in this category is greater than the Non-Institutional Category at or above the Issue Price, Allotment may be made on a proportionate basis up to a minimum of the Non-Institutional Category.

7.3 ALLOTMENT TO QIBs

For the Basis of Allotment to Anchor Investors, Bidders/Applicants may refer to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2009 or RHP/Prospectus. Bids received from QIBs Bidding in the QIB Category (net of Anchor Portion) at or above the Issue Price may be grouped together to determine the total demand under this category. The QIB Category may be

- (a) In the first instance allocation to Mutual Funds for up to 5% of the QIB Category may be determined as follows: (i) In the event that Bids by Mutual Fund exceeds 5% of the QIB Category, allocation to Mutual Funds may be done on a proportionate basis for up to 5% of the QIB Category; (ii) In the event that the aggregate demand from Mutual Funds is less than 5% of the QIB Category then all Mutual Funds may get full Allotment to the extent of valid Bids received above the Issue Price; and (iii) Equity Shares remaining unsubscribed, if any and not allocated to Mutual Funds may be available for Allotment to all QIBs as set out at paragraph 7.4(b) below;
- (b) In the second instance, Allotment to all QIBs may be determined as follows: (i) In the event of oversubscription in the QIB Category, all QIBs who have submitted Bids above the Issue Price may be Allotted Equity Shares on a proportionate basis for up to 95% of the QIB Category; (ii) Mutual Funds, who have received allocation as per (a) above, for less than the number of Equity Shares Bid for by them, are eligible to receive Equity Shares on a proportionate basis along with other QIBs; and (iii) Undersubscription below 5% of the QIB Category, if any, from Mutual Funds, may be included for allocation to the remaining QIBs on a proportionate basis.

Based on the physical book and at the discretion of the issuer in consultation with the Managers, selected Anchor Investors will be sent a CAN and if required, a revised CAN.
- (d) In the event that the Issue Price is higher than the Anchor Investor Issue Price: Anchor Investors will be sent a revised CAN within one day of the Pricing Date indicating the number of Equity Shares allocated to such Anchor Investor and the pay-in date for payment of the balance amount. Anchor Investors are then required to pay any additional amounts, being the difference between the Issue Price and the Anchor Investor Issue Price, as indicated in the revised CAN within the pay-in date referred to in the revised CAN. Thereafter, the Allotment Advice will be issued to such Anchor Investors.
- (e) In the event the Issue Price is lower than the Anchor Investor Issue Price: Anchor Investors who have been Allotted Equity Shares will directly receive Allotment Advice.

7.5 BASIS OF ALLOTMENT FOR QIBs (OTHER THAN ANCHOR INVESTORS), NIIS AND RESERVED CATEGORY IN CASE OF OVER-SUBSCRIBED ISSUE

In the event of the Issue being over-subscribed, the Issuer may finalise the Basis of Allotment in consultation with the Designated Stock Exchange in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, 2009.

The allocation may be made in marketable lots, on a proportionate basis as explained below:

- (a) Bidders/Applicants may be categorised according to the number of Equity Shares applied for;
- (b) The total number of Equity Shares to be Allotted to each category as a whole may be arrived at on a proportionate basis, which is the total number of Equity Shares applied for in that category (number of Bidders/Applicants in the category multiplied by the number of Equity Shares applied for) multiplied by the inverse of the over-subscription ratio;
- (c) The number of Equity Shares to be Allotted to the successful Bidders/Applicants may be arrived at on a proportionate basis, which is total number of Equity Shares applied for by each Bidder/Applicant in that category multiplied by the inverse of the over-subscription ratio;
- (d) In all Bids where the proportionate Allotment is less than the minimum Bid Lot decided per Bidder/Applicant, the Allotment may be made as follows: the successful Bidders/Applicants out of the total Bidders/Applicants for a category may be determined by a draw of lots in a manner such that the total number of Equity Shares Allotted in that category is equal to the number of Equity Shares calculated in accordance with (b) above; and each successful Bidder/Applicant may be Allotted a minimum of such Equity Shares equal to the minimum Bid Lot finalised by the Issuer;
- (e) If the proportionate Allotment to a Bidder/Applicant is a number that is more than the minimum Bid Lot but is not a multiple of one (which is the marketable lot), the decimal may be rounded to the higher whole number if that decimal is 0.5 or higher. If that number is lower than 0.5 it may be rounded to the lower whole number. Allotment to all Bidders/Applicants in such categories may be arrived at after such rounding; and
- (f) If the Equity Shares allocated on a proportionate basis to any category are more than the Equity Shares Allotted to the Bidders/Applicants in that category, the remaining Equity Shares available for Allotment may be first adjusted against any other category, where the Allotted Equity Shares are not sufficient for proportionate Allotment to the successful Bidders/Applicants in that category. RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government, the FDI Policy (as defined below) and FEMA. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are FIPB and the RBI.

The Government has from time to time has made policy pronouncements on FDI through circulars, clarifications, press notes and press releases. The DIPP, issued the consolidated FDI Policy by way of circular number D/o IPP F. No. 5(1)/2016-FC-1 dated June 7, 2016 ("FDI Policy"), which with effect from June 7, 2016, consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases, circulars and clarifications on FDI issued by the DIPP that were in force and effect as on June 7, 2016. The FDI policy incorporates the changes made in the past year, including liberalisation of sectors such as construction, defence, broadcasting, Single Brand Retail Trading and LLPs. The Government proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, FDI Policy will be valid until an updated circular is issued by the DIPP.

The SECC Regulations states that, subject to the limits as otherwise prescribed by the Central Government from time to time, the combined holding of all persons resident outside India in the paid up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange cannot exceed, at any time, 49% of its total paid up equity share capital.

In terms of the SECC Regulations, no non-resident, directly or indirectly, either individually or together with persons acting in concert is permitted to acquire or hold more than 5% of the paid-up equity share capital of a recognised stock exchange. However, the union cabinet, pursuant to the press release dated July 27, 2016 (the "Press Release") has approved increasing the foreign shareholding limit from 5% to 15% in Indian stock exchanges for a stock exchange, a depository, a banking company, an insurance company and a commodity derivative exchange. In addition, SEBI, in its board meeting dated September 23, 2016, has approved amendment to Regulation 17 of the SECC Regulations to increase the limit of shareholding of FIIs / FPIs in stock exchanges from 5% to 15%. The SECC Regulations are yet to be amended in this regard.

In terms of the SECC Regulations and the FDI Policy, an FPI is restricted from acquiring shares of the stock exchange otherwise than through the secondary market. The Press Release states that the Union cabinet has also approved the proposal to allow FPI to acquire shares through initial allotment, besides the secondary market, in the stock exchanges.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the FIPB or the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by SEBI and the RBI.

The above information is given for the benefit of the Bidders / Applicants. Our Company, the Selling Shareholders, the Managers are not liable for any amendments or modification or changes in applicable laws or regulations, which may occur after the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. Bidders / Applicants are advised to make their independent investigations and ensure that the number of Equity Shares Bid for do not exceed the applicable limits under laws or regulations.
